Painting A Perfect Year

Meet The Teacher Night

September 5 brought about the beginning of the school year with Meet-the-Teacher Night. This night is a time for the students to meet their new teachers for the coming year and to receive their schedule of classes. The maintenance crew was able to show their expertise in cooking by preparing food for the participants of that night. Overall, there was a good turn out of students eager to see each other again after summer vacation.

Our Campus

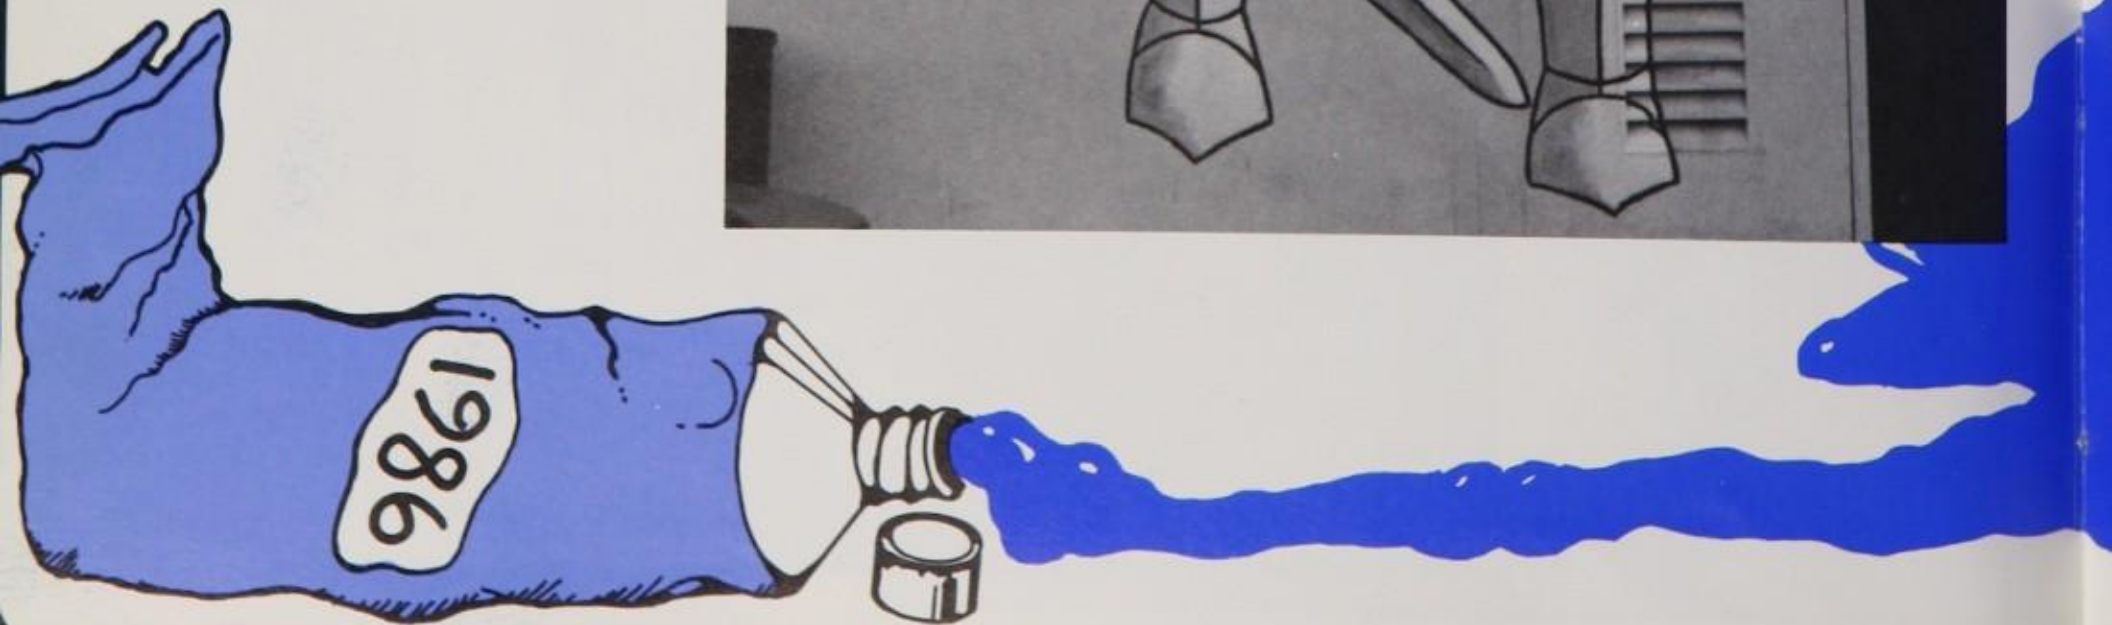

The campus is just as special as the students who fill it. Throughout the history of our school we have seen the number and sizes of our buildings grow tremendously, including our most recent addition, the gym.

"1986" . . . A Truly

Colorful Year!

A perfect year is not a flawless point in time. It does not consist in achieving absolute perfection. But it shows us a reason to want to grow. It gives us a purpose and a goal. Even our failures can help us to mature. This "portrait" is just a memorandum of warmth and felicity to remind us that our struggles have truly paid off. The year may not have been perfect, but let's remember the best of it.

This book serves as an accurate record of the 1985-86 school year, with all of its ups and downs, with all of its exclusive events, with the best of its valued memories. The editors of this yearbook have worked to pull as many of these memories as possible out of the year and creatively compile a thoughtful piece of art. In order to successfully do just that, we must look between the lines to find a "thread" which ties the year together. If we could, we would take a picture and show you our conception of what this school year was all about. But there is no setting which would lend "perfection" to any photograph. So, allow us to paint for you a perfect year.

We dedicate this yearbook to a teacher whose love for our school could never quite be requited, but is appreciated greatly. Her academic standards and spiritual support for her students are all a part of her passion for teaching. She has given so much, and now she deserves to be given to. Since childhood, she has been involved in sports. She loved baseball, and was in a Ponytail League when she was about ten years old. Her idol was Gil Hodges, the Dodger star.

She started playing the clarinet in the seventh grade, and played in the Granada Hills marching band, as well as the "Big Purple" Band at Abilene Christian College.

Presently, she teaches History here at Village and is working on a masters degree in high school counseling. She counsels the junior class, and is very dedicated to their spiritual, emotional, and academic health. With much thanks for her years of service, we proudly dedicate the 1986 Crusader Yearbook to Miss Anne Floyd.

Students tend to conform to images. Naturally, they shape themselves after the students of the past. So when they are confronted with an image of truth, they may choose to change or to remain unchanged. The truth does not consist in the students' views of themselves, but in the image of God, who is Christ. He is who we are meant to imitate. We see ourselves as we are, whether we realize it or not, the image is distorted. God sees us in the perfection of Christ. Our self-image, our true identity, is Christ. His word of truth enables us to discover that image.

We must shape ourselves according to the mind of God. Having been set straight, we must focus on the truth, letting it govern today for the founding of tomorrow.

Today, students are changing. Though many are overly concerned with the future, some have decided to live for today. Instead of preoccupying their time with future prospects, they occupy a life of worth. This select group has given Village a hope — a hope that assures us that our campus is not one of apathy. We do have feelings, and we should express them whether positive or negative. To feel is to make a difference. As we open our eyes to this truth — as we look into this reflection of who we are — we conceive a newness, a revival of emotion, that will change the way we plan for our futures.

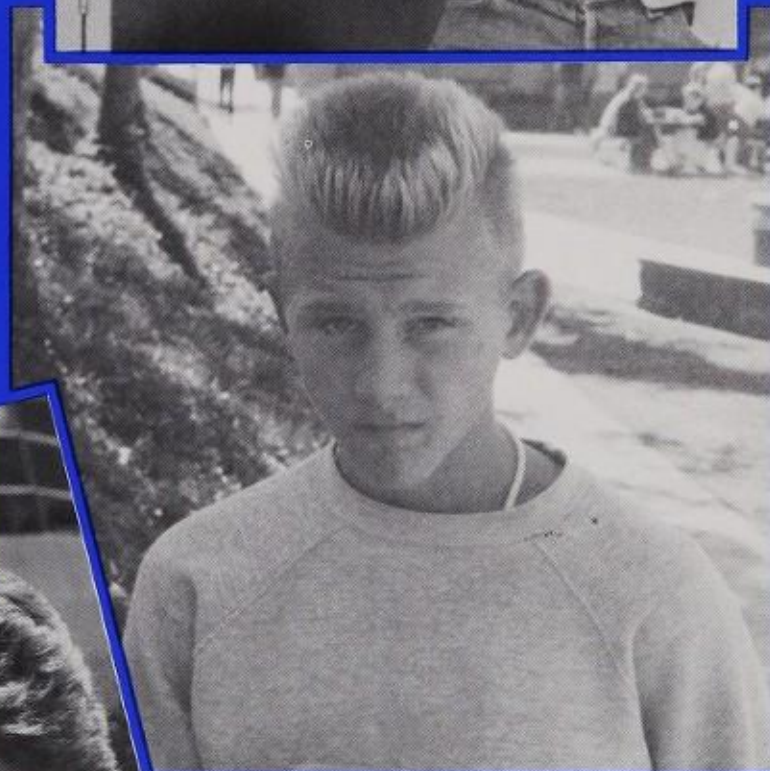

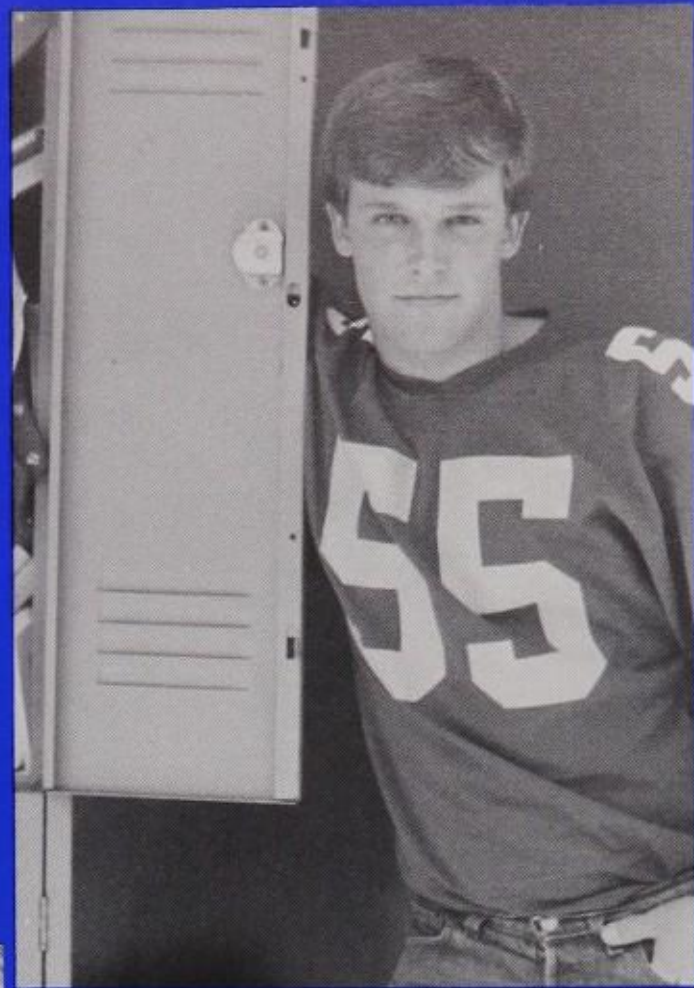

I address not only the students, but specifically the Student Body presidents of the future.

In order to nurture this growth that has already begun, continue to stimulate the students' minds to believe in what they believe. By questioning and challenging popular opinion, they will only be strengthened and their feelings powerful. Be different, but only at the expense of your indifference. Be a testimony, a reflection of truth.

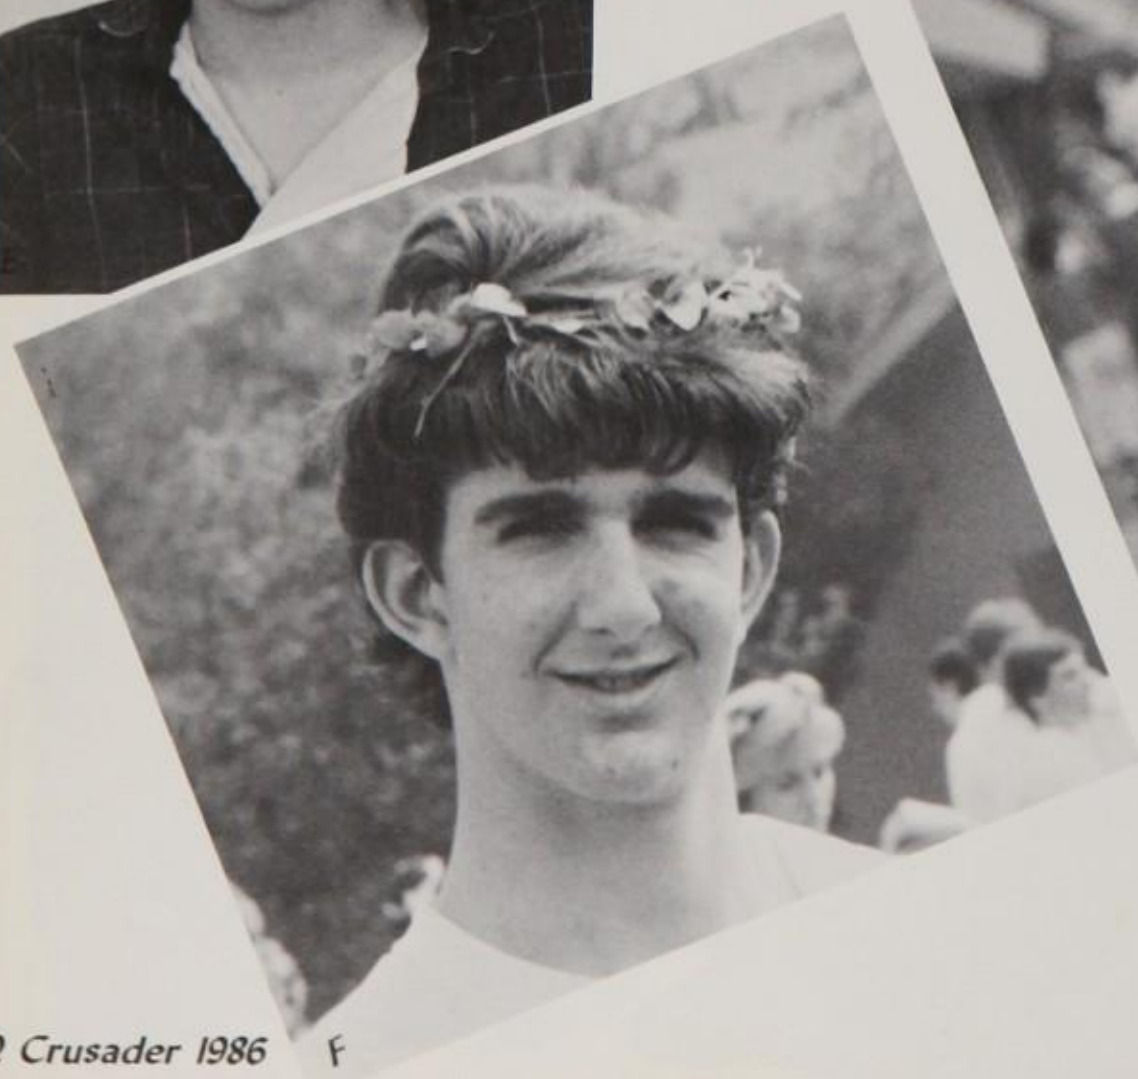

"For if any be a hearer of the Word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass: for he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was." (James 1:23, 24)

1986 was indeed a year to be remembered, from the Seniors to the seventh graders everyone will have memories. They may be memories of laughter and fun, or they may be memories of friends and trials. But although time may pass we will always have these memories.

Being a student at Village Christian School is a unique opportunity. It is a place to expand your education while having fun at the same time. Village is a place to make some lasting friendships. It is a place where you can grow spiritually as well as academically. The people with their unique personalities and gifts really make Village what it is.

Seniors

We have arranged our lives to evolve around an academic, social, and spiritual schedule. As from one class to the next, so we live our lives from day to day. We do not often take the time to think who we are and why we are here. Let's take a look at the class of '86.

This is the "year of education," especially for the senior class. We have learned to learn, and when and where to think. We are dismayed by the prospect of failing, but when we do fail, we pick up the pieces and try again. This persistence separates the highly intelligent, who are not merely concerned with the evaluation of their work but its quality, from the average student, whose only concern is receiving "acceptable" grades. We are not an extremely competitive class, but we do have great expectations of ourselves and of each other. We have been forced to rely on our own resourcefulness, and, consequently, have adjusted our outlooks on education.

Nobody is any more important than anybody else! We are like one great big puzzle; as insignificant as one may seem, his absence would be a great loss and would distort the whole picture. Thank God we are different! We've got Armenians, Cubans, Argentinians, Mexicans, Italians, Koreans, and Caucasians. Like every other senior class, we have our exclusive groups — our cliques; but at least they don't "rip" on others. The class is relatively "kick-back"; for some apparent reason, it is "in" to be mellow. Still, it is important that we not allow this indifference to interfere with our spiritual lives.

Each of us is on a different spiritual level, each at a different place in his spiritual walk. None of us are the same, yet we can respect each other. Our unity does not depend on the extent to which we are the same — the same goals, the same friends, the same characteristics. We are more like music, awakened by harmony, by contrast, by difference. Each little note compliments the other. We represent a variety of denominations, from conservative to liberal. There is not one spiritual leader, but many leaders who minister specifically to the people who understand them the best.

Being the senior class president has been rewarding. That is not to say that it has been easy; we have had our hassles! But you are loads of fun. Look at all that we have accomplished — the senior logo wall, the VC on the hill, and the senior pond — traditions which will always be remembered as "ours." As we reflect on our senior year, I would hope that you would remember only the happy times, not the sorrows and disappointments. I am convinced that if we continue to strive for the best, we will never lose sight of our dreams. The class of '86 is "destined to overcome."

Psalms 139:23,24 Search me, O God, and know my heart, try me and know my anxious thoughts, and see if there be any hurtful way in me, and lead me in the everlasting way.

"We like someone because. We love someone although." If you know someone long enough, you will discover something you don't like about them. By being a "lifer" at Village, I have found many reasons to like people, but I also could not help noticing other reasons not to. The trick is to accept people anyhow, to "love them although." That is why love is so unique. It notices the good and ignores the bad. It always seeks the silver lining through the dark storm clouds. I have had many stormy skies in my years here at Village, and it is the people who loved me who brought me through them. They saw me for what I am, and loved me even more. These friends never gave up their faith in me. I thank God for them.

True love is priceless because it "is patient, it is kind. It does not envy, it does not boast, it is not proud . . . it keeps no records of wrongs . . . love always protects, always trusts, hopes, always perseveres." I feel fortunate that I have found this kind of love here at Village. I hope, when I graduate, that this love will not stop, that it will not end along with all the other parts of my life. Maybe I am asking too much, but then again, "love never fails."

Jane DeHaan

"Time is a circus always packing up and moving away." As children, we looked forward with anticipation to the coming of the circus. It remained for only a short time and then moved to the next town. We did not fully appreciate its magic until it was gone. We were left with only memories. As time went on, our attitudes toward the circus changed. We lost some of our awe for the spectacle while our regard for the skill of the performer increased. As we grew older, this became more apparent.

Time moves in much the same way. It is fleeting and unalterable. We all become comfortable in familiar surroundings and take for granted what we have. Before long, we move on to a new stage in life and are left with just fond memories of what has already passed. We lose our childhood complacency and begin to question the answers.

Just as an adult outgrows the circus, we outgrow phases in life. Yet, as we treasure memories of our experiences with the circus, we also keep memories of our past.

We must leave our past behind us, and move on to new experiences. Yesterday is only today's memory and tomorrow is today's dream. We must take what we have learned from our past and apply it to our future. Time is undivided and paceless. We must be able to keep up with its course or else be left behind. Let us hold to the past with remembrance and to the future with longing.

Pam Shaar

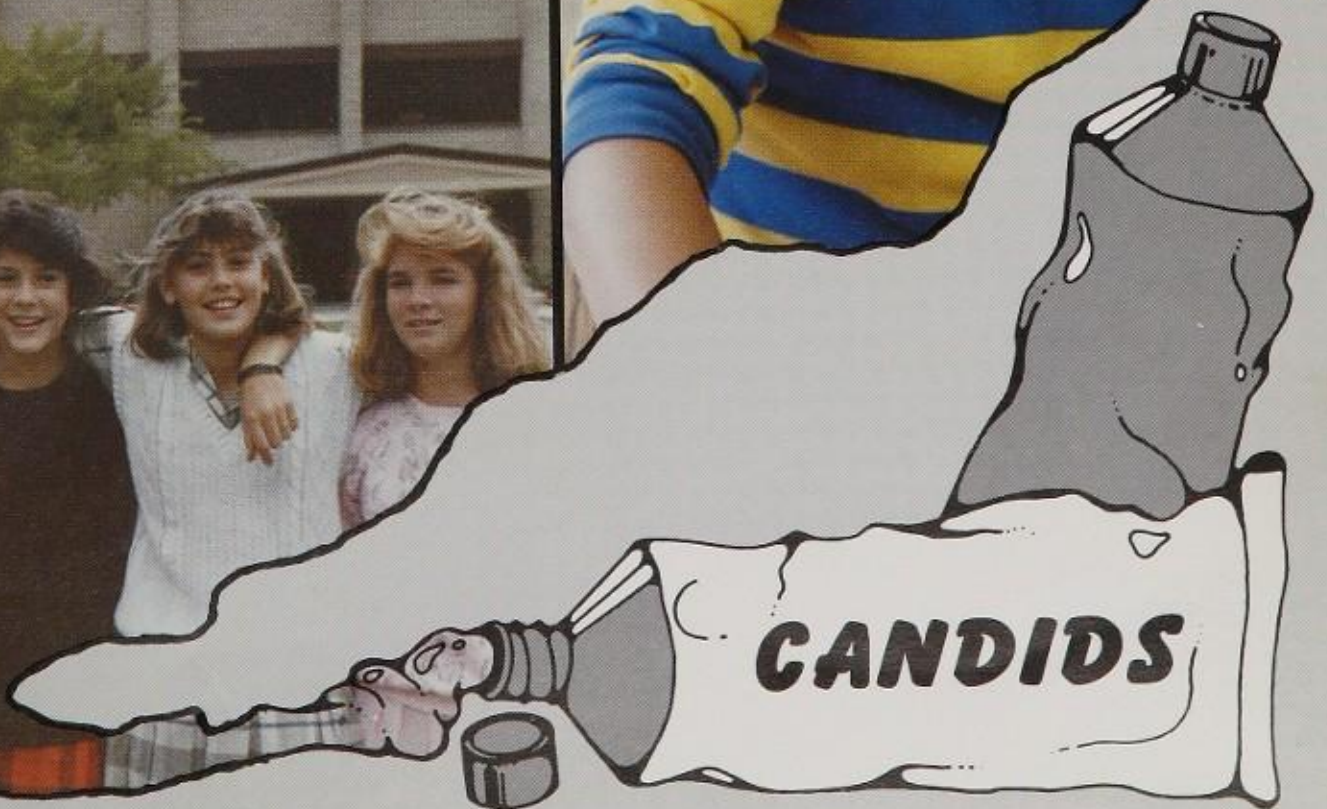

"The best way out is always through." — Robert Frost. When confronted with two diverse roads, a traveler must choose between one or the other. His ultimate decision is irrevocable. Once he sets foot on the road of his choice, he cannot turn back. In order to get off the road, he must travel to its end. The dignity does not come by choosing the right road, but by following through with that choice. I have faced many problems. Only by going through them have I learned the virtue of importunance. "Consider the postage stamp: its dignity consists in its ability to stick to one thing until it gets there."

Village Christian School has been a part of my life for thirteen years. Looking back, I can remember teachers and classmates, and years of growth that have left lasting impressions in my mind. I have fond memories of a school that lead me to the Lord, and has taught me not to deviate from the path that leads to eternal life with Christ. I have taken some blows and shed some tears, but they have caused me to travel better roads.

I often think of Theodore Roosevelt, who said when his wife died, "It's like the man in the arena whose face is marred by blood and sweat. Who in the end knows the triumphs of high achievement. Who knows that even if he fails, at least he fails while daring greatly. For only when one finds oneself in the deepest valleys does one know what it feels like to be on the highest mountain." Just as Theodore Roosevelt, I find myself in the deepest valleys. But by walking through the valleys, I appreciate the mountains on both sides of them.

We are a very vivacious class, diverse in all aspects of school. Brains, athletes, cheerleaders, student council, and chapel committee make up an interesting class blessed with leadership and people who take the initiative. Many of the Juniors feel that their class has become very close and understand one another. We are looking forward to our senior year.

Fall Sports

Cross Country

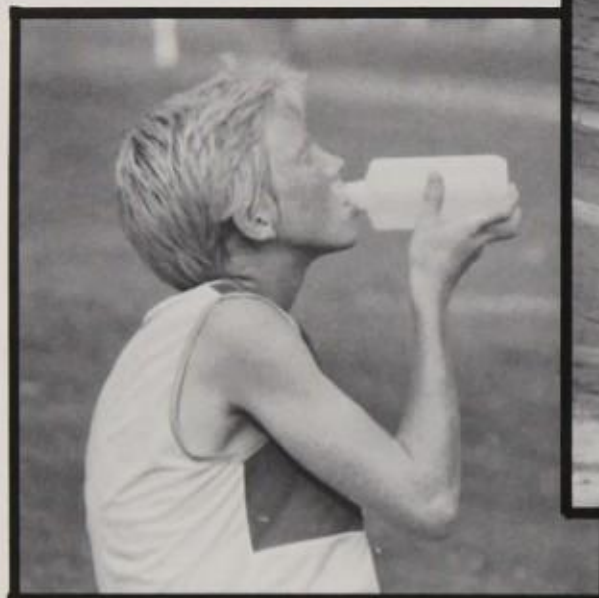

Crosscountry 1985 has been a season of both success and frustration. Our girls were second in league. Led by Neyda Rodriguez and Simone Cesh, we had as many as ten girls run this year. In dual meets we lost only to L.A.B. by one point. At league, we lost only to Webb.

Our boys ran well this year. Andrew Boudreau, a sophomore, and Ryan Coady, a freshman, participated in post-season contests at state, regional, and national levels. Many of our team victories came because of our four seniors: Ruben Murillo, Mike Wagenveld, Richard Fairall, and David Bennett. Our team rounded out by Cole Luck, with occasional help by Ken Rhodes and Frank Suranyi, finished third in dual meets and fourth at league, only two points out of second.

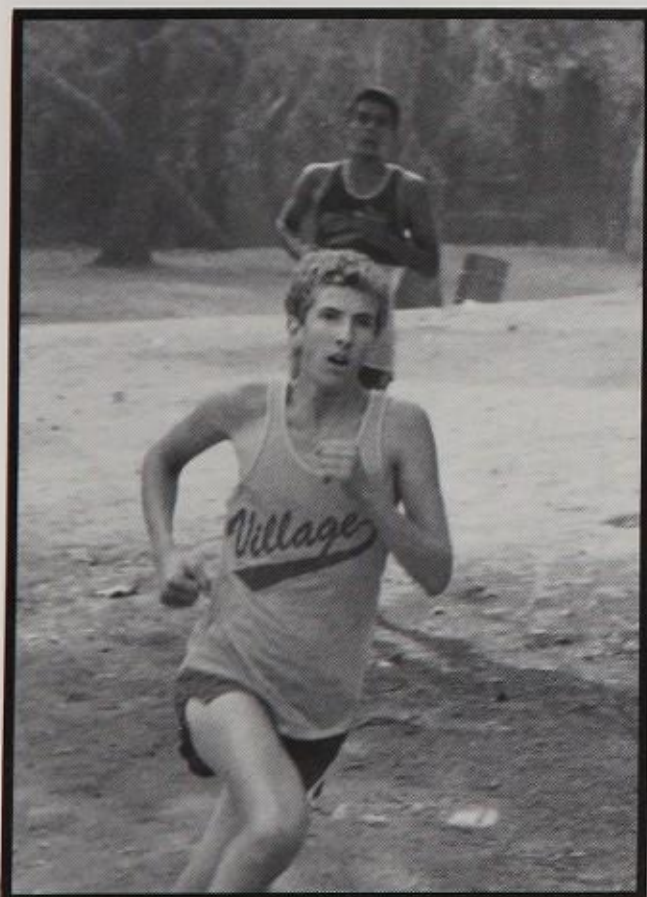

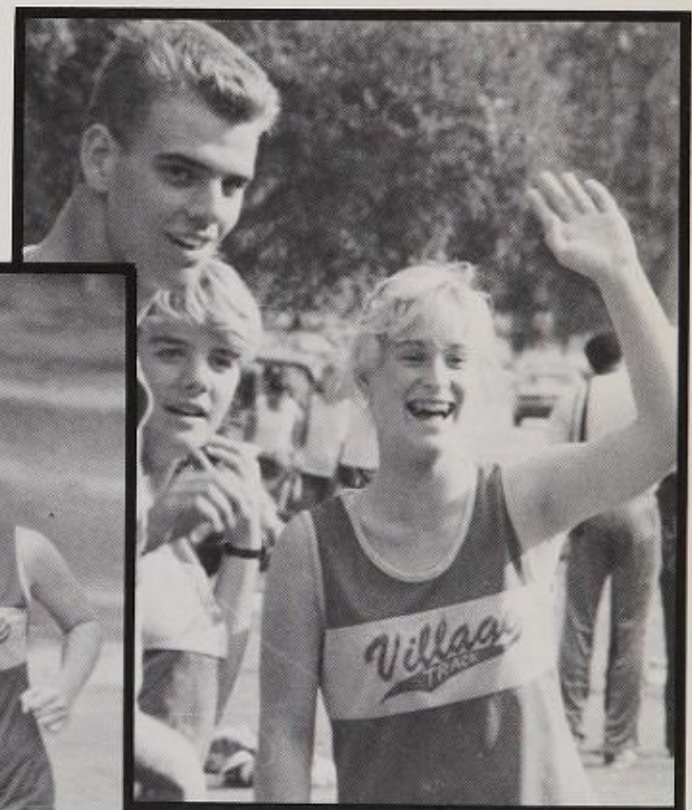

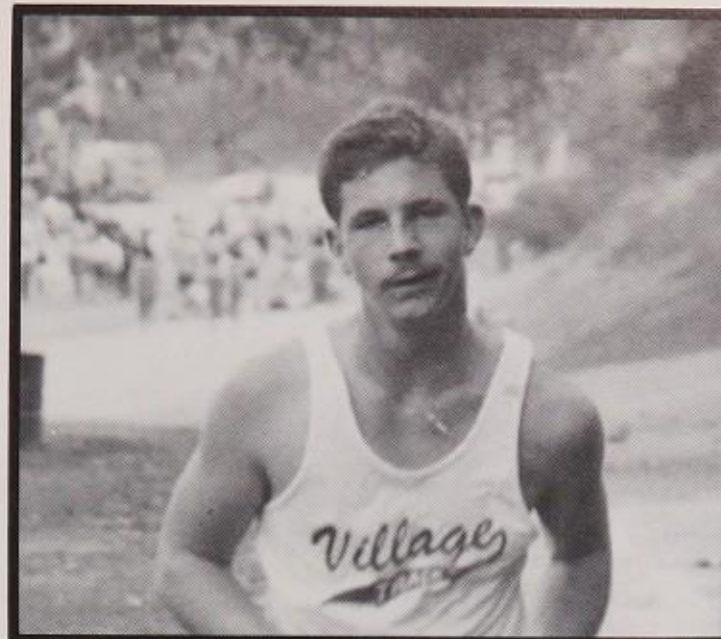

Ken, Frank, John Wheatley, James Fairall, David Bates, and Chuck Stansfield composed our Junior Varsity team which finished second in league. League first team honors this year went to Andrew (2), Simone (9), and Neyda (10). Kathy (11) just missed.

Our challenge is to find runners among the often more glamorous activities of our Fall after school programs. Our second challenge is to begin a comprehensive cross-country running program, encompassing the entire Village Schools K thru 12.

Varsity Volleyball

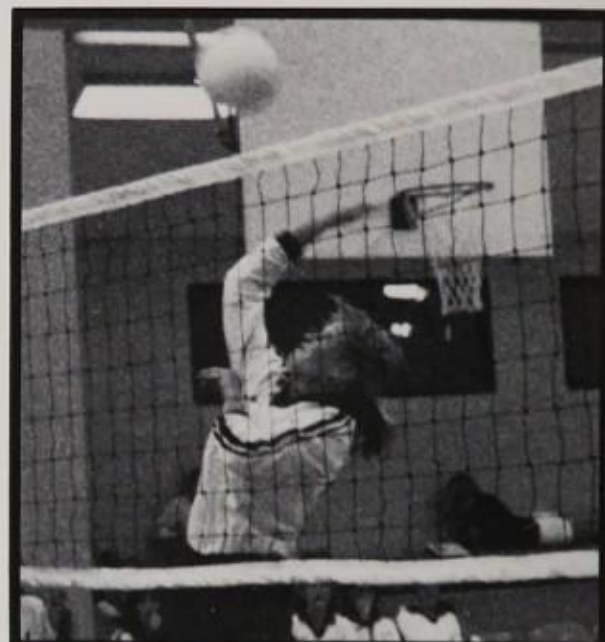

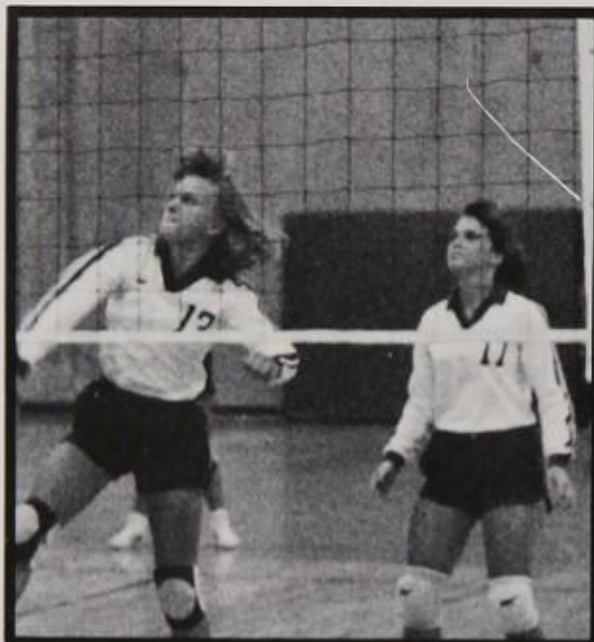

The volleyball teams at Village Christian have developed into a strong program. In up-coming years we will have an excellent chance of becoming league champions. As a senior, I wish I could be there to share in it. I appreciate the intensity and dedication of Alex's coaching and friendship.

This year each member of the team was valuable and very special to me. I love all of you, and I wish you all the best of luck-"Let's Play Volleyball"

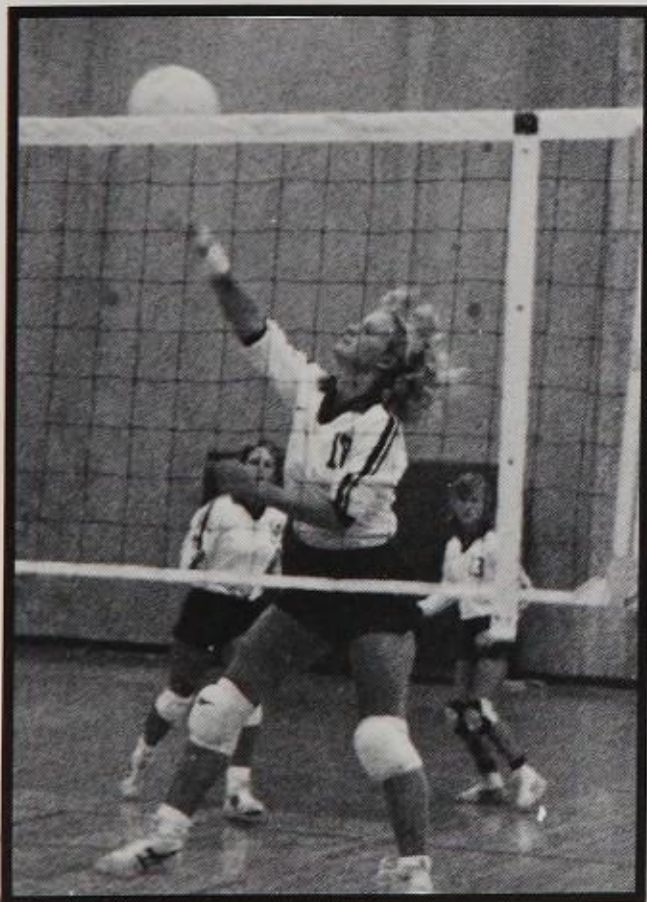

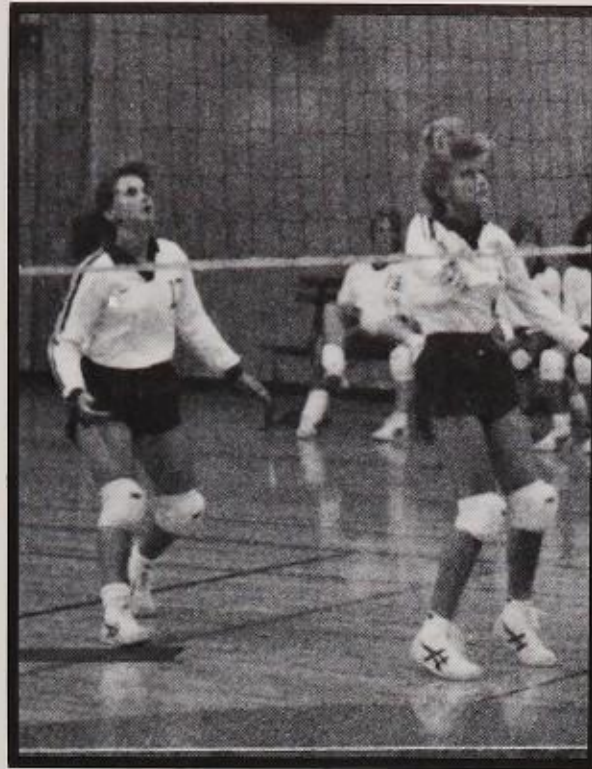

Kristy Williams

Sure, we were a young team this year, but we could keep up with anyone in our league. What impressed us the most about the team was the almost fanatical dedication to the sport and the inexhaustible desire to play volleyball shown by each player and especially by our coach, Alex Puatu. As a senior, I will miss each of the players.

J.V. Volleyball

Volleyball has helped me to make many new friends. We each had a secret pal and enjoyed exchanging gifts. We worked very hard, but it all payed off when we won a game. The most intense game we played was against L.A.B. I will never forget this season, the girls I met, or how much spirit they have for this school.

Jill Duly

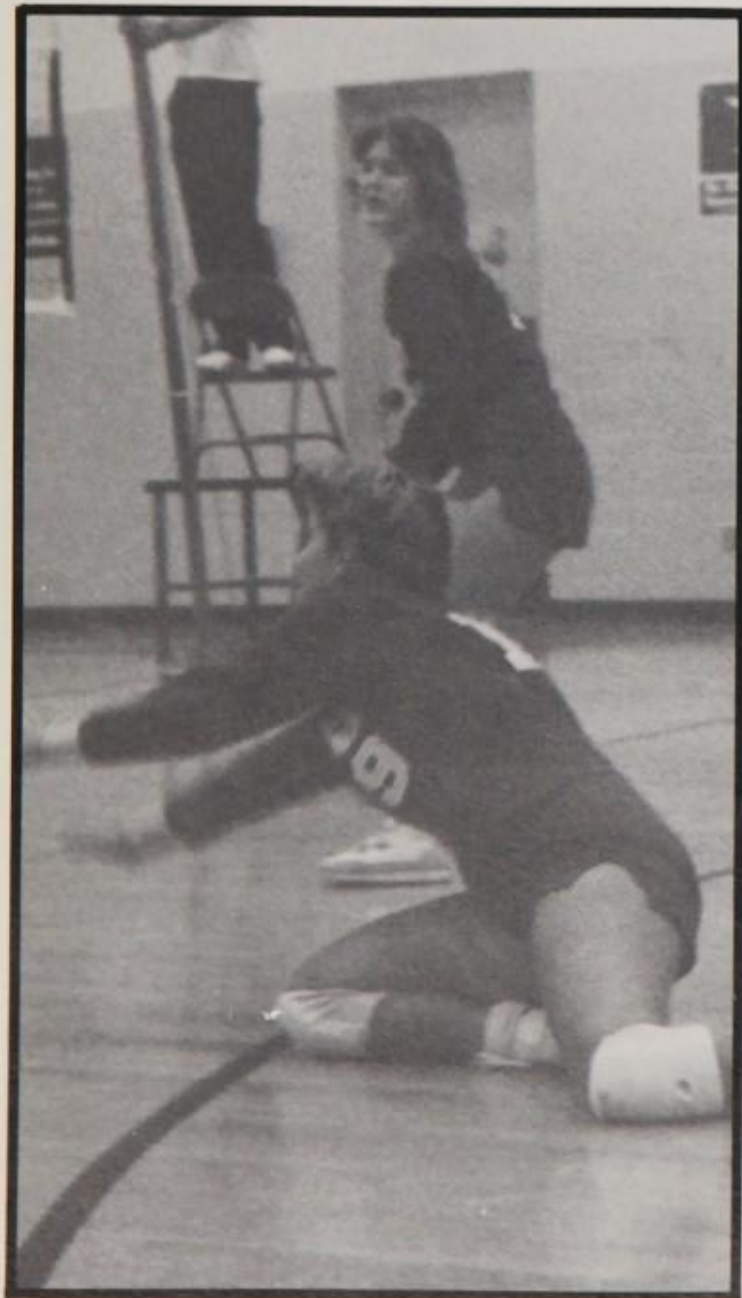

J.V. Volleyball this year truly was a fantastic experience. We were unified and worked constantly. We stepped on court only to shine for Him. In all of my experiences in dealing with people, I have never encountered a group that works together so well.

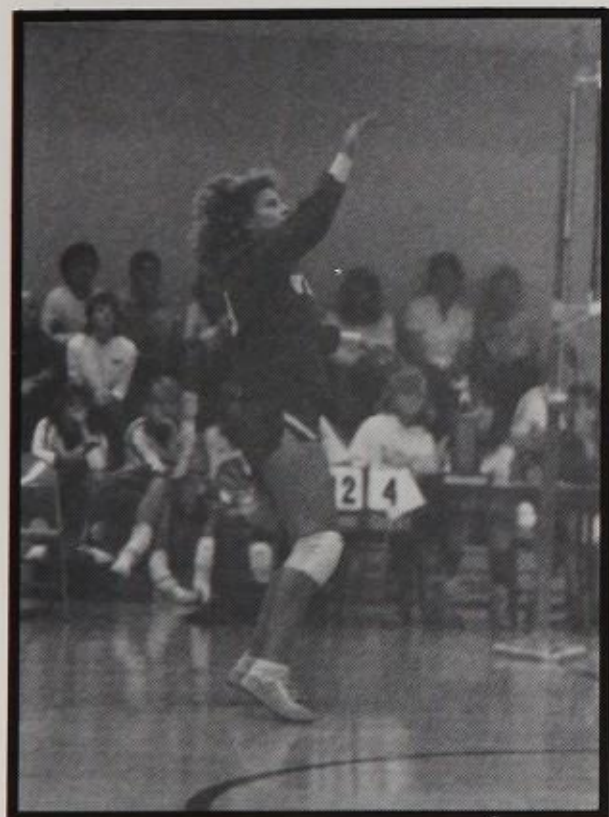

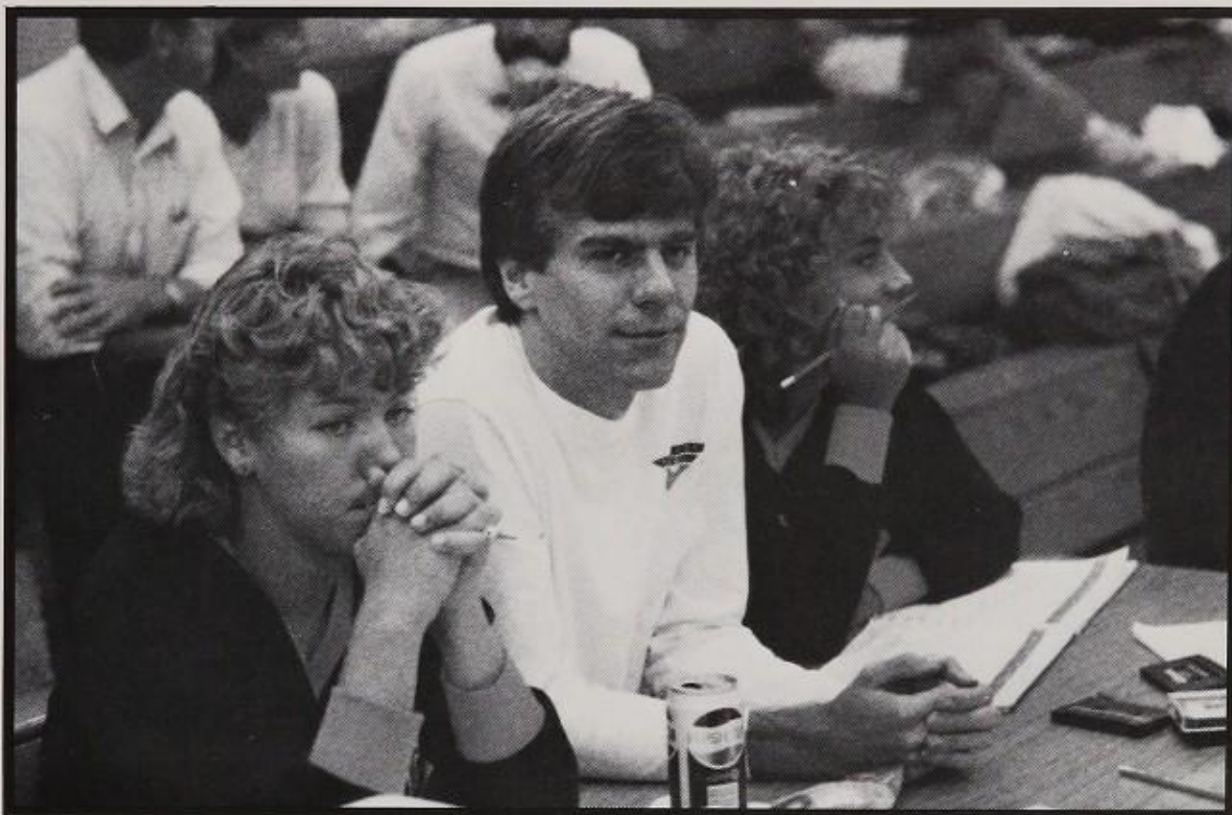

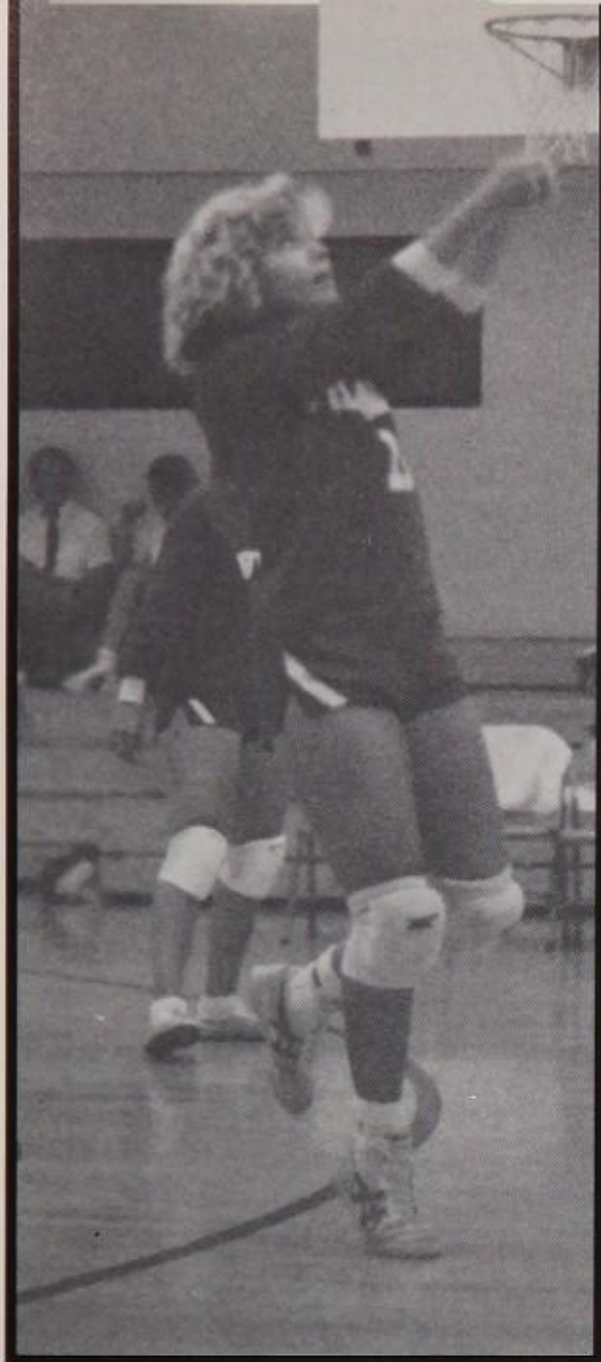

Team- I love you! Thanks for granting me the privilege of being your captain.

The Varsity football team began the season with high hopes. They made up for inexperience with a lot of hard work and determination and could boast of a strong defense and adept running backs. The team is encouraged by the prospect of many returning players next year and is shooting for the playoffs.

J.V. Football

The 1985 Junior Varsity Crusaders were characterized by youth and inexperience. These factors, along with weakness in the line, handcuffed the young Crusaders offensively. Defensive prowess kept the J.V.'s in every game, however. In 4 of the first 8 games, they held opposing offenses scoreless. At Homecoming, the offense and defense finally came together and the result was a convincing 32-0 victory over La Verne Lutheran. Since most of the team consists of freshman and sophomores, the future looks bright for Crusader football in 1986.

Coach Gregg Frazer
Composed of 17 freshman, 11 sophomores, and one junior, the 1985 Village Junior Varsity football team enjoyed a successful season. Lead by captains Greg Spahr and Greg Lloyd, the junior Crusaders gained early season victories over Cathedral and Santa Fe Christian, while losing by single touchdowns to powerful Western Christian and Monclair Prep. Among other highlights was their 32-0 Homecoming victory over La Verne Lutheran where the team put together 2 successful halves and delivered a blistering wishbone ground attack. Wedge and man-blocking from Kevin Arndt and Jeff Hersh opened big holes for their backs Tim Buie, Craig Hudspeth, Eddie Piromsuk, and Jason Jones. Jones also handled the place-kicking chores. The J.V.'s were coached by Gregg Frazer, Ken Lloyd, and Les McKnight. All look to football 1986 with 17 returning frosh players.

Varsity Cheerleaders

"Unique and alive in '85" is how the '85-'86 Varsity Cheerleading squad began. As the year progressed, this saying definitely came to life! We started as six unique personalities and through our devotion and desire to become the best, we beat the odds and proved to be one of the finest cheerleading squads Village has ever seen. At cheerleading camp we came together as a unit and successfully earned all blue ribbons, keeping a school spirited tradition.

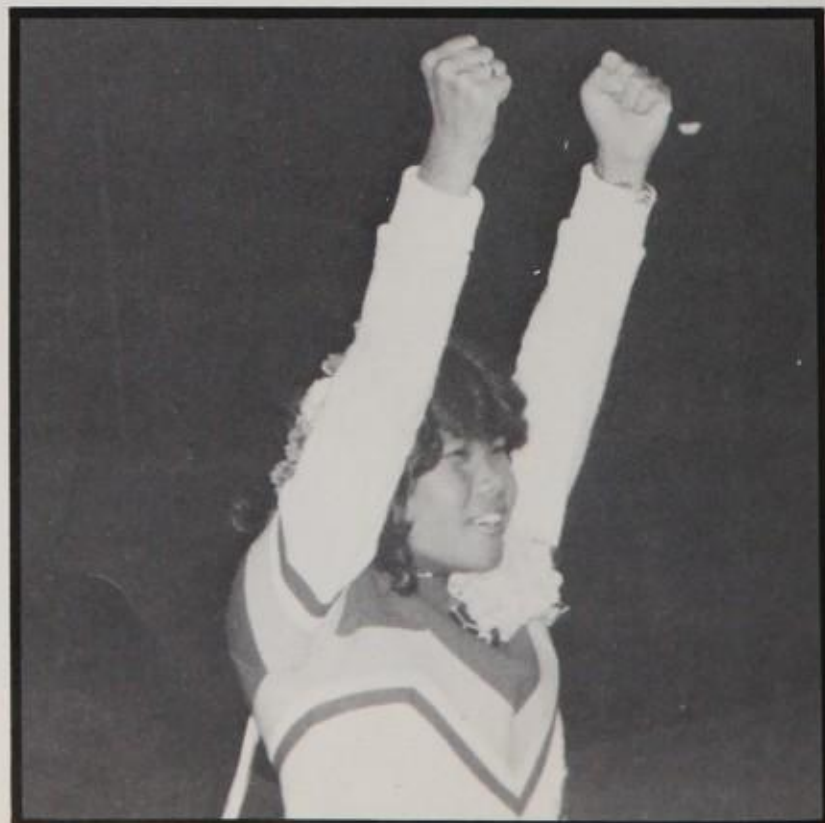

Thanks to the fans for their continued and loyal support throughout the year, with special thanks to the 1985-86 teams for their great performances and their hard work. It has been an honor to represent you and Village Christian Schools this year.

Beyond all the fun memories as a Varsity Cheerleader this year, one thing stands out above all-The friendships I have made with Shelly, Grace, Shannon, Lillian and Trina will always remain.

J.V. Cheerleaders

I think that when this year's J.V. squad was chosen, everyone wondered what we would be like. But after working together, we realized that each of us had our own kind of ability or talent and through those, we learned from each other, taught each other, and improved as a squad. All of us were achievers. We worked really well together, and between the times we were either laughing or yelling, we did get a lot done. I think the '85-'86 J.V. cheerleaders are great! We had fun ... and that is more important than any competition or game.

Drill Team

Drill Team is definitely an experience! We had a lot of fun, but it is a lot of hard work. During the summer we went to camp at UCLA for 4 days. I am sure none of us will ever forget the fire alarm going off at 4 a.m., and having to evacuate the whole building! We had a great bunch of new girls this year. They all learned the drills quickly and worked really hard. To sum up the 1985-86 Drill Team, I would say that we all work together to form one unit and have grown closer as friends because of it.

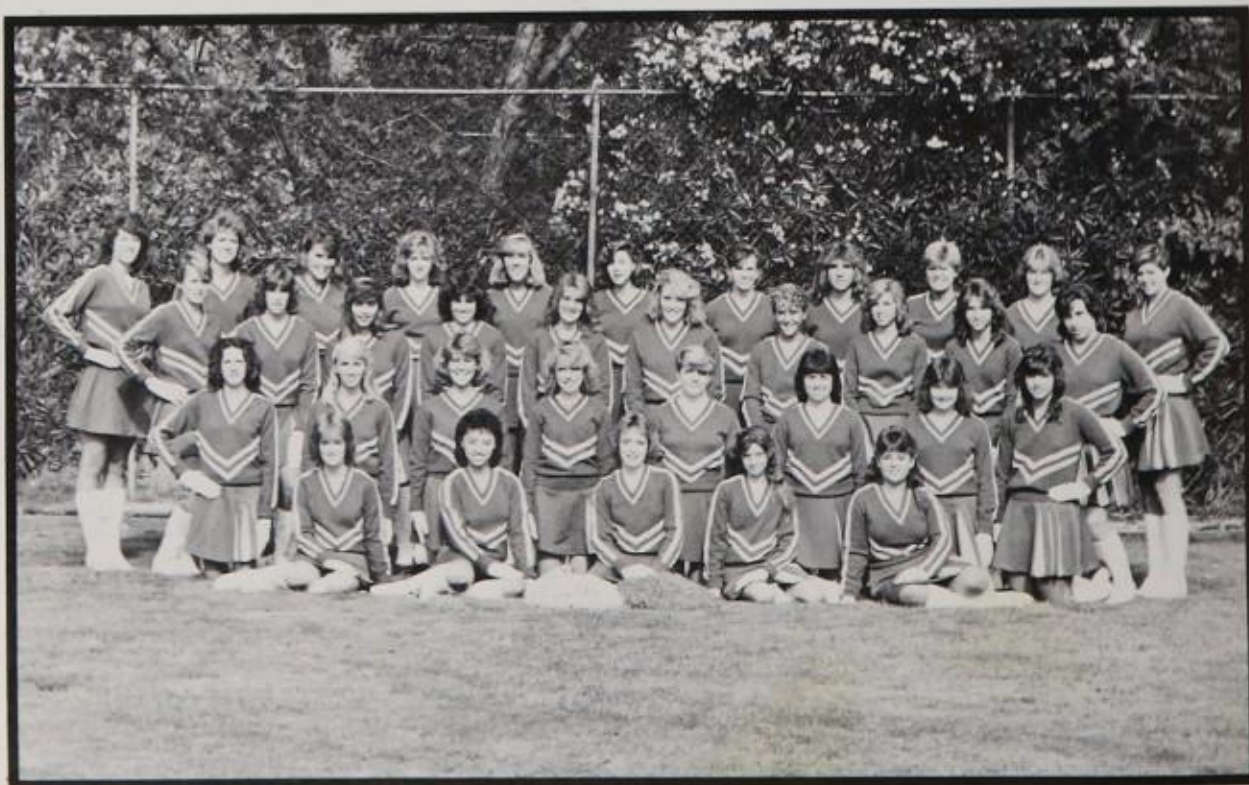

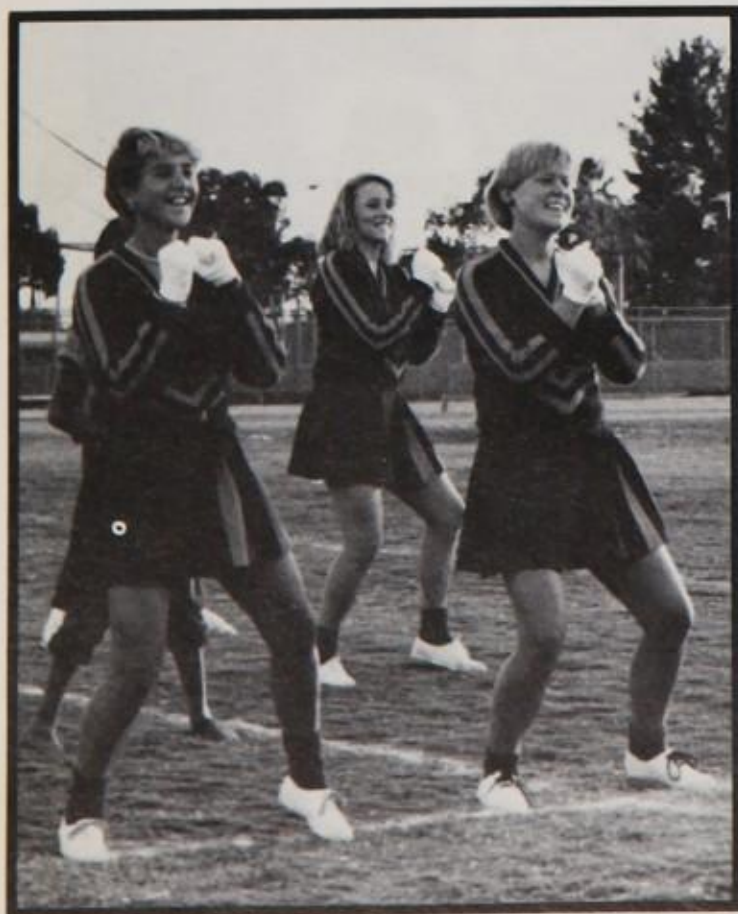

Darlynn Cambell

There was more to Drill Team this year than a group of girls who performed on Saturday nights at the football games, to gather a round of applause. We were an excited, hardworking group full of determination to really make a difference in our school. We really became close to one another as a team, which made us that much better. Due to our excellent captains, Val Boss, and Gabby Riviello, and not to mention our loving and supporting sponsors Mrs. Hanna and Heidi, we have had an awesome year! For me this was the best year yet.

Susan DeAngelo

Drill Team this year has been an exciting experience. I have met so many new people and have grown closer to my old friends. It's neat how thirty girls can work together so hard and long and still become close. There was a bond between us that caused us to work as a team. There have been so many memories made. I wish I had not waited so long to get involved.

WINTER SPORTS

Varsity Soccer

"Hey Coach, are we going to win this time?" That was the question I heard over and over again during this soccer season. Then, almost the last week of the season, a couple of wins. Coaching soccer is an interesting business. It is not only having eleven players out there with some skills in the sport that is so famous to the rest of the world. Team spirit, working together, working hard, each player at his best position, and many more important items are necessary. This year we had quite a variety among those who came out for soccer. There were, on one hand, a few who had never played in their life. On the other hand, we had some players who could play the game with their eyes closed. That is what J.V. and Varsity are all about.

Overall I think they did a pretty good job. Thanks to seniors Mike Wagenfeld and David Bennett who were consistent, reliable players. Hopefully they will be the only ones needing replacements next season. I do believe that Village can have a number one soccer team in the league. There is a lot of talent, although some of it is still to come out on top next year.

My wish is that we will never forget that sports are also done for the glory of God.

Thanks guys for working hard!

Coach Gerard van Heijzen

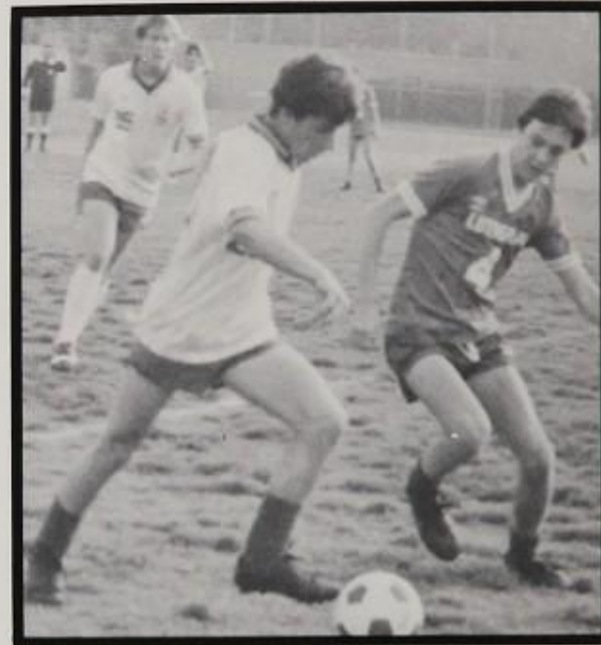

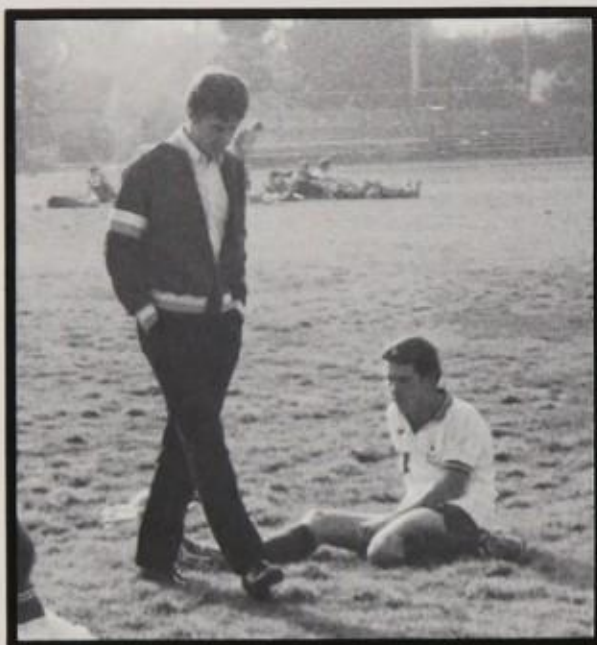

Throughout the season, the VCS Varsity soccer team made a name for itself. We came through with some surprising wins against L.A. Lutheran and Marshall. We also tied #1 with L.A. Baptist. The Varsity soccer team has one regret and that is that we wish we would have started the season better. Next year, most of the team will be returning, with the exception of two graduating seniors, Mike Wagenfeld and David Bennett. We will be losing two great players.

I would also like to thank those who have come out to see our games.

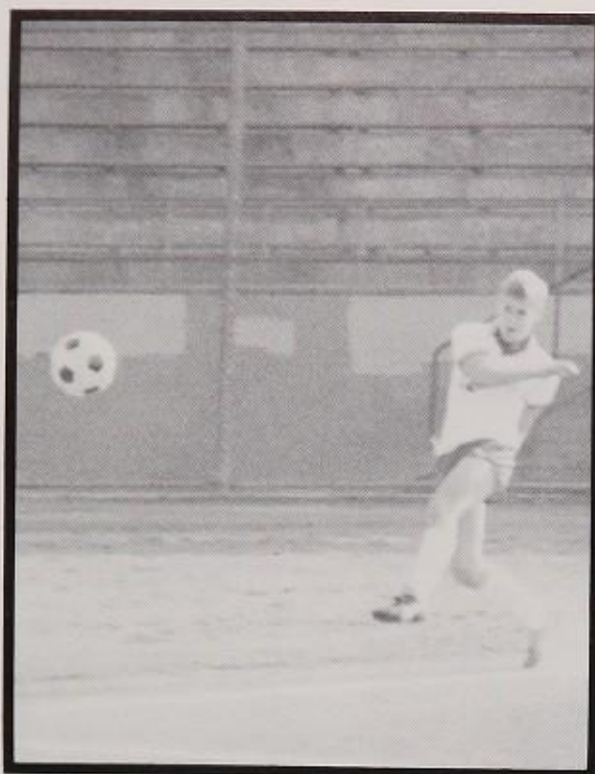

Rick Oehler

The V.C.S. Varsity soccer team has come a long way since the beginning of the season. We learned from our mistakes and became a better team as a result. We surprised a lot of teams (as well as ourselves) with the wins we had achieved towards the end. Though we did not have a chance for the playoffs, we still made a good name for V.C.S. Thanks! to those who supported us throughout the season.

J.V. Soccer

Soccer this year was a truly stimulating experience. We had to learn a style of soccer that was foreign to us. It transformed average soccer players into a brand new breed of players. The team accepted the new style quite well. The goalie situation, however, was quite confusing. We continually changed goalies to find the person who could really help the team.

This season Village received a new coach, Mr. Van Heizen. Even though he was not the J.V. coach, his coaching had a direct impact on the J.V. players.

Mr. Lagasse, the J.V. coach for the past four years, had new ideas for soccer this year. He felt that running more this year than we did in the past would help us not to "suck as much air" during the games.

Our soccer team was lucky because we were able to be teammates with our foreign exchange student, Tetsuo Tsutsumi. Tetsuo helped our team a lot and played many positions. He was a very aggressive player and it was shown by his yellow and red cards not to mention many other fouls. He scored the goal in the LAB game, and the team would not have been the same without him.

Every player on our team was an important part of it and I was glad to be a member of the 1985-86 soccer team because I made new friends and it taught all of us to be better sportsmen than we were before. Soccer is one of the up and coming sports in America, this is also the case here at Village. Looking at the overall stats of both the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams will depress most number freaks, but not the coaches. Those who indulge in the numbers usually get burned. Both Coach Van Heizen and myself are looking forward to next year, not just because it is a new year, but because of the way both teams finished this year. Going into the last week and a half of the season, the Varsity team hadn't won a game. They finished with a league record of 3-6-2, an excellent finish, winning or tying five of their last seven games, including the powerful L.A. Baptist, the Alpha League champs. This was also the case for the J.V. team who played undefeated and untied in their last game and played to a 1-1 tie, when Tetsuo Tsutsumi scored with about one minute left in the game. The L.A. Baptist coach was heard to mutter after the game, "We still got first place". This may be true, but it was the Village teams that ruined the perfect record.

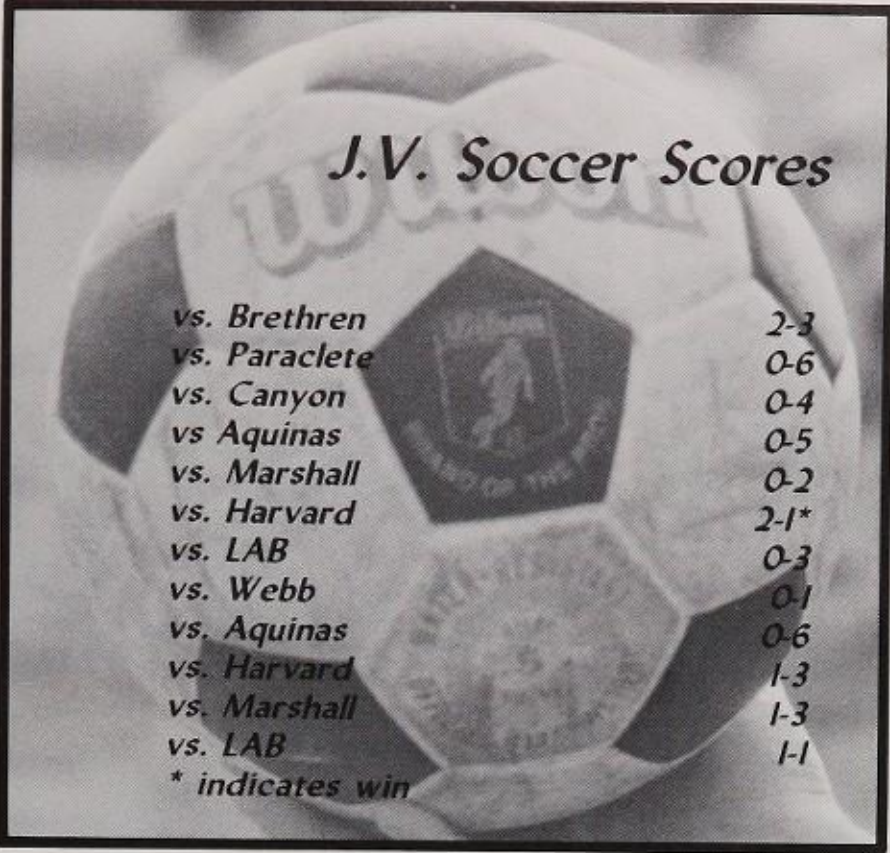

Both teams had struggles to deal with, either injury, eligibility, or just attitude, but once these problems were taken care of, the athletes were ready for action. One of the most pleasant surprises of the J.V. team this year was the development of confidence in Jason Kovar. Jason's confidence grew as his playing time increased. He eventually became the team leader from the Stopper fullback position. Over half the goals scored in J.V. games occurred after the ball had been cleared from the Fullback position.

Another great surprise was the ability of John Dvorsky. This guy may not be great in physical stature, but is in dribbling, passing and corner kicking ability. He is an excellent example of a person down but not out. John was cut after trying out for last year's team, but did not give up on the idea of playing soccer. He came out this year and started most of the games at the wing position. John was definitely the most improved person of the team.

Other members of the team that should be noted for specific abilities are: Steve Code for "most likely to make a slide tackle", Larry "Jim" Uleman, most likely to play every position on the team; Mike LeFebvrier, "most likely to have an elevator haircut", and Davy Muxlow, "most likely to have gone surfing".

The last person that I would like to mention is James Fairall. James is this year's Coaches Award Winner. James came into the season with no previous soccer experience. He had no idea what the game was about, except that you need to kick the ball into the goal, or keep someone else from doing it. James developed into a starter after only a few games. His long legs and good speed helped his desire to do well and improve. He would ask questions about the game and listen intently to answers and then carry out the instructions as he worked on improvement. James is what a coach wishes all his or her players would be. He is a hard worker, who achieves because of that work. He is grateful for any success that comes along because of the work and time put in. For this reason, James Fairall is the Coaches Award Winner.

Varsity Basketball

"This season was a season of improvement. Though our record doesn't show it, we improved drastically throughout the season. What we lacked most was a tall player inside. We were always out matched in size. But the main thing was the Monster which has attacked Village athletes in the past. It got us all right where it counts. All we needed was a Little Emo Red."

Chris Racina

"Even though we didn't have a winning season, our team improved much during the year. There is much hope for the future, being competitive and possibly make it to the playoffs. Even with the gym not being done, we still played every game as though it were the last."

Royce Farrar

"The Varsity Basketball program has taken a positive step under the direction of Coach McDougall. It began last summer when the team participated in a summer league. Then in the fall, we went into a pre-season conditioning where new talents and skills were introduced. Our team learned how to pull together and work as a group. We all hope the 86-87 team has the joy and pride of playing in our own gym."

Burton Nelson

"Basketball has been fun this year. We really grew both physically and mentally. Chris and Mike, our captains, led us as the only returning varsity lettermen. Tyler was a real encourager and Burton Nelson was the verbal defender who gave it his all. The rest of us filled the gaps and Coach Mc Dougall guided us with the right tempo. Even though we're losing three starters to graduation, we're looking good for next year (hopefully we won't have any problems with the gym). The greatest asset to our playing was the great fans who cheered us on. Thank you."

James Bohn

"Despite our record, this has been another important year for Village Basketball in the way of improvement. We saw ourselves learning more complicated skills and playing smarter basketball than ever before. This is just one in a series of growing years in which, I believe, Village will eventually find victory. With plenty of young players eager to improve, a program that is growing every day, and a gymnasium that is finally within our grasp, I see a winning season in the near future for Village. Who knows? It may be next year!"

J.V. Basketball

This has been a very successful year! Our win-loss record was 6-13 overall, 5-9 in league. These are not impressive records until you consider the fact that we were playing J.V. basketball with only one returning player. Of our top 7 players, 4 were freshman and 2 of those didn't play as eighth graders. The reason for our success was the hard work we put forth and our great attitude towards working hard. Our season motto was "Workers are Winners" which was displayed incredibly. I can't wait for 1986-87 basketball season.

Coach Tom Watkins

I'd have to say the best part about J.V. Basketball was the excitement. There were many games in which not only the team, but the fans got involved intensely. Unfortunately we lost a few heartbreakers, but all in all I believe the team lived up to their full potential. I believe another important factor was team unity and leadership, these two words don't usually go together, but one without the other would result in a downfall of a great team. I believe that this group of guys has the potential to be a great force in the basketball program at Village in the years to come.

Robert Adams

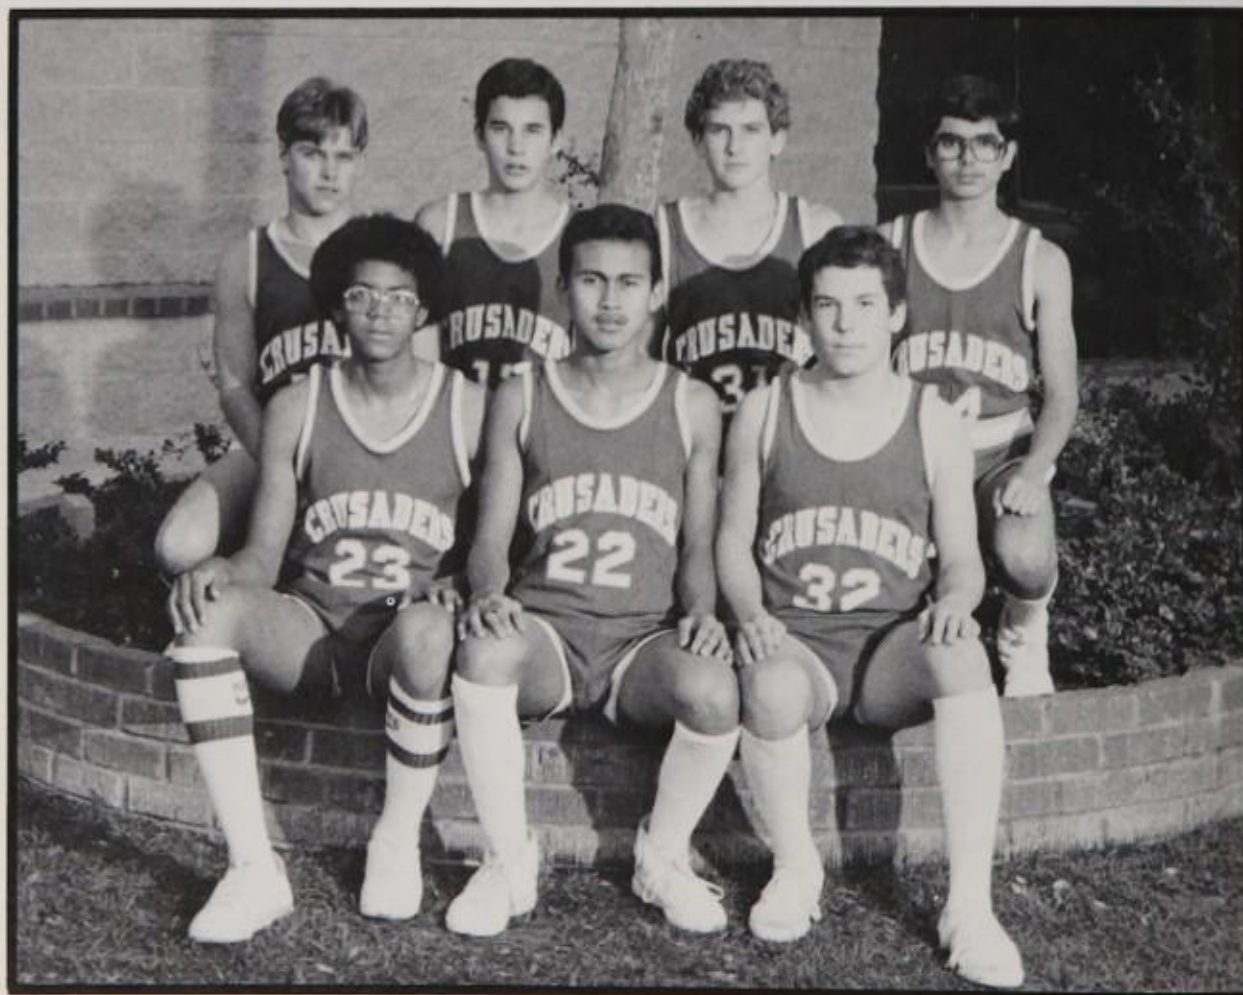

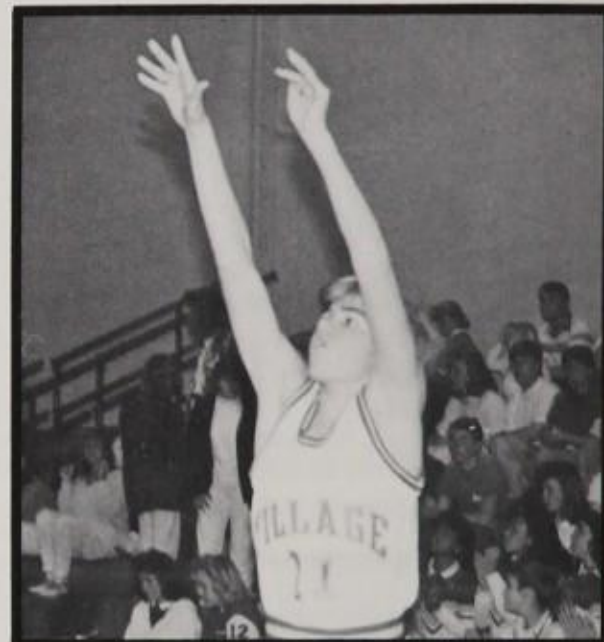

The '85-'86 basketball season has been very interesting. Between Coach Watkins yelling at us, and the running, we learned a lot. We didn't do so well at the beginning of the year, but beating LaVerne Lutheran was the turning point of our season. We ended up doing fairly well and won 6 games. I think that everybody did their best to try and achieve some pride for the VSC basketball program.

Paul Heater: "We did well for our inexperience."

Girls Varsity Basketball

This year's basketball season was a lot of fun. We might not have won every game, but the end of the season there was still a special kind of unity between the players. We are all looking forward to next year, to build friendships, to become stronger as people and, definitely, to win!

Kelly Wood

We will remember many things about this year's basketball team: things like running massive amounts of lines, sprinting up stairs, and extreme body pains and bruises, just to name a few! Having a new coach really changed things — he actually made us work HARD! All the work came through in the end when we really started playing like a team. The fun of just hearing "You're doing rad" or a friendly pat on the arm by a friend could really get you feeling good. And since we're such a young team- wait 'til next year! Plan on a winning 1986-87 season.

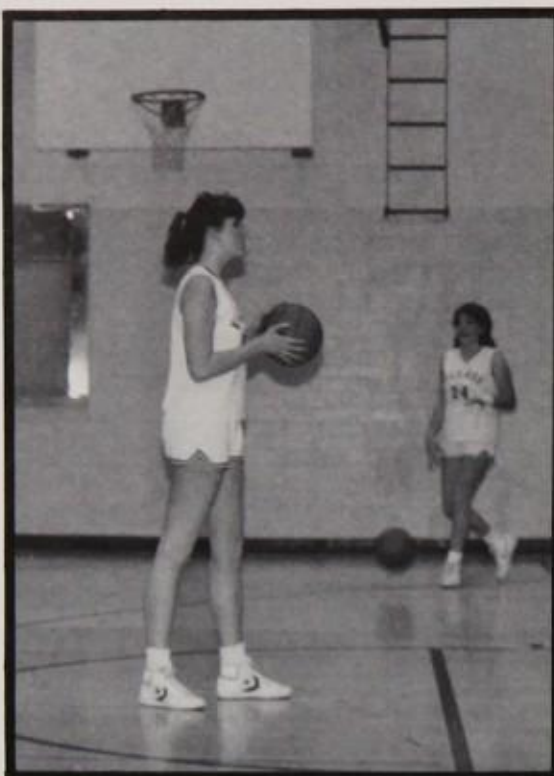

Leane Andersen

This year the Girls Varsity Basketball team had a few set backs such as the disadvantage of a small team, and several injuries. But despite these hindrances, with the dedication of our coach, we had a few victories. Each player improved individually as we focused on rebounding, passing, and shooting. One thing we learned is that we should not only play to win, but also for the love of the sport. Most importantly, each one should play to the glory of the Lord with all of her heart, soul, mind, and strength.

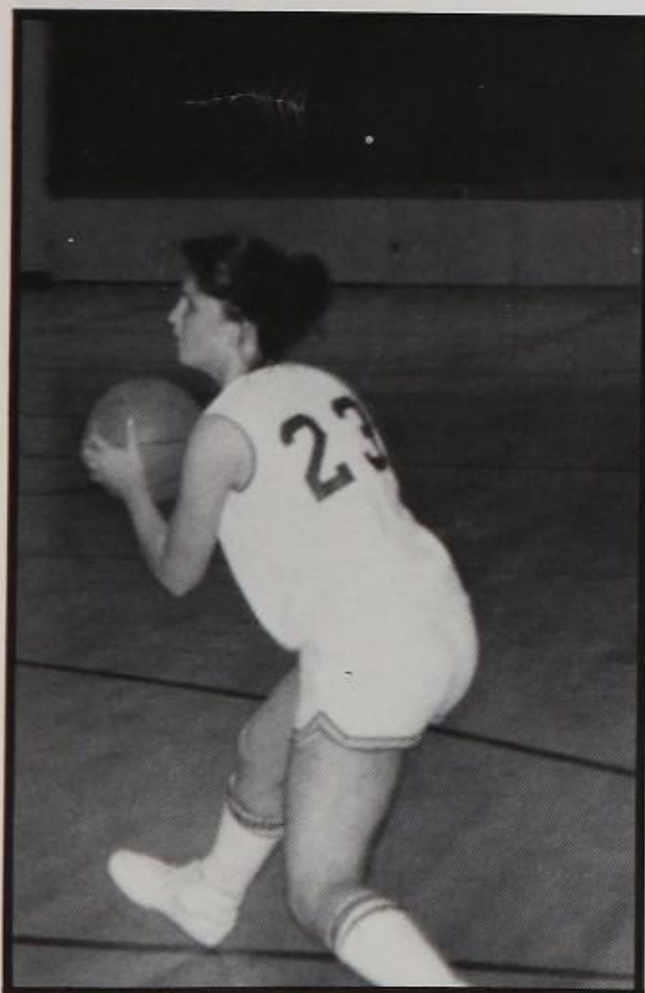

Julie Pruis

The Girls Varsity Basketball team this year was filled with intense people who had personalities that just wouldn't stop. We had fun times and hard moments, but we pulled each other through. Thanks Neil for pulling with us! Good luck next year!

Girls J.V. Basketball

As I sit in study hall for the last time, I think about what has happened during the last four months. I think about all I have learned not only from my coach but from my teammates as well; it sounds corny, but a little lesson can go a long way.

This was my first year on the J.V. team since I'm a freshman. With the help of my coach I learned to submit to authority no matter what. I also learned that even if some games aren't going to be remembered very long, what matters most is the present; if we were to lose we would do it with dignity and we walk with our heads held high. My teammates taught me to always think positively no matter how bad things seem. We encouraged each other and kept each other up.

I think I speak for the whole team when I say we learned to control our attitudes. Many times during the course of a game we would sit and cut ourselves down not knowing that when we kept ourselves down and didn't try our best, we kept the rest of the team down there with us.

In the beginning we had problems. One after another, people left the team because of injury or other or other commitments. At one point there were only five of us and we had to play the whole game alone. Somehow we made it through.

I'm going to miss study hall but even more I'll miss playing with the best team I've ever been a part of. We learned each other's weak and strong points and struggled through. We tried our best and learned to get it right.

Thanks to you, Mrs. Ludwig, for being our coach. Without you there wouldn't have been a J.V. team this year. And no, I don't think I had the opportunity to read six basketball books this year.

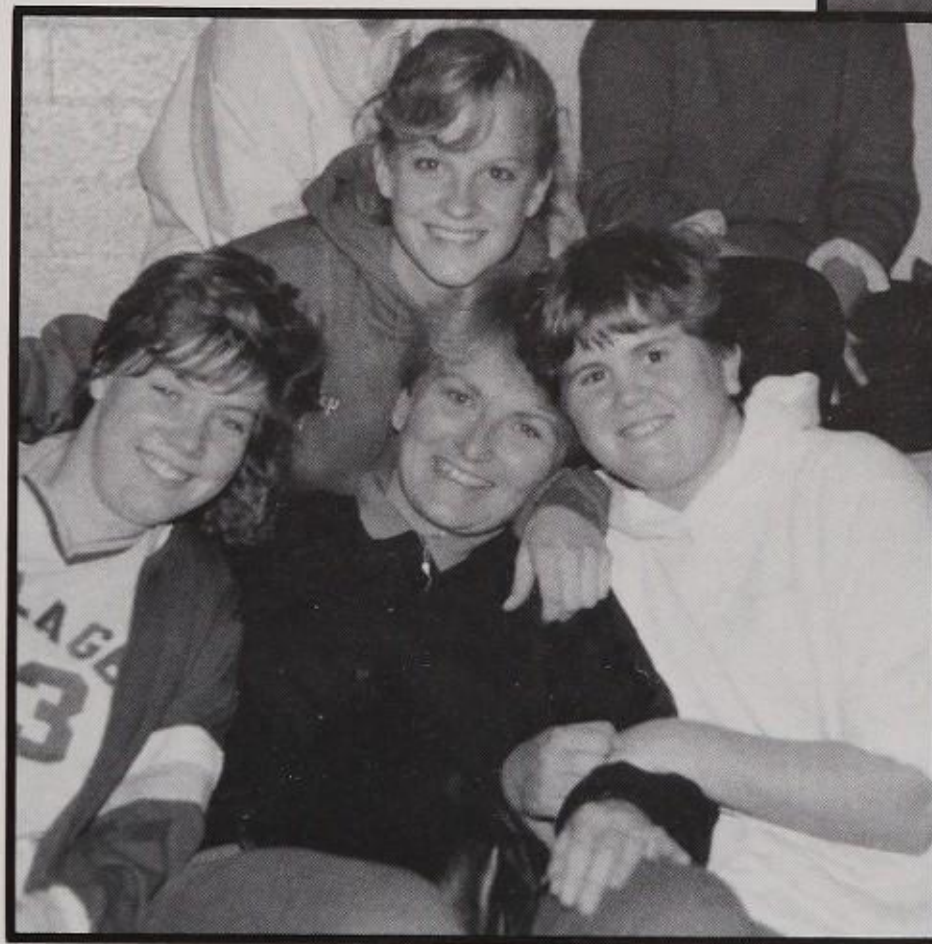

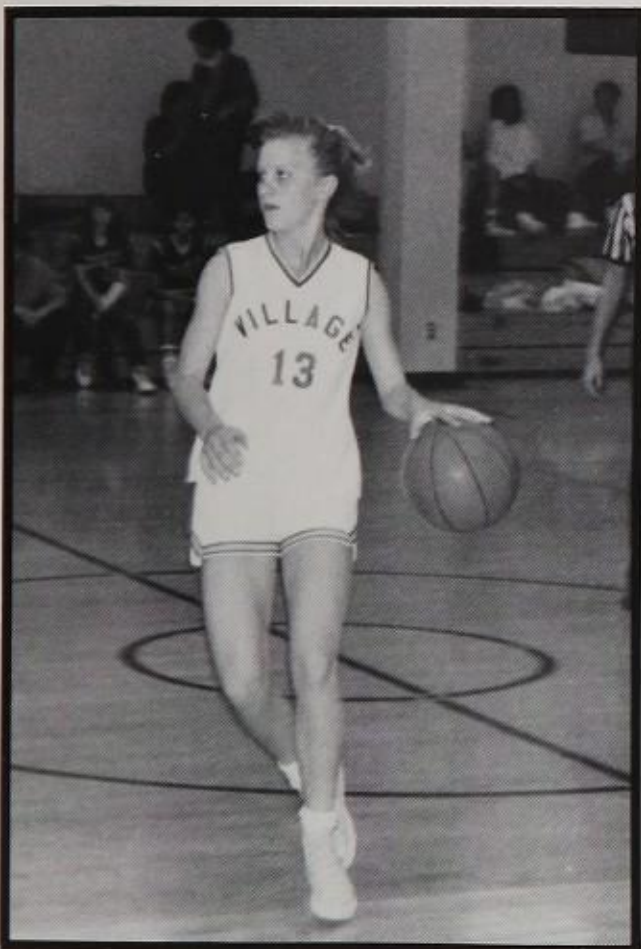

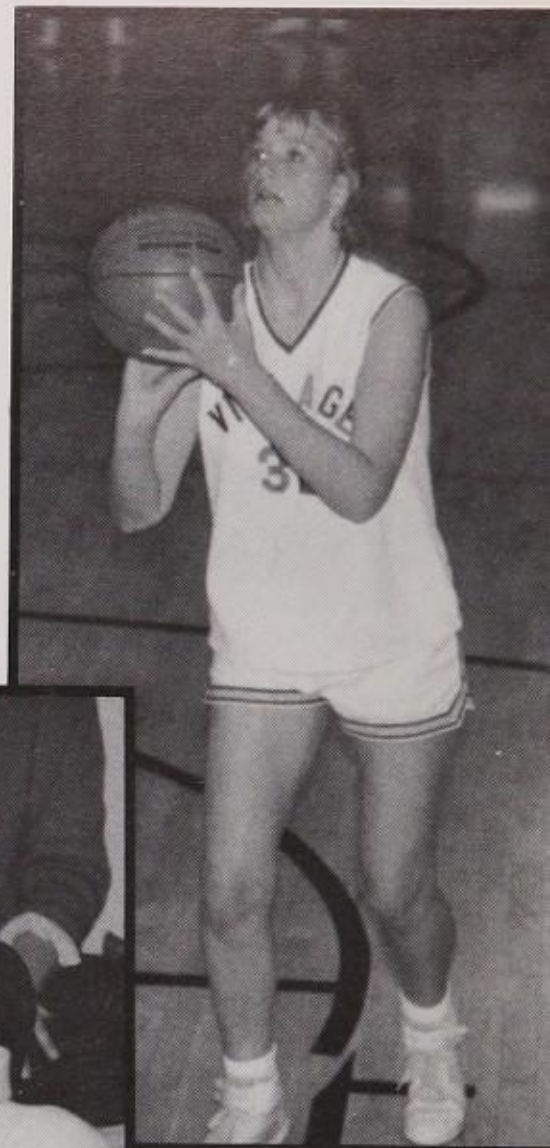

Most of all, thanks to Lori, Patti, Beth, Cindy, and Penny for being my friends these four months. I'll never forget you.

Varsity Track

This track season was one to be remembered. We had an excellent team with many returning members as well as many promising new ones. We worked hard and it paid off in the meets, with many victorious performances and many P.R.'s. This year's team was not just a bunch of people who trained together, but was a team. Each member helped the others with prayers and put-ups. The coaches did a superb job training us and I would like to thank them for the dedication they showed as they helped us through the season. Everyone gave their all and whether someone was an awesome running animal or someone was barely getting by he still deserves credit for being part of the great team we had this year. We definitely overcame the elements.

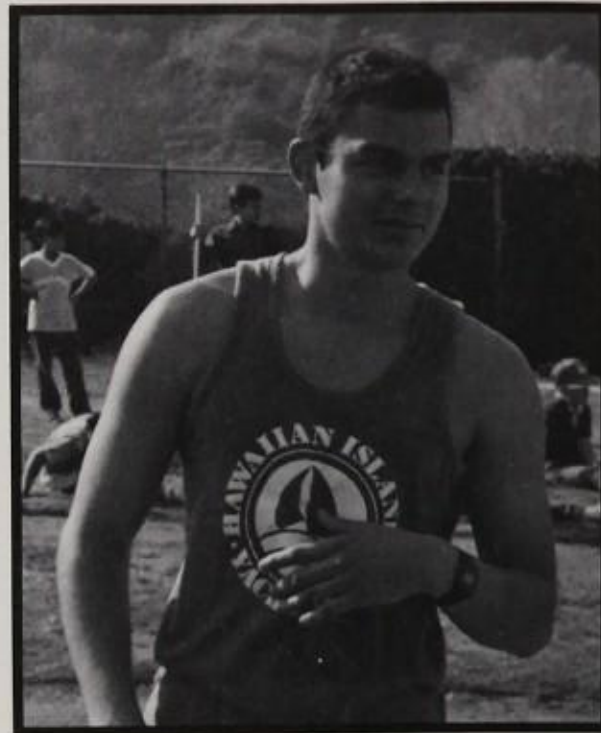

Andy Peterson

The 1986 Track team claimed Philippians 4:13 as its team verse. "I can do all through Him who strengthens me." The entire team has removed the word "can't" from its collective vocabularies.

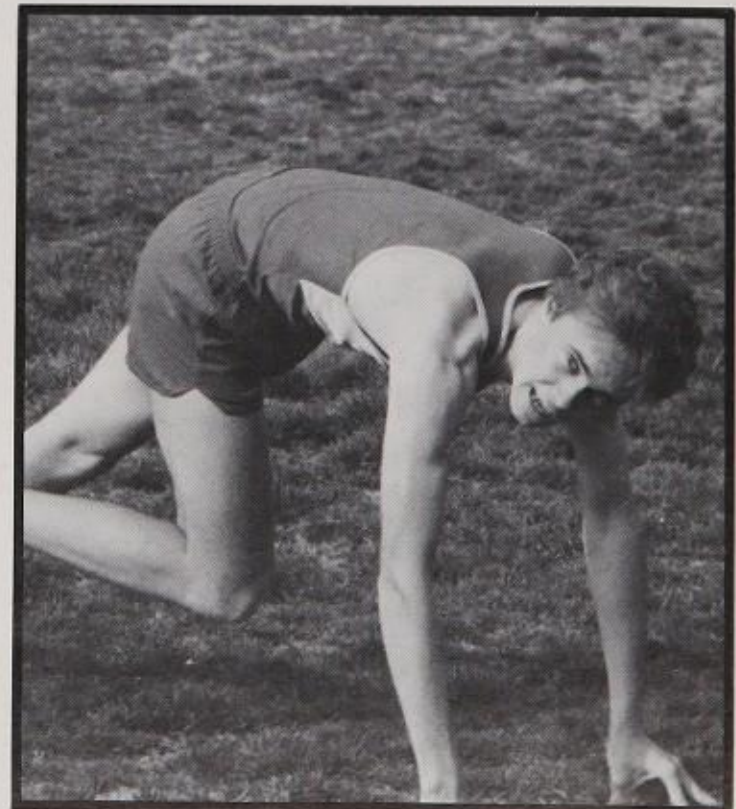

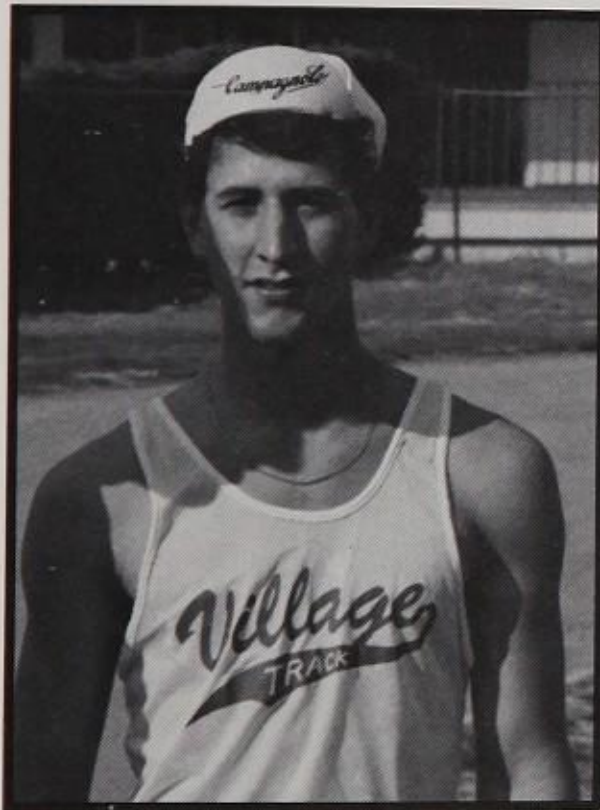

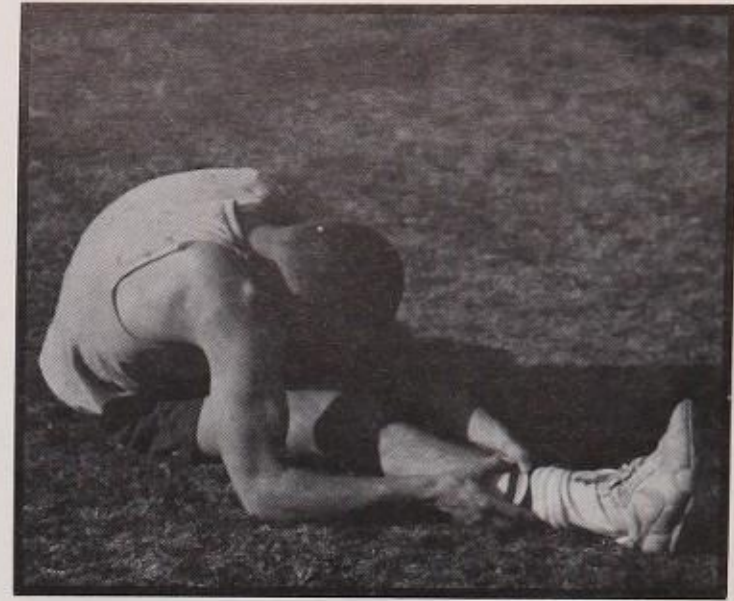

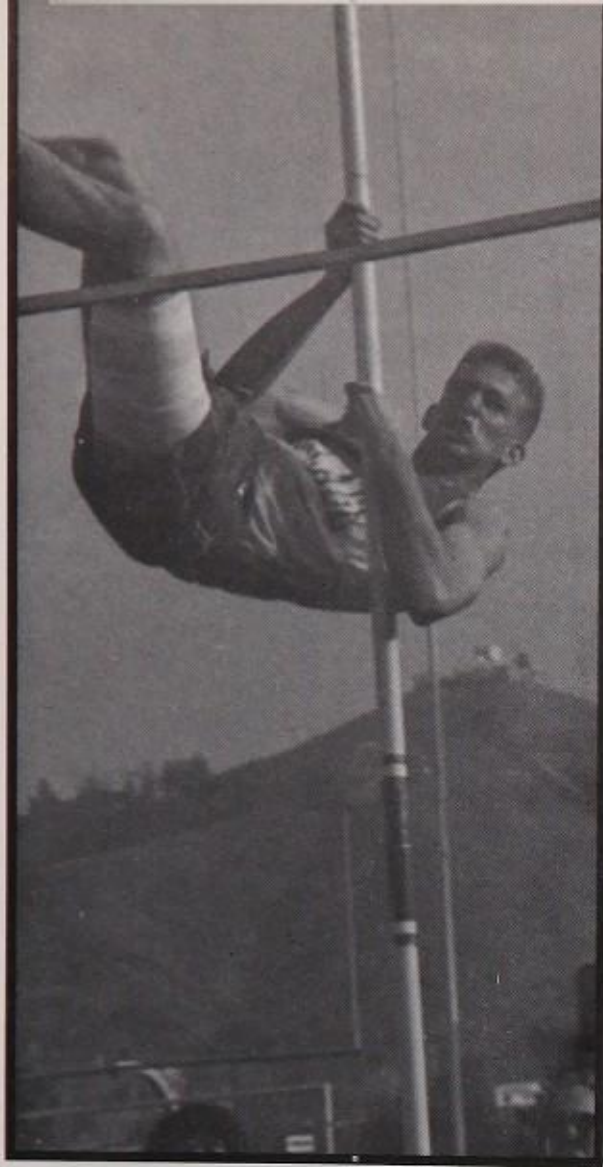

Team success is important in track, but so is individual success. Individual success is not defined by finishing first place, but by P.R.'s (personal records). Each athlete's goal is to set 2 P.R.'s by season's end. Track is a unique sport because it allows the athlete to judge his success by comparing against himself and not against others.

This year the team is led by the Crusader Council, a group of dedicated athletes. The purpose of the Council is to give encouragement, guidance, and leadership to other athletes.

Girls Track

This year's track season was pretty hip-happening! There are so many things we shared together — the laughter, the tears, the times we prayed and played together, the friends we made, even on our own team, the bus rides to and from our meets, the fear before each race, and the jamming joy afterwards. The list could go on and on because everyone will remember something different. But there's one thing we'll all remember. No, it's not how to clean our spikes or how to hop a hurdle, it's how to "overcome the elements", and give 110% for God. We learned that without love, you have nothing and that God will provide your every need, whether it be new spikes, Ben Gay, or a good friend. We learned that "Workers are Winners" and that a "quitter never wins." We learned how to sacrifice. The hardest, but most fulfilling part was learning how to forget what lies behind, and reach forward to what lies ahead. (Phil. 3:13).

This year's track season was pretty awesome. There are so many things we learned that it's hard to just name a few. Not only did we learn how to lengthen our jumps, our strides, or even better our times, but we learned to be there when others needed us, be a servant to our fellow teammates, encourage others in Christ and glorify God in all that we do. We've built lasting relationships that we will carry all throughout our lives. Also, an important thing is that we learned to be there for someone not just when there were problems but we stuck together in all the glorious winning moments.

Varsity Baseball

The Crusaders of 1986 showed motivation and hustle for such a young team. Early in the year, they pulled together and worked for team unity, which was stressed by head coach, Greg Frazer. With only one returning senior and five returning juniors, inexperience was a factor the Crusaders had to deal with. Talented Freshmen and Sophomores answered the call with starting positions and leadership qualities which helped team unity. The varsity squad first realized their championship potential with a come-from-behind win over the ever-tough alumni. The Crusaders are also building strong for 1987, with 8 out of 9 starters returning. A successful season for the Crusaders was a result of hard work, and the team members are looking forward to an even stronger season in '87.

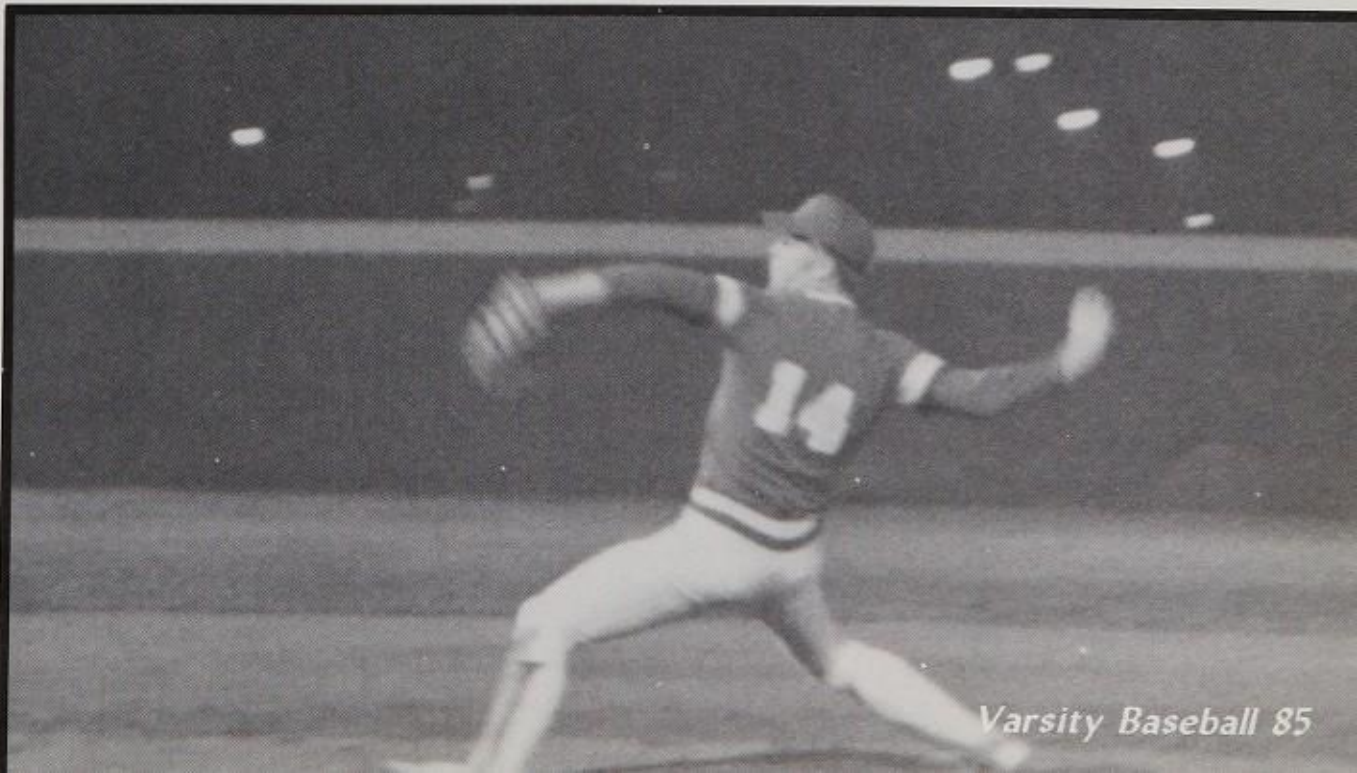

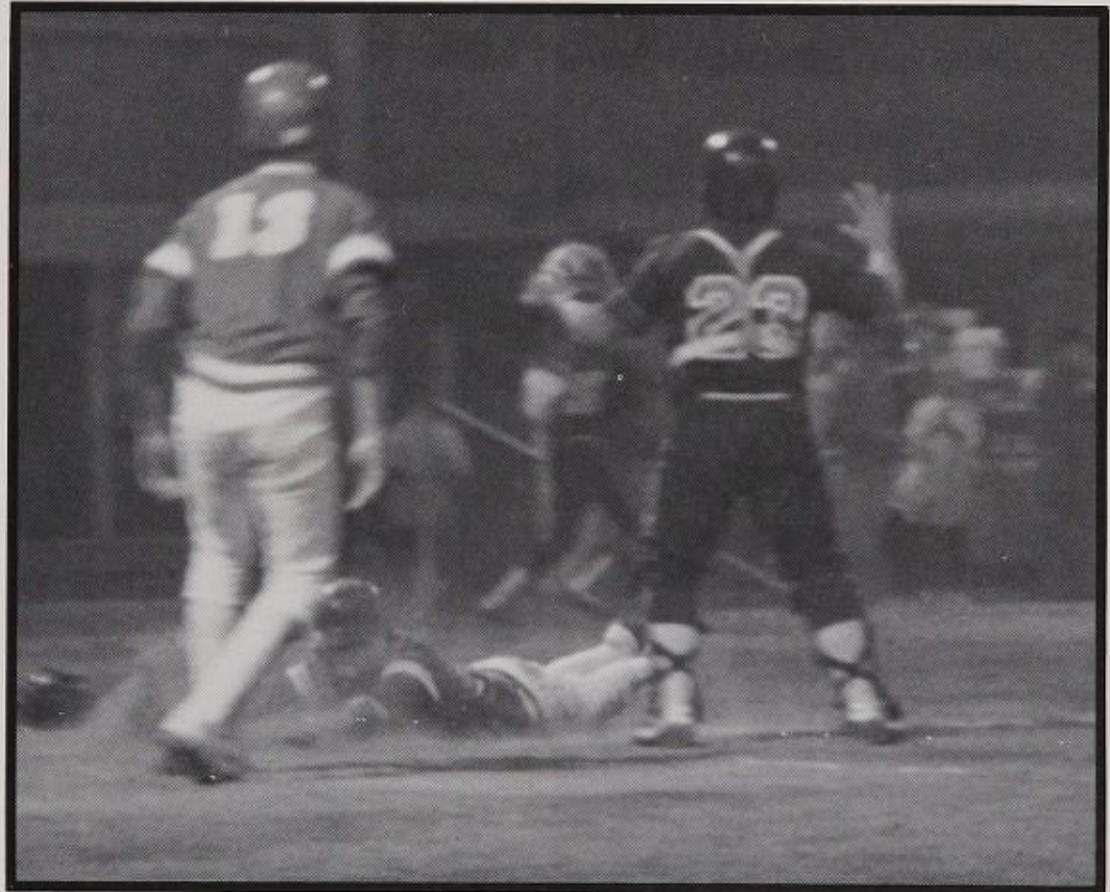

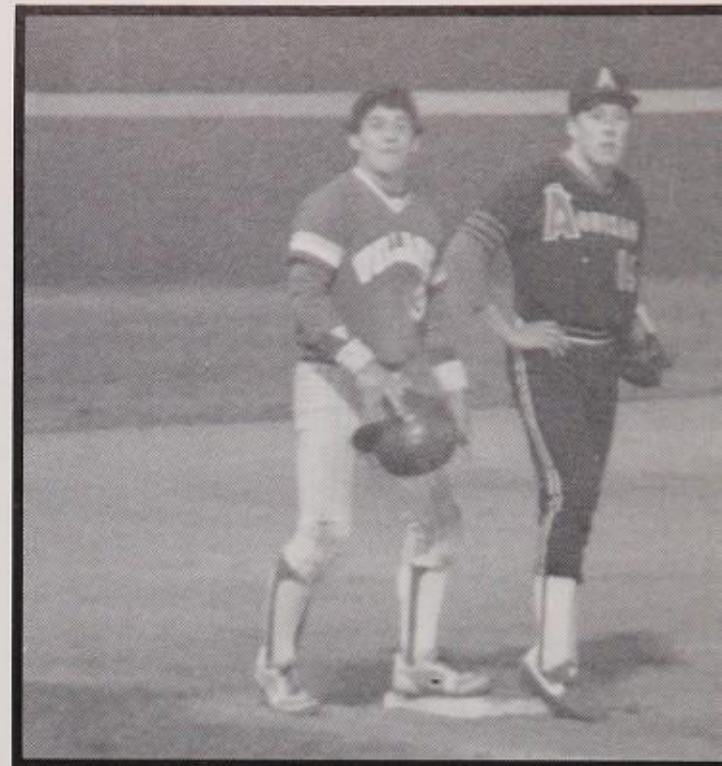

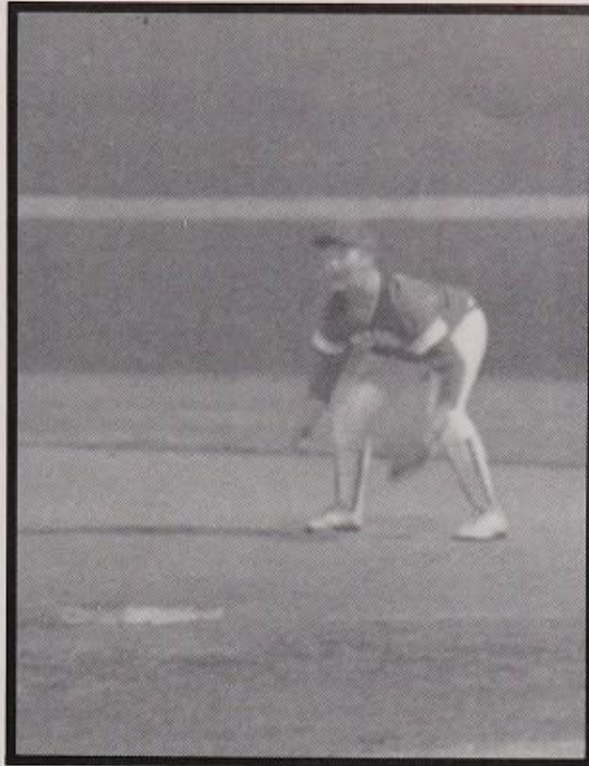

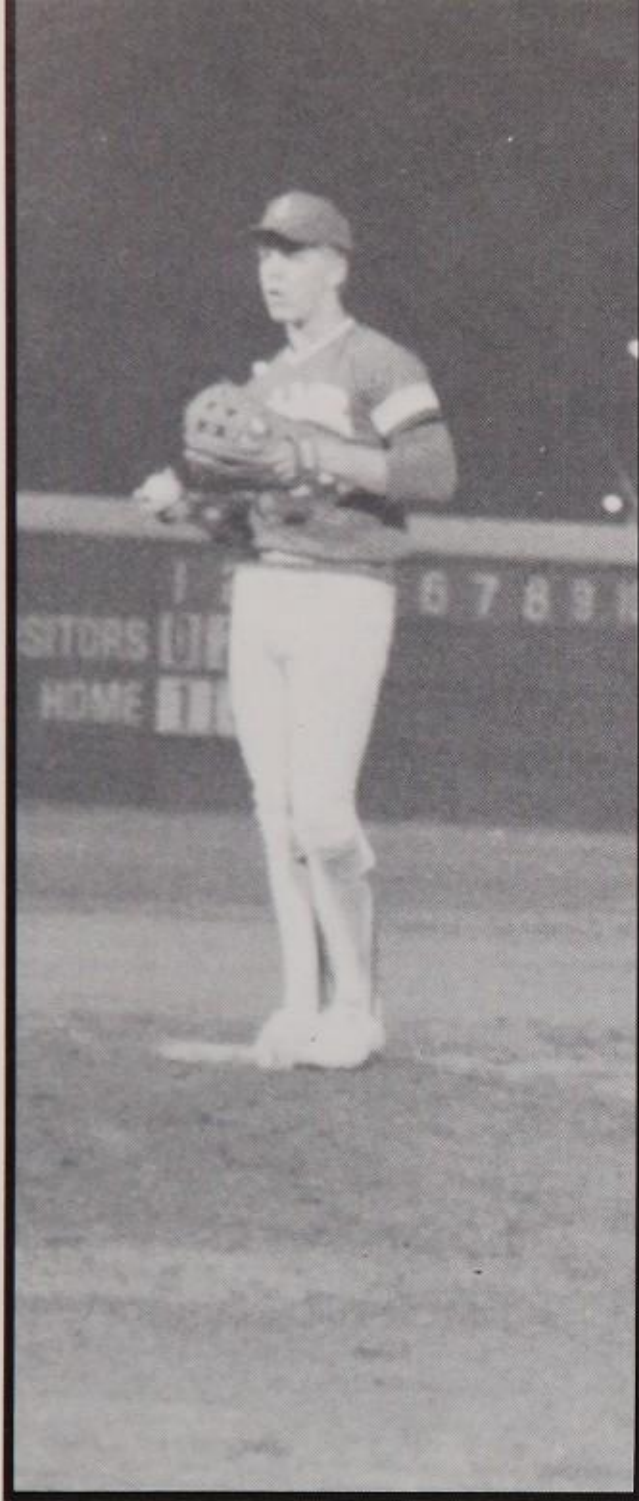

Jonathon Rich

1986 promised to be a banner year for Village Varsity baseball. The 1986 Crusaders anticipated a drive to the playoffs behind excellent pitching and strong hitting. Five starters returned from 1985's 12-9 squad, with four of those hitting over 300 the previous season. Several talented newcomers blended with these veterans to form one of the finest Village baseball teams ever. Outstanding performers this season included: senior pitcher Mike Beliveau, senior catcher Bob Welsh, junior pitcher Chris Johnson, junior third baseman Tyler Victor, and junior outfielder Jordan Nedeff. As impressive as the 1986 Crusaders were however, Village's prospects for 1987 look even brighter, as only 3 seniors graduate from the young team.

J.V. Baseball

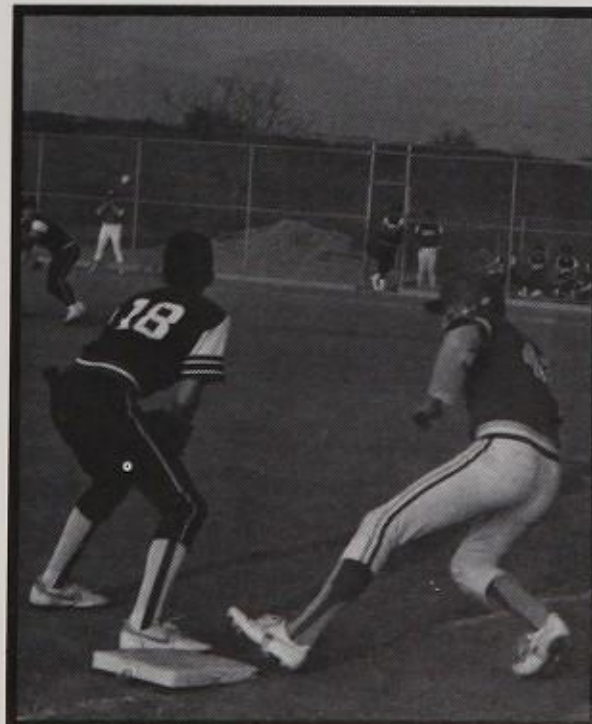

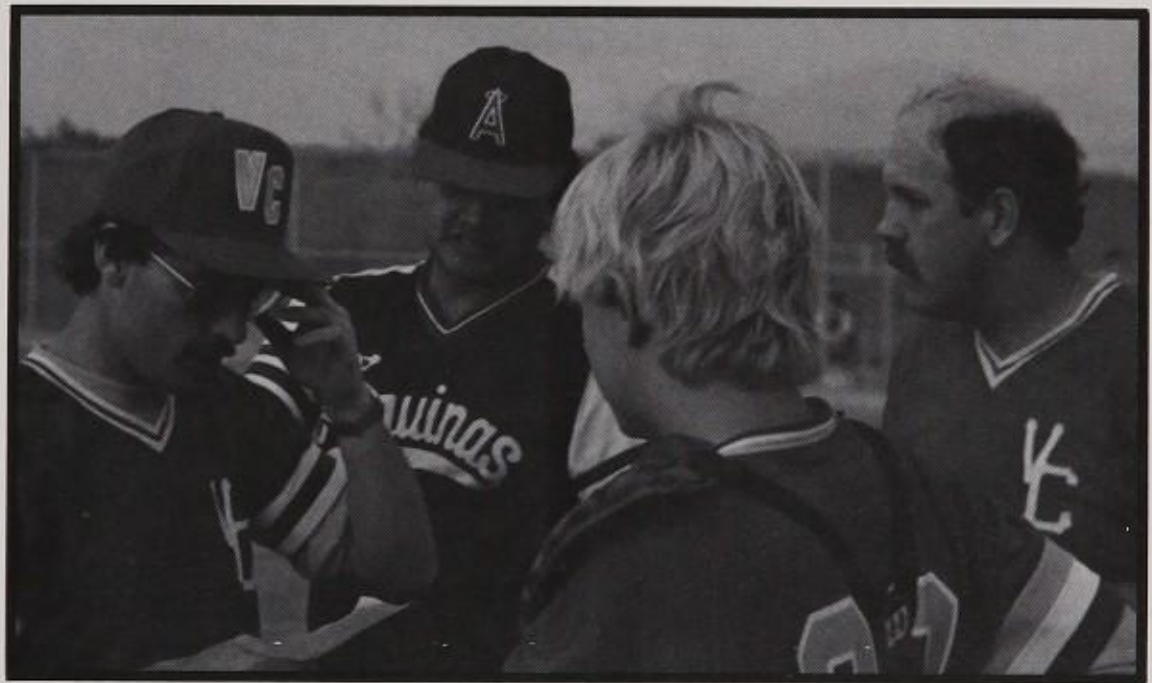

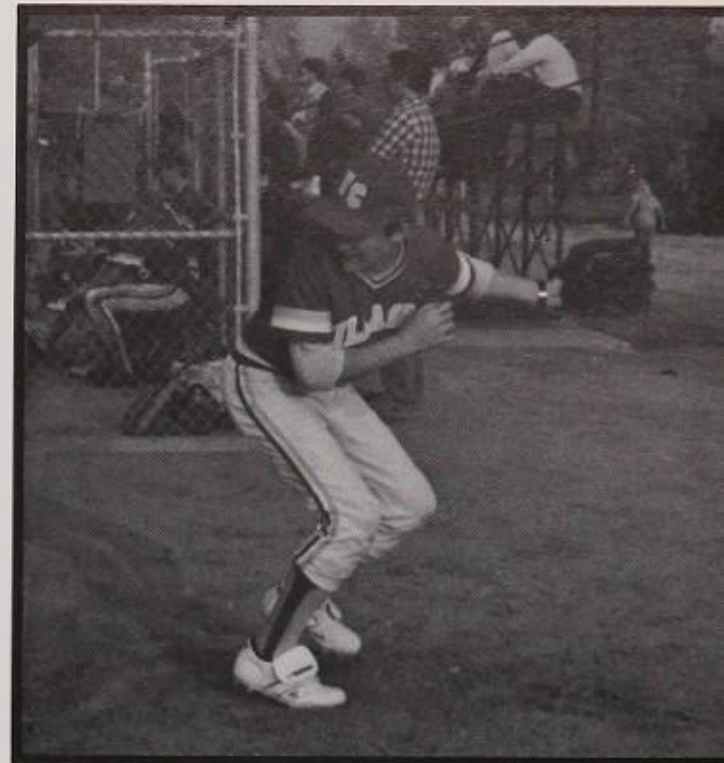

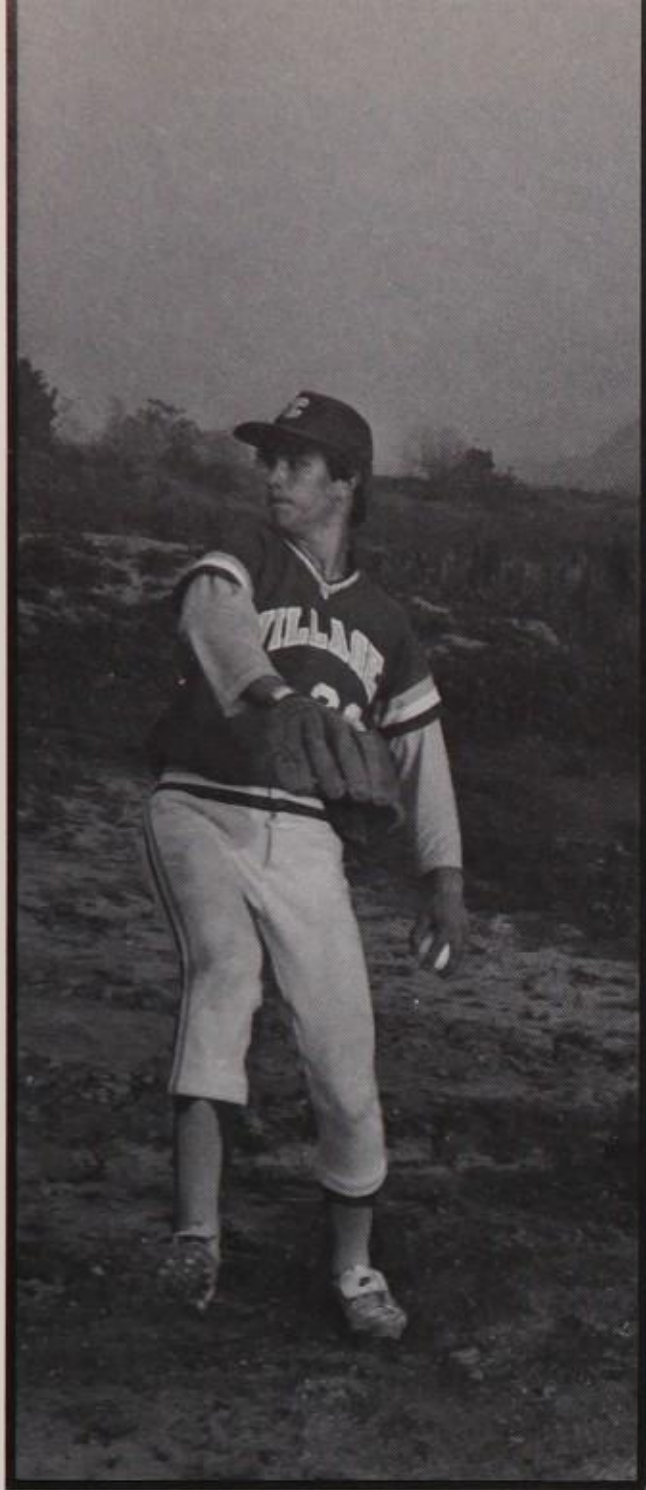

Things look good for the future of Varsity Baseball at VCS. This years J.V. team got back on track with a solid infield and outfield, and a deeper pitching team. J.V. won more games this year with a good mix of Sophomores and Freshmen. Leading the Sophomores were George Panay, David Bates, Russ DeYoung, Bernie Verduzco, and Peter Nesmith. Upcoming Freshmen talent includes Greg Lloyd, Larry Uleman, Matt Rhodes, Drew Martinson, and Scott Danielson.

Varsity Softball

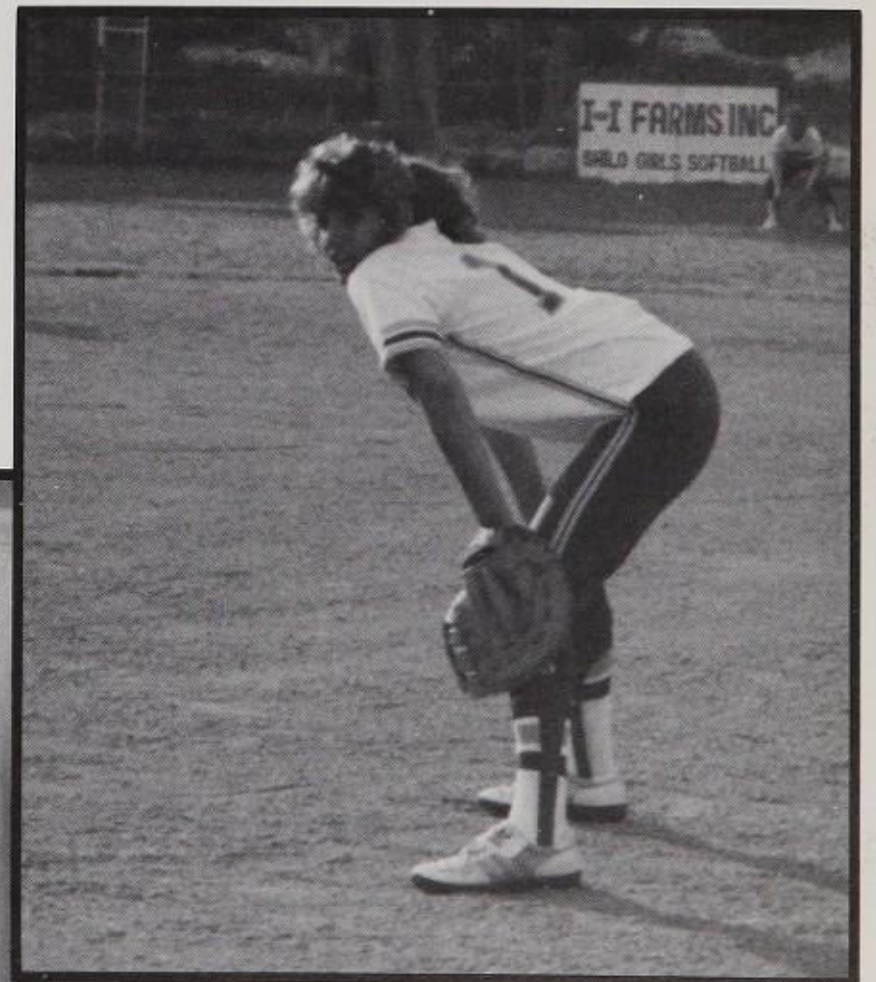

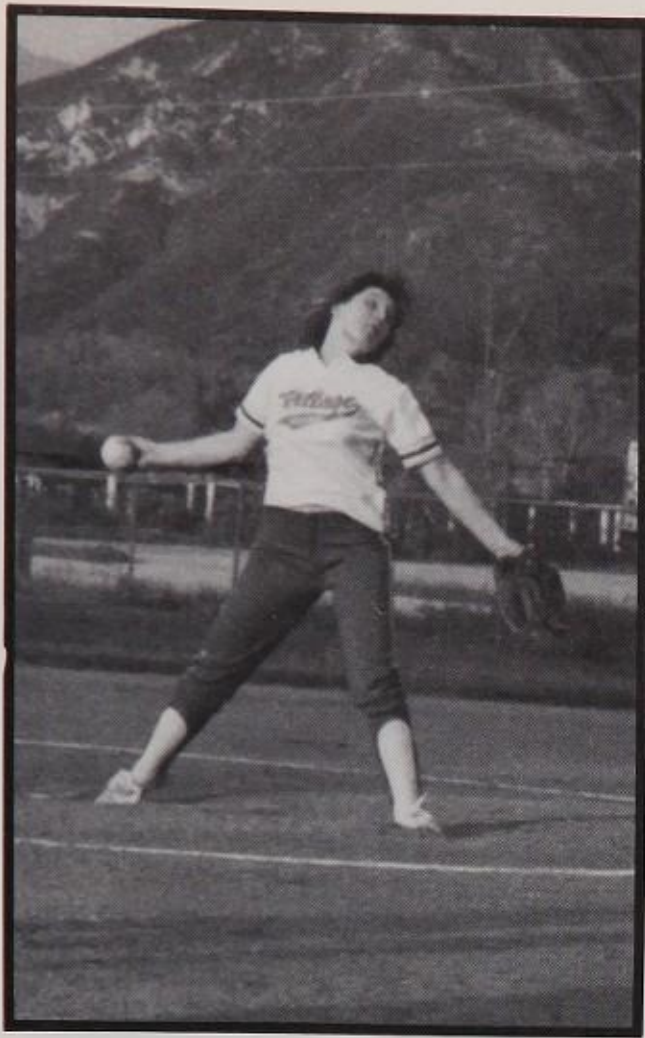

Most of the softball team returned this season. Last year we were the best team in Village history. We won the Alpha League title in 1985 and will defend the same title in 1986, to the best of our ability. We are the best of friends, are all hard working, our spirit soars, and that is what makes our team a success. We strive for the best that we can do. When we play, we play for the Lord. The Lord is always first. Our team has dedication and commitment to the sport of softball. This year we're stronger then ever and aspire to have a great season. None of this would be possible without the fabulous coaching of Mike and Karen Vail and Craig Pannel.

J.V. Softball

Our girls Junior Varsity softball team was very equipped this year and we had an excellent season. Dean Lagasse was a very qualified coach and taught the girls to the best of his ability how to play softball. A lot of time and patience was needed to learn the game completely, but we worked on it. This year we saw some definite varsity material for next year.

Seanda Dailey

I like our J.V. Softball team because we all have a lot of fun. But why I like it most is because there are 4 girls out there working together. We all go out there and give it our best, and have a great time doing it.

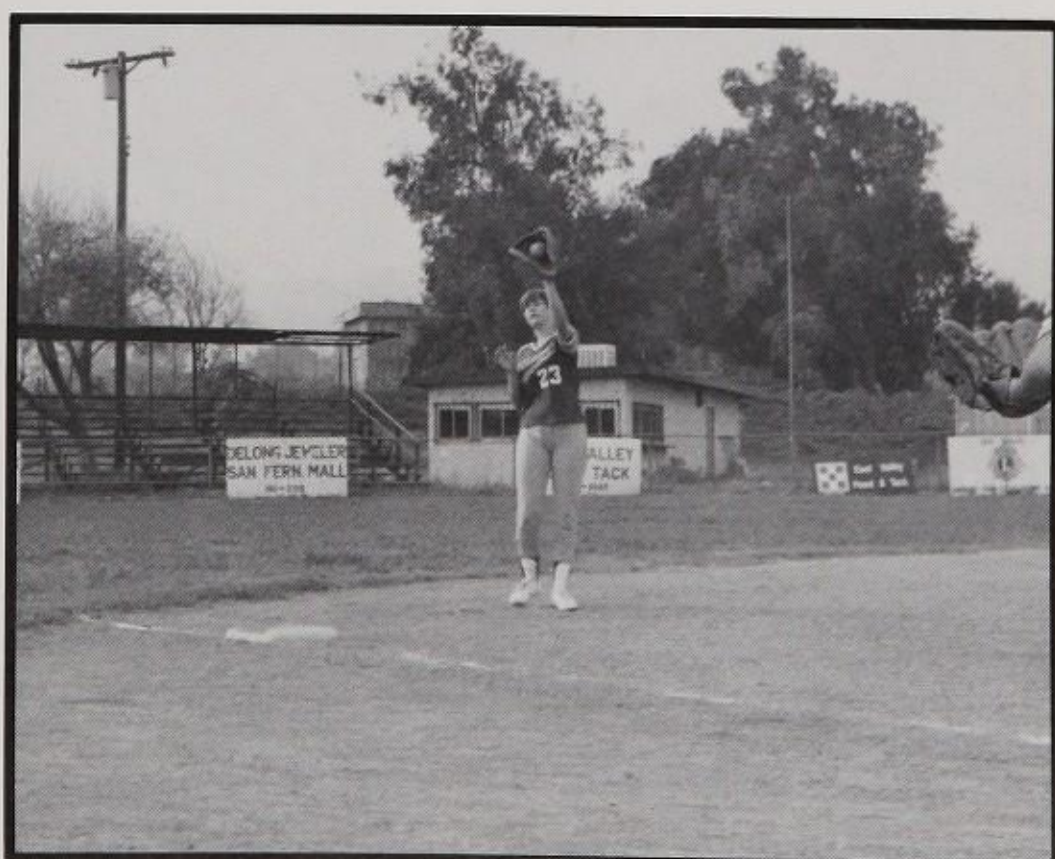

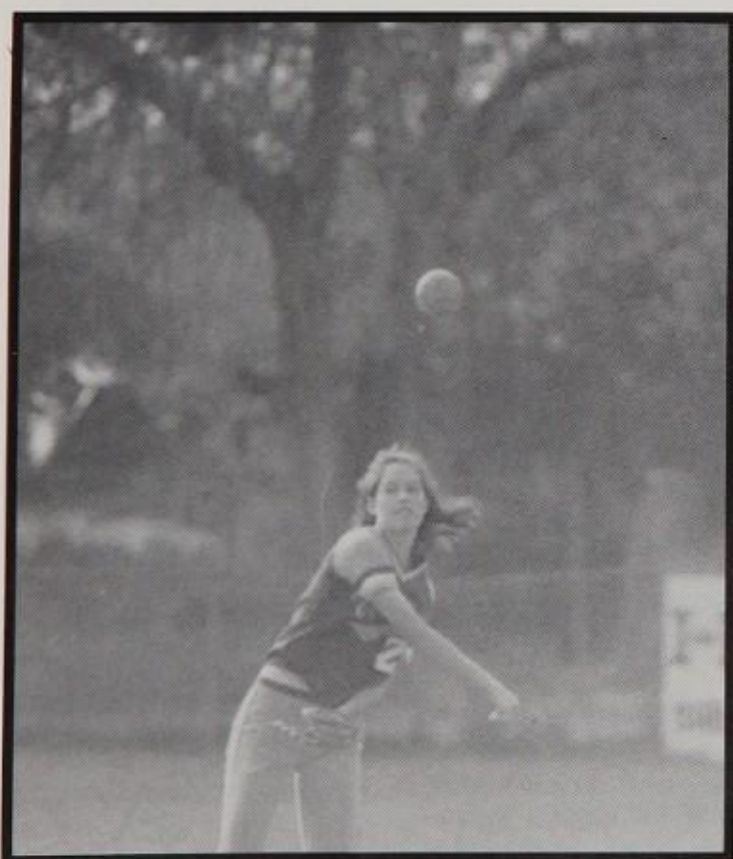

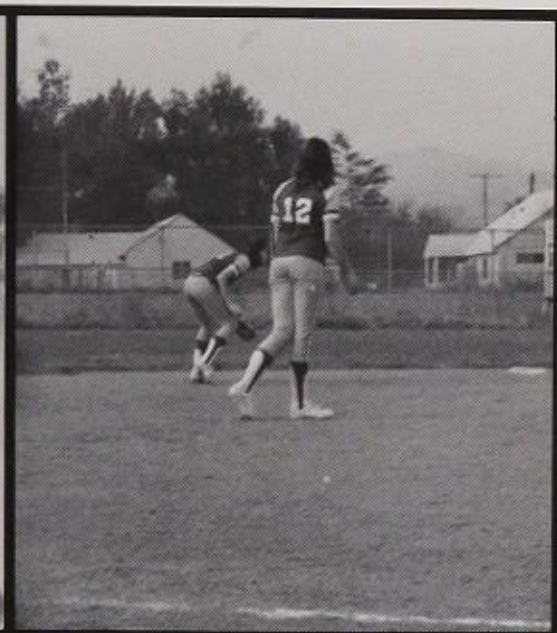

Lori Cross

The 1986 girls' softball team had a lot of determination. Whether the games turned out a victory or defeat, knowing that we did our best made it worth while. Being on the team was a great chance to strengthen our softball skills, build friendships, and have a lot of fun.

This years J.V. girls' softball team was a great experience. Everyone on the team got along great and really supported each other. We built new friendships, strengthened old ones, and overall had a great time playing softball.

Junior High Basketball is great because we all get along really well. We're a really awesome team. Its been great this entire season for us all. I'm looking forward to being on J.V. Basketball next year.

David Brownfield-Guard

Being on Junior High Basketball this year is the best. Coach Rennie was terrific and we all had a really good time and we're a really excellent team for that matter to. Junior High Basketball might not have been much of a team before but it sure is now.

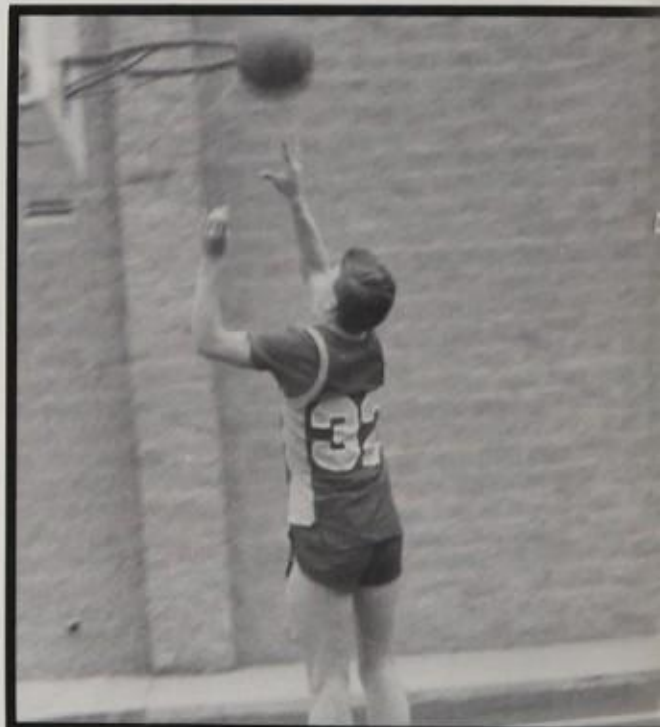

Rod Anderson- Forward

The 1985-86 edition of the V.C.S. Junior High Basketball was off to one of the best starts in several years. After seven games the Crusaders had put together a 6-1 record while averaging 53 points to their opponents.

The greatest strength of this years team has been its powerful inside game, led by eighth-graders Craig Fromel and Pat Kennely, as well as the fine playmaking abilities of classmates Matt Bates, David Brownfield, Rod Anderson, and Mark Anderson. Each one playing vital roles on the team with their outstanding all-around basketball skills and athletic ability.

While a major goal of any sports program is winning, another primary target for the team is to lay the foundation for an outstanding varsity program at V.C.S. Considering the excellent skills of this years team along with the opening of the new gym the future of Village basketball seems bright.

Junior High Cheerleading

The Junior High Spiritleaders were enthusiastic and committed! Faithfully, they supported the flag football teams and the basketball team. Their leadership drew many students to join the Junior High Pep squad, a group of girls also committed to school spirit.

Miss Jobe-Sponsor

Being on Spiritleaders is a great experience. I loved to cheer for the Junior High games, it was so exciting! The squad was fun and absolutely crazy. I learned to use my abilities to praise God, with patience and love for others. Spiritleading really made my year. The San Diego game and our times together were really special.

Spiritleading was really fun. Even though we were new at cheering for Junior High sports, I had a lot of fun and made a lot of friends and Miss Jobe was a wonderful teacher. My favorite times were the Bonfire and the parties we had. We had a lot of great experiences and fun like our game in San Diego. I learned what cheerleading was all about.

Dana Campbell and Tanja Cesh

The Junior High Spiritleaders were, Dana Campbell, Tanja Cesh, Julie Calver, Kasey Lowman, Crystal Stefan, Angela Masino.

Every time I tell other adults who aren't teachers that I teach 8th graders they shake their heads and look at me as though I had an untouchable disease. The majority of Jr. High kids have an unspoiled enthusiasm about life and are willing to let me be as a teacher as long as I love them in the process.

Jr. High kids have two emotion levels — high and low with no middle ground — and neither one is predictable. I love the way a Jr. Higher — boy or girl — will allow me to give them a hug — and most of them return the hugs too. One of the most unique things about 7th and 8th graders is that their maturity levels vary so greatly — some are really "young" and others are too "old" too soon. I love the way Jr. Highers will forgive me when I goof up and ask for forgiveness.

Jr. Highers' friendships are deep and so vital to them. Schoolwork ranks 5th behind friendships, "romance", eating, and clothes.

Jr. High "couples" last sometimes as long as six weeks! (except for Jonathan and Emily)

Please don't let Jr. Highers know how much their teachers love them. I might go to their heads!

Mrs. Sowers

The things I will remember most about Jr. High are the reports, you know, the ones your teacher says are due in three weeks that you do the night before. We're not talking about the ones your English teacher tells you to write about a book but the ones your social studies teacher assigns on some country you never knew existed. Yes, I will always remember the agony of reports.

What sets junior high apart from elementary are the teachers. In elementary you had only one teacher to figure out. Once you found out what that teacher liked you had no problem; in junior high, on the other hand, you have seven teachers to cope with. It's not all bad though; in elementary if you didn't like your teacher you were stuck with him or her all day; in junior high, you only have them for 45 minutes.

Brian Blanning

What has made junior high memorable for me is being on junior high senate. It has given me the opportunity to meet and work with many people and take part in planning activities for junior high.

Owen Lee

Junior high differs from elementary in many ways. The whole atmosphere seems to change after sixth grade. We want and gain more freedom, along with that freedom, however, come many new responsibilities.

Amber Fauntleroy

What I'll remember most about junior high are the great friends I've had. They have helped me through a lot of rough times and have made my life a lot more enjoyable.

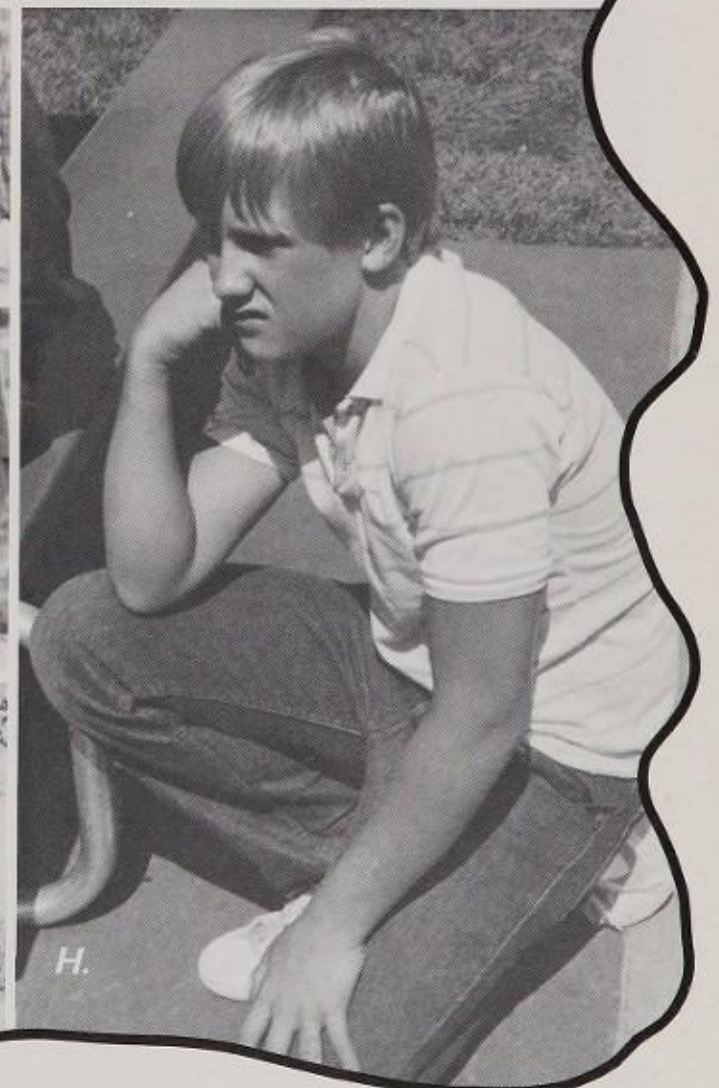

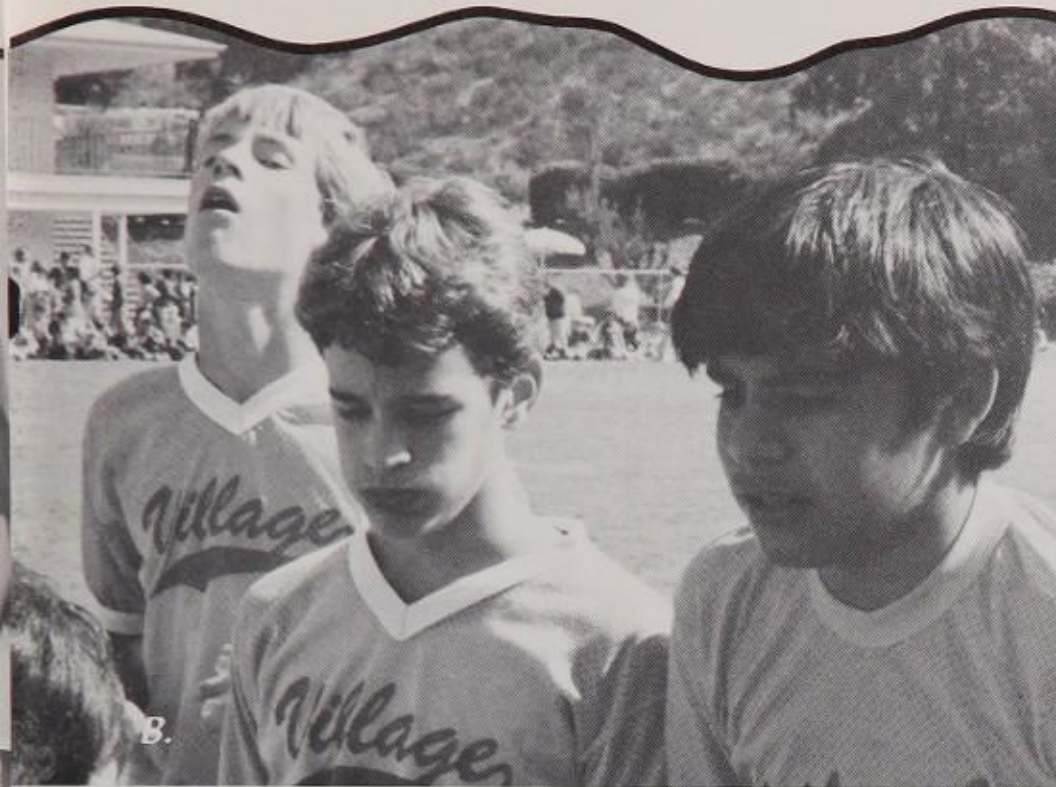

Jenifer Knouse

What I'll probably remember most about junior high is trying to open my locker on "back to school night." I waited in line for what seemed like hours for my combination and didn't think I'd have any problem with it. Was I ever wrong! I tried it countless times and it wouldn't open. Well, on Monday I found out I was using the wrong combination the whole time.

Clubs are an exciting part of Village. Although there isn't a very large variety of clubs, there is still a lot you can do just by being involved in one club. Being involved in several clubs over the years, has given me a whole new outlook on our school. It has also given me a lot of school spirit. I hope that the clubs in college will be as exciting as the ones at Village have been for me.

-Janine Yacoubian

Many of the clubs this year have been pretty active. One of them is the Spanish Club. We started out the year with the annual T.J. trip. Clothes and gifts were presented to the children of the orphanage. Our next outing was the popular "ski trip". A group of 25 students spent the weekend in Big Bear skiing and having fun. We also have had fund raisers to help needed families in the community. It is my desire that this club continue to be a service club, not just a social club. All in all the clubs has done several good things, both providing an insight into the Spanish culture in L.A., as well as providing a healthy, friendly atmosphere for V.C. students.

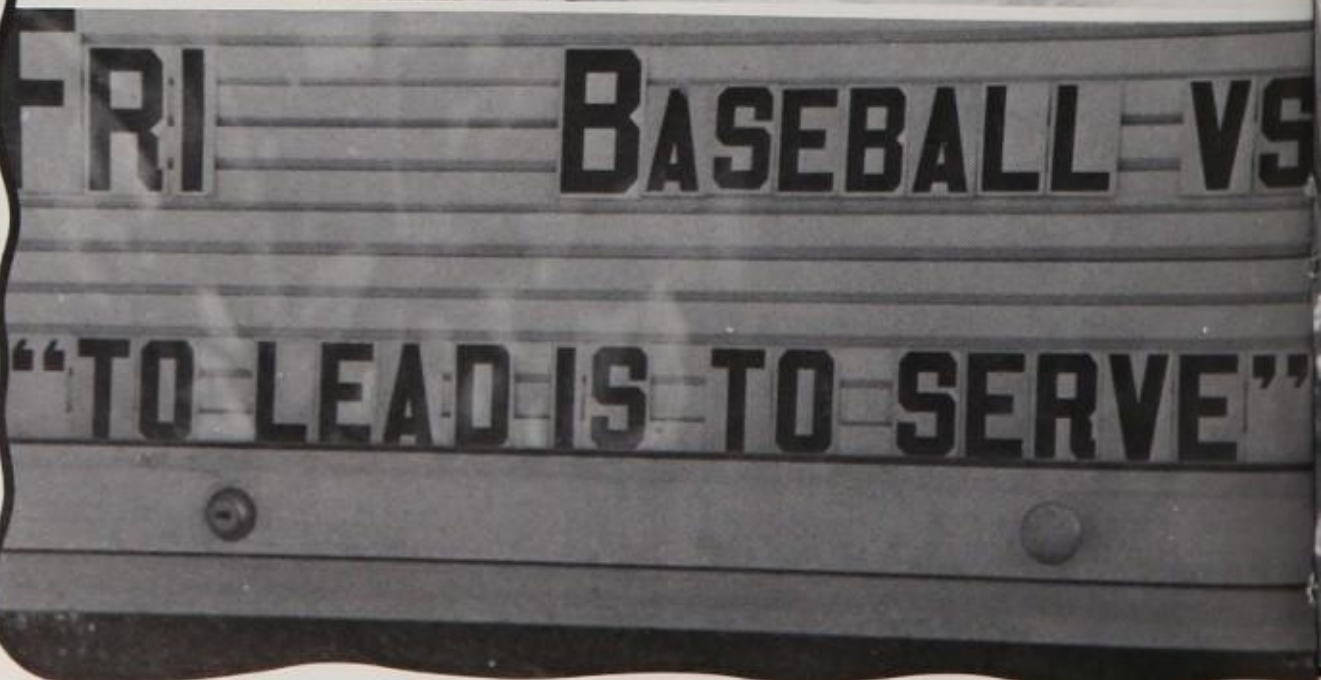

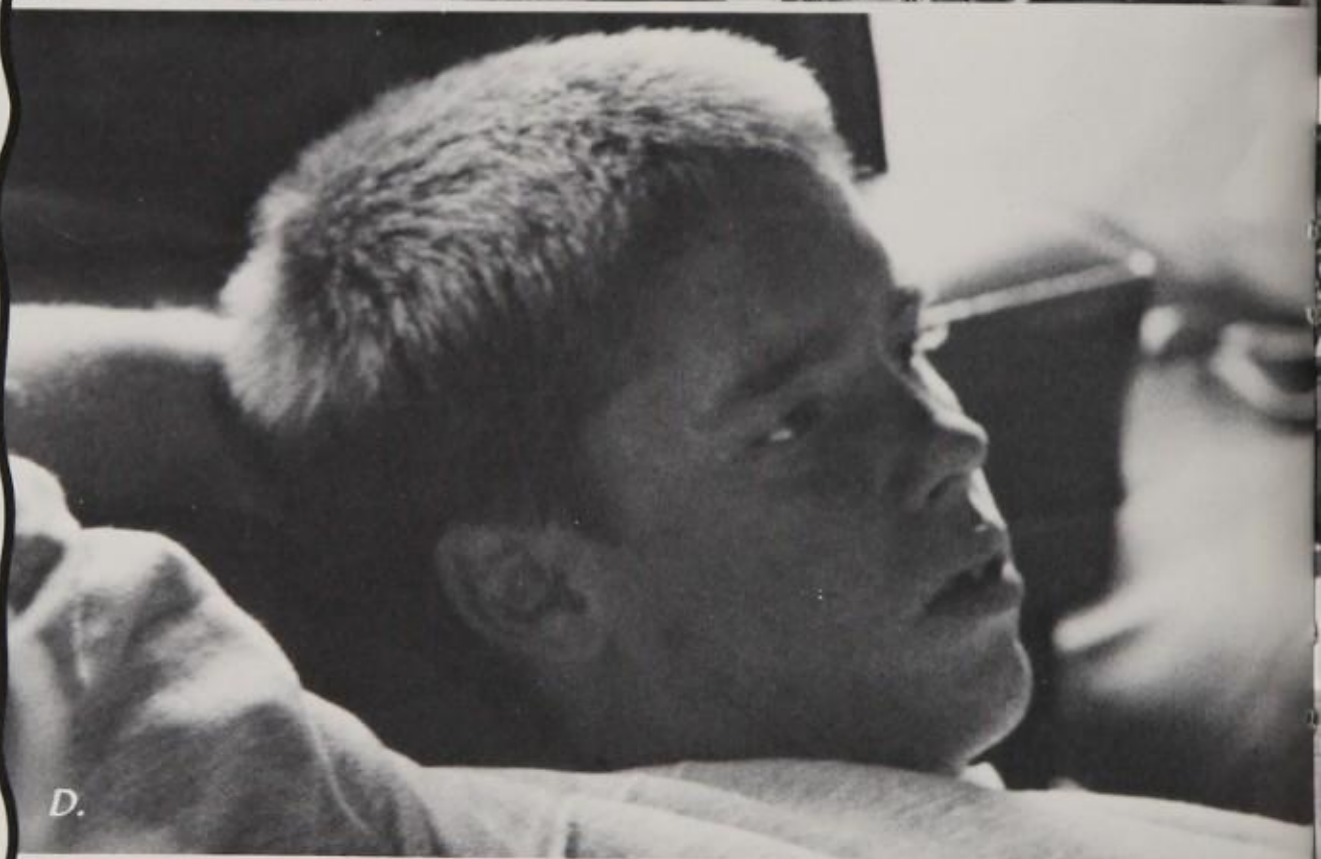

-Mike Wagenveld

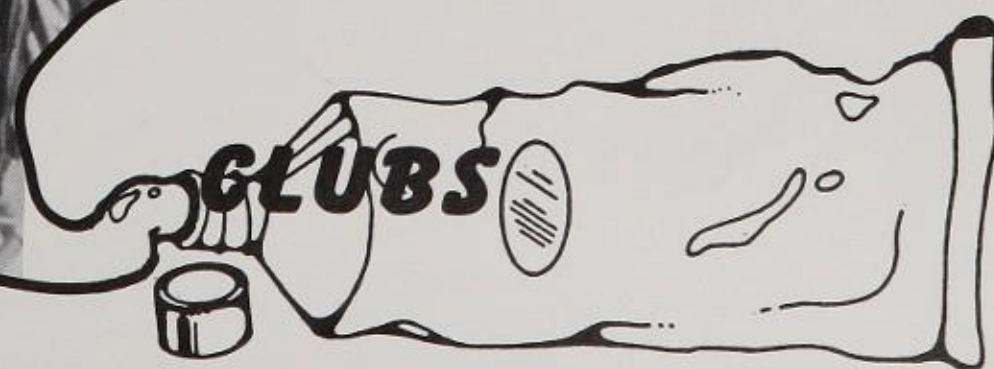

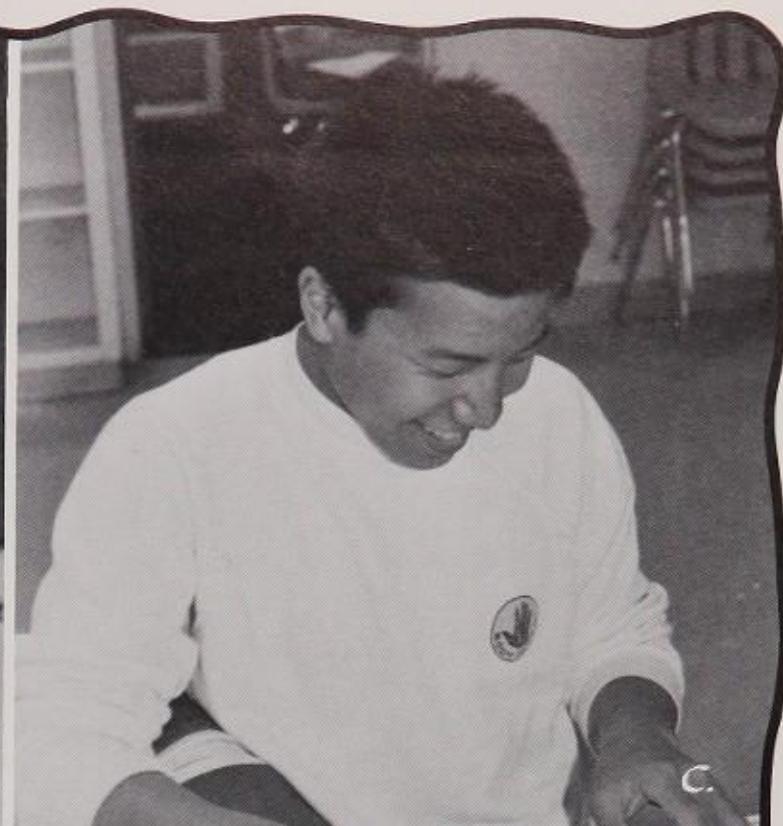

There is a first time for everything, and this year it was the Science Club. Students were eager to join a club in which they could further their knowledge in the science field, and express new ideas. The turn out of members was good, and they were enthusiastic about what they were doing.

Math Club meetings were held the first Wednesday of every month, and were efficiently run by our sponsor, Mrs. Bates, and our president, Jane DeHaan. At each meeting there was either a presentation (dealing with the different facets of math or a short but challenging test. The math club was a different kind of activity, but a fun one. I'm glad we have academic as well as athletic and social clubs here at Village.)

French Club

The goal of the French club has traditionally been to promote French speaking in the U.S., but there are several motivations involved. For instance, we are very concerned with a cultural atmosphere, as near as possible to that of our target language, and also with linguistic advancement among our members. We have been disciplined in tithing to French evangelists and missionaries. We hope to continue in excellence throughout this year and all the years to follow.

Mark Fairfield

This year, the French club was small, but our hopes were high and we stuck it out! It was an exciting year for me as president. I hope this trend will continue on to next year, and that the French club will grow!

To say that the Spanish Club is a good experience is very much an understatement. Throughout the year, the club does work for the community, in the fall, we visited a convalescent home. The club also frequents cultural restaurants. This year we went to Spanish, Mexican, Cuban, and Columbian restaurants. Lastly, the club plans fun filled outings. The two favorites among the members are the winter ski trip and the spring beach weekend. The 1985-86 school year has been much more than a good experience for the Spanish Club.

Math Club

Jazmin Aminian, Krista Andrews, Brian Aveni, Thea Balogh, Maureen Beck, John Bennett, Tad Benson, James Bohn, Jeannine Brown, Darlynn Campbell, Simone Cesh, Bettyann Chun, Jennifer Court, Laura Courtway, Renee Davis, Jane DeHaan (president), Maral Demirjian, Cari Dyer, Kurt Feder, Sharon Garver, David Gillispi, Julie Greco, Michelle Harris, Allisa Hemphill, Brad Hersh, Mary Jane Hibbard, Shannon House, David Johann, Lori Johann, Chris Johnson, Loren Jones, He-Jin Kim, He-Jung Kim, Judy Kim, Suzie Kumjian (vice-president), Jennifer Lynch, Michelle Macaya, Craig Massetto, Beth Miller, Ruben Murillo, Mike Murphy, Burton Nelson, Brian Paslay, Andy Peterson, Benjamin Peterson, Philip Platt, Julie Pruis, Marilyn Ravay, Kim Rinker, Gaby Riviello, Neyda Rodriguez, Joe Rodriguez, Gary Rovarino, Pam Shaar, Eric Stark, Diane Steinhart, Mark St. Laurent, Frank Suranyi, Julie Ann Thompson, Michelle Violet, Wendy Weeks, Michelle White, Beth Wilcoxson, Kristy Williams, Janine Yacoubian (secretary/treasurer), Karin Yoho, Scott Grolock, Thomas Giles, Ron Romberger, David Bates, Richard Lack, Jim Corbett, Mike Wagenveld, Mark Moss, Roland Rueber, Kurt Sederman, James Fairall, Sharon Walton, Kendie Sonesy, and John Fromel.

Why would students who spend a grueling 45 minutes in a math class sacrifice an entire lunch hour to take mind-boggling tests and to learn about topology? Not because we like topology or even tests, but because we want to promote math on campus and provide a service to other students through the tutoring program.

I think the best thing about Band this year was that we improved so much. We all got along just great. And although Mr. Wadin is a little crazy, so are we. That's why we all get along so well.

Lighthouse

Lighthouse has been a fantastic experience this year. Being a small group, we have become unified through our love for song. This bond has helped us to perform better and also to uphold each other. Miss Minkler's hard work and great talent have made us what we are. I believe this group has set a standard for all future groups like Lighthouse.

I remember the first year I came to Village Christian High School we had a seventh grade choir (for the first time) and an eighth through twelfth grade choir of thirteen. We've come a long way in a little over three years. We now have a seventh grade choral group of sixteen and a High School choir of thirty. Both the seventh choir and the Crusader Choir performed in the Thanksgiving program and the Christmas Concerts here at V.C.H.S. as well as the Spring Concerts. In addition they had opportunities to sing in convalescent homes and retirement centers in the area and ministered a lot of love to some wonderful people. It's exciting to see where God has brought us. I can hardly wait to see where we go from here!

"The King's Players" involves a select group of 14 enthusiastic drama fanatics and one willing Director. The troupe was established this year for three reasons: to further the drama skills of the students, for fellowship, and most importantly, to develop a better understanding of the creative God we serve. There is a commitment that seems to follow actors — they are willing to do the unlikely, give up the most important, and give away more than they think they can so that others can enjoy themselves and forget their cares. These students have done all of these things this year and more! Some of their repertoire has included the Bonfire, Junior-Senior High chapels and "An Evening Of Legitimate Theatre". I hope their work compels others to seek a theatre experience. I am proud to have been a part of their lives . . . They have touched mine and I have grown a little bit more in my passion for the theatre.

Their Director, Mrs. "B"

Science Club

The Science Club's 140 members are dedicated to the exploration of our natural world — scientific processes we've seen first hand through activities such as hiking, backpacking, star watching, and cross-country skiing. The Science Club will continue with expeditions through the summer months. In addition to learning, the Club also didn't avoid having fun. "Remember your Creator in the days of your youth." "Yes we are the writers!" exclaims the 1985-86 Journalism class, which supplies the school with an issue of the Crusader Chronicles each month. Mr. Gruss, into his second year as advisor, certainly motivated this group into moving in the right direction. Interviews, lay-outs and deadlines are all a part of the commitment each student is willing to hold. "Of course, when articles are due the pressure is on, but it is a good feeling of accomplishment when the newspaper is completed," says Selina Lucas. That's what this year's Journalism class is all about-working together, striving for a goal and accomplishing it!

Chapel Committee

I was surprised, but very pleased with the response we had to the Chapel Committee this year. Many more people were actively included in the committee this year than last year, and I think this shows a desire for chapels to go well and to be better than ever before.

Boys Letterclub

No, it is not just a place where jocks hang out and exchange battle stories. The 85-86 Boys Letterclub has a definite goal, leaving our campus something to remember us by. The Boys Letterclub is certainly one of the more exciting extracurricular activities at Village.

Student Council

A member of Student Council sees through eyes that are different than the average B-Hall roamer's. The Student Councilor knows he is a part of the Student Body, but understands he is not one of the many. He is not in an elevated position, just one that has pulled him aside from the rest. Granted, some members wish to go back to "one of the crowd," for there is no extra pressure or responsibility there. People ask if Leadership is a kick-back class. Leadership is not a class as defined by the Village Christian student, it is a daily meeting of the few who have been selected to perform services for their peers — the few who learn not from text but from hands-on experience, who understand not of gaining the concept of the ideas but of intimately learning the concept by personal experience.

STRICTLY ACADEMIC

Brian Easterling

Drew Martinson

The Society Of Distinguished American High School Students

"The Society's stringent academic standards in conjunction with its requirements ensure that membership is one of the most exclusive high school honors attainable.

"During the past 17 years, our goal has been to make the prospect of this membership an encouragement for top performance on the secondary school level. Over 1,110,000 students have been tapped for membership since 1968. "The Society accepts only those young people who have distinguished themselves as the nation's top achievers. They are representative of all ethnic, religious, and socio-economic groups in the United States. The Society combines the honor of membership with a National Awards Program which is sponsored by 130 colleges and universities. Since its inception, the Society's scholarship program — The National Awards Program — has become one of the largest of its kind in the country and is sponsored by many respected names in American education."
D.A.H.S.S. Newsletter

Being a member of the Society is as much a personal honor as it is a social and educational one. To be singled out among one's peers as worthy of membership is one of high school's high honors. Membership, along with the prospect of scholarships has always been a great incentive for working to one's fullest potential in educational as well as extra-curricular endeavors.

C.S.F. Seniors

In years past, the California Scholarship Federation has been known for its skip days and for its members' receiving free grades from Mrs. Bates. But, of course, there is more to C.S.F. than that. It is an organization that acknowledges and rewards those who excel in their academics through skip days, and provides scholarships for seniors who graduate as sealbearers.

A lot of people have heard of C.J.S.F. but do not know what its initials stand for. The full name for C.J.S.F. is California Junior Scholastic Federation. To become a member, the Jr. High student must maintain a 3.5 grade-point average, as well as receive nothing below an "S" in their Conduct-Effort grade.

The basic purpose of C.J.S.F. is to reward those students who excel in their academic pursuits. Once each semester, those students who have qualified for C.J.S.F. have the opportunity to go on a field trip. Also, for any student who has been a member of C.J.S.F. for at least 3 semesters, they may become a member of C.S.F. upon entering 9th grade. Who said doing your homework and studying for tests isn't fun?

Who's Who

"What does it take to be included in Who's Who Among American High School Students?" Specifically, they don't select students. They invite high schools, scholarship organizations and youth program sponsors to recommend students with a grade point average of 'B' or better and some involvement in school or community based activities. Some of the students have an 'A' average, some have a 'B' average, and some fall in between. Most importantly, virtually all have demonstrated solid, exemplary performance in their academic responsibilities.

It's the same with extracurricular activities. Some students are involved in numerous clubs, teams or programs, some students have time or interest for only one activity, and some fall in between. What matters most is the willingness to contribute, commit and to be involved for the benefit of the school, community or organization.

Academic Decathlon

The Academic Decathlon consists of 10 events- an essay, an interview, a speech, and seven tests covering a wide range of areas. It is not only a chance to demonstrate our level of academic ability and find areas in which we can improve ourselves, it also is a chance to make new friends, and grow closer to those we work with.

Kirstin Boudreau

One of the most inspiring experiences of my life was having the honor of representing my school in the Academic Decathlon. Six members were elected to the team, two for each of these categories: Honors, Scholastic, and Varsity. Over a period of six weeks we became very close friends. We participated in the contest on Nov. 16, 1985 at Brethren High School. There we took exams consisting of subjects such as English Literature, Essay, Social Science, Math, Physical Science, and Economics. Also we all gave a 4 minute speech. Then our tests were graded. Throughout most of the day, Village Christian was in the lead but after the Super Quiz we slipped into third place. Although we couldn't carry out the tradition of taking first place, our team still came out winners!

I was really glad to be elected to Senior Council. The experience was even better than I expected it to be. We spent much time planning fund raisers in order to pay for senior skip and our caps and gowns. We also planned certain activities with the Juniors. Among our other duties were the planning of the senior breakfast, designing and ordering the senior sweat-shirts, and of course, the production of the senior media. It's been fun and I'm glad I had a chance to be part of it.

Eric Stark

Being a member of the Senior Council was a great experience. It was fun to plan activities for the Seniors and to raise money for senior skip and caps and gowns. Getting ready to graduate has been an experience I'll never forget.

Junior Class Council

The Junior Class Council has had a terrific year. We worked hard to produce the Junior - Senior Banquet and perhaps more importantly, to serve and to motivate the Junior Class itself. As this eventful year comes to a close, we would like to thank some very special people: Mrs. Rhodes and the entire high school office staff for all their valuable help and for not "charging rent", Mrs. Cran and Mrs. Nesmith for coming through in those times of need, Mrs. Parker for the use of the Home Ec. facilities, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Parker for their approval and support of Junior activities, the Maintenance Department for their cooperation, the teachers without whose aid many activities wouldn't have succeeded, and a very special thanks to Miss Floyd for being our advisor, as well as a source of encouragement and friendship. Last, but far from least, we thank the Juniors: they've been enthusiastic, hard working, and supportive. We are proud and consider it an honor to have been elected to and to have served as their Council.

Student Body, let's remember 'crusin' through the 50's - hop in my fifties car and cruise through the year. On the left, look, Lighthouse singing on the shield, the Junior class car rally, the powder-puff football game. On the right, oh my, how beautiful it's "An Evening of Elegance". How fun, the Junior/Senior Banquet. Oh and of course, look at the sign "The Diary of Anne Frank" - the play. Uh oh - running low on gas, shoot, does this campus have diesel?

Jazmin Aminian

This years Student Council has put on some extravagant activities that seem to get better every time. The Bonfire and Homecoming activities were first on the agenda. The Bonfire was a success and more people attended this years than last year. The theme was 50's and the maintenance and Student Council built a terrific setting with an Arnold's Restaurant, a DJ booth, and a hamburger stand where food was actually sold, all surrounded by cars of old. The evening proceeded with smoothness and quality and was fun for all. The Homecoming game didn't go well for Varsity, but the princesses were crowned as well as the queen.

Next on the list was the Banquet, which occurred on April 1 at the Woodland Hills Marriot. The Marriot had just been opened for the elegant event. Hard work was put into the arrangements and the entertainment and it turned out to be an exciting evening. Entertainment was provided by a magician.

The end of the year was coming close and students were beginning to burn out so next came our sequel to "No Burn Out Day". It was called "No Jackets Required" day. Classes stopped at lunch and then began the fun. The attire was casualness, which included shorts and cool tops. Paul Aldrich led the show with his crazy antics and his fun filled guitar.

On to elections. The new Student Council was chosen and that wrapped up the year. It was a fun year and a lot of hard work was put into it. Student council is here and always will be for the students.

Jordan Nedeff

This years activities such as the bonfire, spirit week and homecoming were very exciting.

At the bonfire, the drama group did very well considering the failure in the sound system.

Spirit week brought out everyone's true personality like Nerd Day, when Pat Bradley displayed his natural abilities to be a nerd by winning first place in the nerd race.

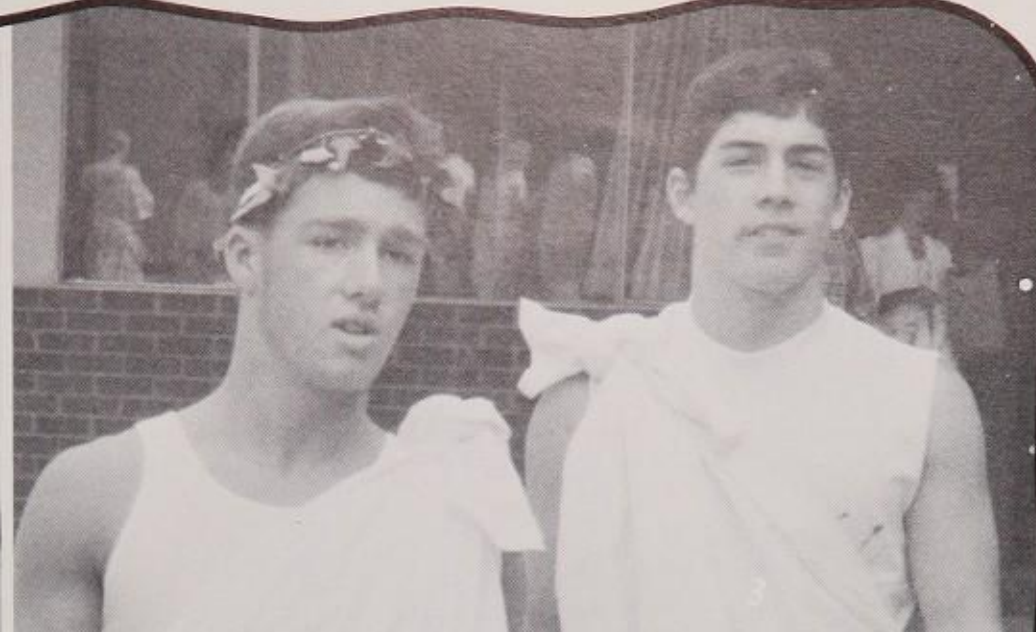

Homecoming was very disappointing since Varsity lost their game but J.V. was a different story. The players pleased the fans with a powerful demolition of their opponents with an amazing score of 32-0.

The student council, led by Miss Reid, did a great job in organizing this years activities. Thanks to all of the Student Council members.

Spirit Week

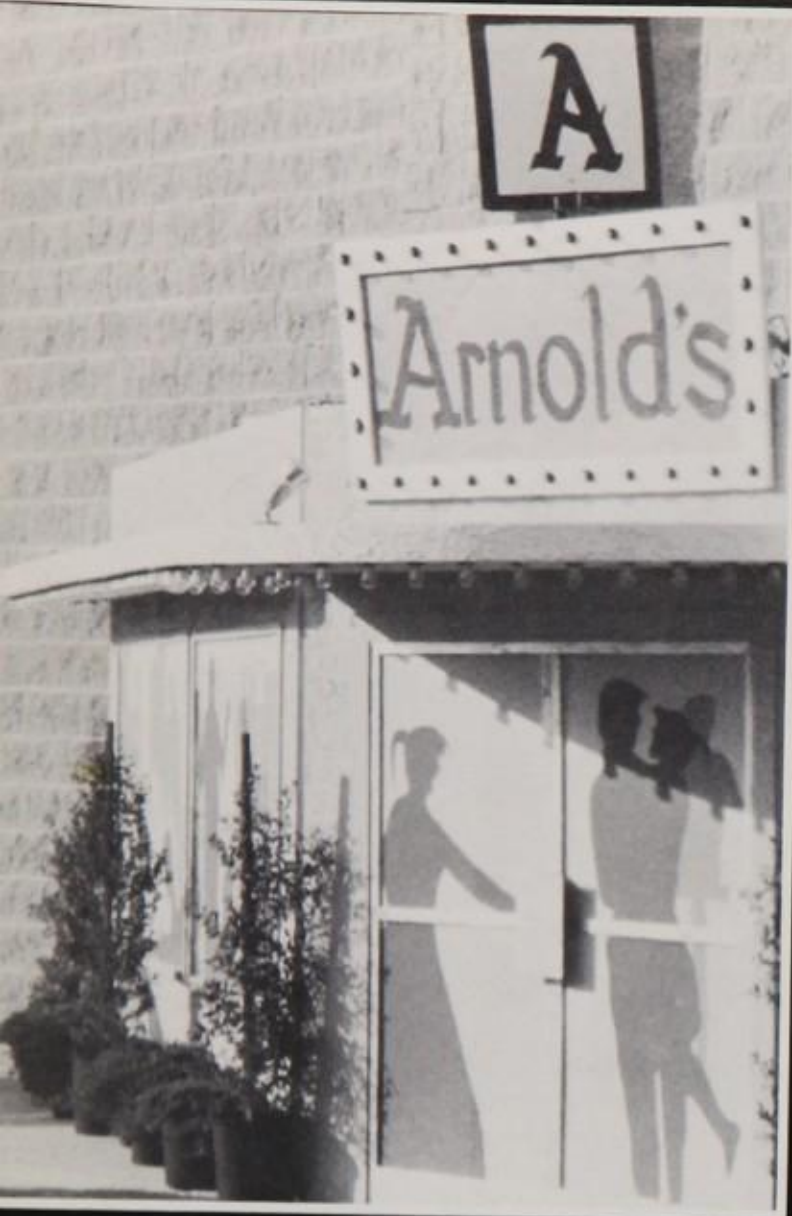

Every year towards the end of football season, a week is set aside for Village students to show their "true colors". This year, they emerged in their various class colors, as nerds, as ancient Greeks, as youngsters in the fifties, and in their school colors. All of these days were not just for fun but they edified our spirit for the Homecoming game at the end of the week.

Bonfire

The Bonfire is a night that is anxiously awaited by everyone. And this year's was exceptionally good. With the theme being the 50's, maintenance outdid themselves with the decorations — an "old time" food stand complete with roller-skating waitresses, a 50's looking restaurant front, as well as music and cars from the 50's really set the mood. Several students even dressed according to the theme. But the fun didn't stop at the decorations. The entertainment consisted of several 50's related activities. An Elvis Presley impersonator started off the evening with a life-like performance. The afterschool drama group "The Kings Players" debut kept up theme of the evening with an excellent performance of the 1950's television show that we all love — "Leave It To Beaver". The Cheerleaders, Drill Team, and Football team participated in the entertainment as well. The Homecoming Court with their escorts were introduced to us, and there were several door prizes handed out. The Bonfire was a night filled with much action, excitement, and fun. Perhaps it was the best we've ever had.

The 1985 Bonfire was a complete success. The theme, "cruisin' through the 50's" made it especially enjoyable for the parents, while the students had a good time too. The evening consisted of many different skits from the students and teachers, but Elvis Presley really stole the show.

The maintenance crew, along with Student Council, made this fun event really work. The 1985 Bonfire will surely be remembered and next year's will be anticipated with high expectations.

Thanksgiving Assembly

This years Thanksgiving assembly was one of the best here at Village. It's the only time during the year that the whole school can join together as one.

Mr. Woodcock started things off by welcoming the student body. Stacey Wood and I read scripture and opened up in a word of prayer. The students were then treated to songs with an in-unison reading of Psalm 100 by the Primary Dept. Michelle Morgan led us in flag salutes, and Jazmin Aminian introduced the main speaker: Rev. Steve Gould.

Rev. Gould is the pastor of Emmanuel Evangelical Free Church. For our assembly he spoke on the true meaning of giving thanks. The students really seemed to accept his message.

The best part of the assembly was the donation of a California State Flag to the school by State Assemblyman Katz. The flag itself will be given by Village to the Omi Brotherhood School, our sister school in Japan. The program had a strong positive message that was well accepted. The Thanksgiving assemblies will be a big part of the school year for many years to come.

Homecoming '85-'86

Princess Suzie Kumjian

I don't know what to say ... I'm speechless! It was definitely an honor and I know that night holds a lot of memories for me.

Princess Michelle Morgan

I was quite honored to be on the 1985 Homecoming Court and that night was one of the most exciting evenings of my life! Dad, thank you for sharing it with me ... I love you!

Princess Jazmin Aminian

The reason I felt so honored and complemented was because this was given to me by the class of '86. I think that is special. Seniors, I love you.

Princess Janine Yacoubian

Being a princess- WOW! What an experience! It was one I never thought I would be a part of, and as I look back now, it all seems like it was just a dream. And it was a dream, a dream come true.

Princess Kristy Williams

Princess Lori Dieudonne

Gosh- it's so hard to describe in words how I feel. Being on the 1985 Homecoming Court was one of the most exciting things that has ever happened to me. To the class of '86, thanks for an excellent year.

... It was a special experience especially because I was able to share it with my best friends. I want to thank the seniors for the fun and exciting memories. Congratulations Queen Wendy.

Queen Wendy Asfar

Looking back on the night of Homecoming, one incident stands out clearly in my mind. It was half-time and the princesses were told to meet at the gate. Lori Dieudonne and I were standing at the fan gate waiting for the other girls. We were getting nervous because none of the girls were showing up. We thought that they were late or something. It was almost time for us to be announced. At the last minute, I happened to see Suzie through the crowd, and Lori and I rushed over and saw the rest of the girls. I couldn't imagine what would of happened if I hadn't seen Suzie when I did.

Then came the exciting moment when they announced the Queen. When they announced my name, I couldn't believe this was happening to me. A special feeling came over me when Louisa Carriaga crowned me, and when I looked over to my family they had tears in their eyes.

This special memory will become a landmark when I look back on my Senior year.

Crumbacher

Wendy Asfar, Tiffany Taylor, and Jani Godsey

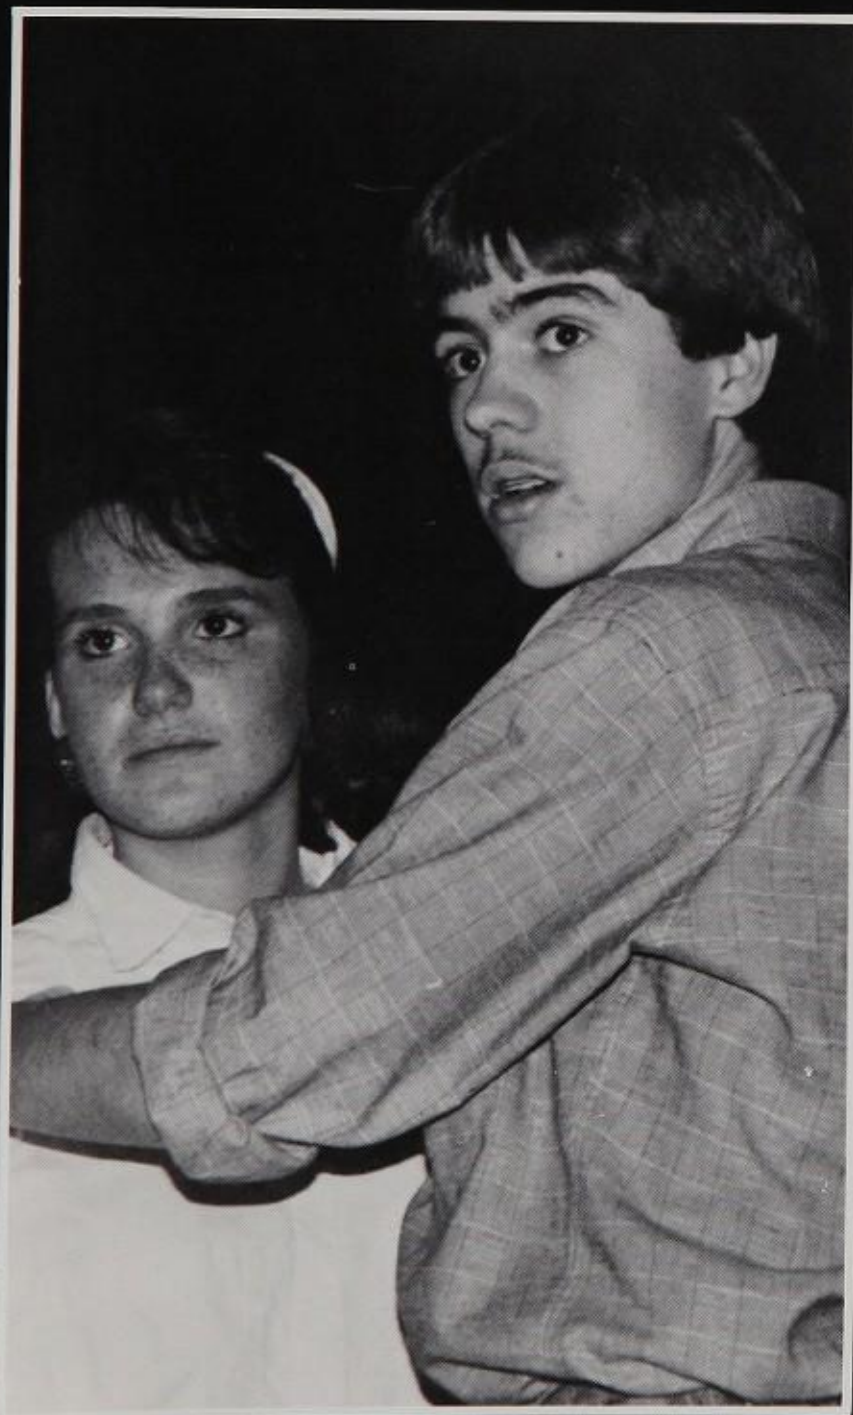

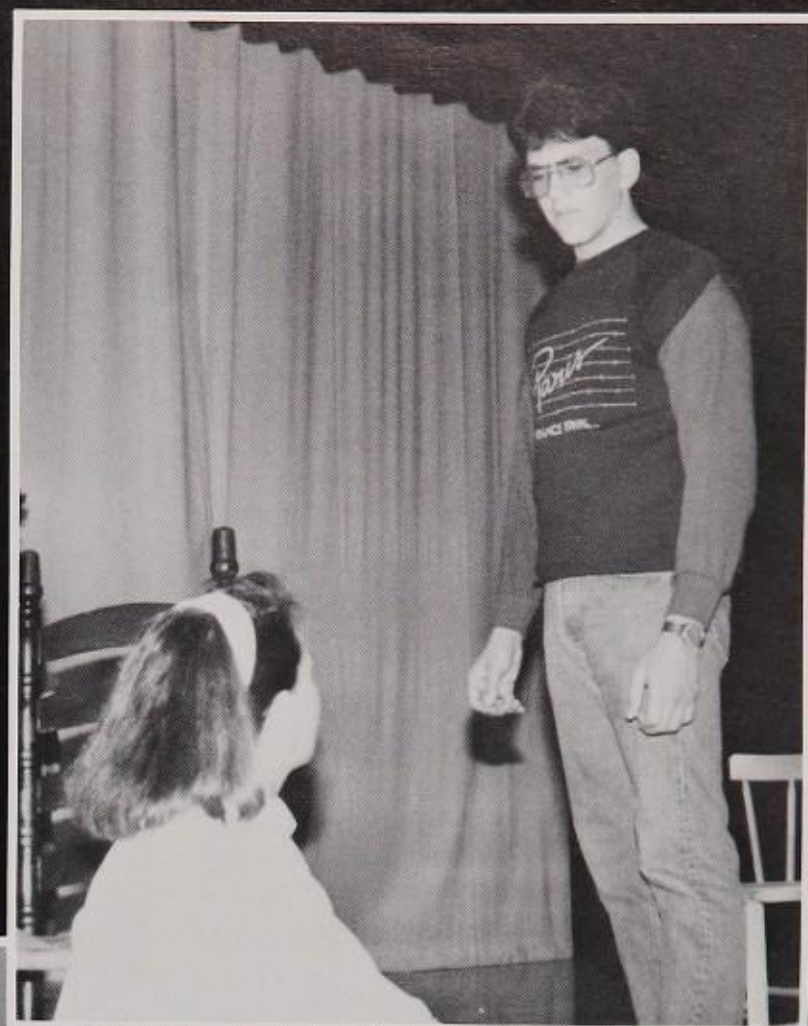

Stacey Rawal and Nicole Halbrook

The crumbacher concert was an unusual occurrence here at Village this year (even though it wasn't at Village). But regardless of the fact that it wasn't in the gym, we had a lot of fun doing something different. Thanks, Mr. Woodcock and Board, for providing us with a wonderful time.

Spring Play

There just aren't words to express how much time and labor was invested in the making of the Spring Play. So I won't talk about the sweat and the pain — the miseries. I'll talk about the pleasant, the wonderful, the gracious moments.

There was a small cast of ten actors: Kelly Wood, Janine Yocoubian, Eric Stark, Val Boss, Wendy Cabrera, Rick Plamondon, Scott Plamondon, Scott Grolock, Lisa Mosier, and Mark Fairfield; directed by the one, the only Dir. Melea Brock, who was assisted by her aspiring young director, Asst. Dir. Vickie Boss. We were graced by the presence and endless aid and support of our Stage Manager, Mike Murphy, his stage crew, the sound crew, light crew, make-up crew, dressers, and so many others whom we thank and appreciate greatly. So many of our school became a part of the process, and they all deserve to be individually recognized. But for now, let's just say "Thanks all!"

The Spring Play is not just a "Drama Production." It is a school play, and the whole school has become a part of its process.

Mark Fairfield

I wait twenty minutes at a bus stop to ride a bus full of people. I get home one hour later and do meaningless homework.

Jim Corbett

After school I either go to Cross-Country, Soccer, or Track practice. I get home, eat my dinner, and if it's my turn, I do dishes. Then I head for my room and do homework until dawn. On weekends, I usually have a sports event or I work at home. Sundays, I spend at church and try to relax.

Mike Wagenveld

When I get out of school, I think of how many more days of the week I have to go, and I get depressed. I go home, drop off my brother and go to work. After work I get home at six, eat my dinner, do my homework and if I have time, I watch a little television and go to bed — only to wake up and do the same thing all over again.

Lorie Cruz

During the week, homework takes up a lot of my time too much. But, I find time for other things. I babysit a lot and talk to my wonderful friends on the phone — like Jill Vunder, and my charming boyfriend. On the weekends, I go to work, go out with friends, and babysit sometimes.

Cari Dyer

When I get out of school, I go home to do homework for two hours and then I go to swimming practice for two hours. On the weekend nights I go out with my friends, and on Sundays, I teach Sunday School.

Tom Giles

On the weeknights I usually come from school and go to work, my friend comes over and we go out, or I work on my car. On the weekends, I sometimes work during the day and at night I go to the street races or out cruising around with my friends. It's fun, I guess. What else is there to do? I like to draw a lot, and I like to go motorcrossing.

Bart Barber

After school, Jill goes to work and Kristi goes to practice. Then, either Kristi goes to Jill's or Jill goes to Kristi's. Sometimes Kristi cooks Chris some wonderful, breathtaking gourmet meals, (sometimes Jill helps . . . secretly.) Jane Fonda joins them after their dinner each day as they stumble through another session of that calorie-burning workout. Tired and wornout, they go their separate ways to go to bed, only to face yet another day of this vicious circle.

Back in the tenth grade riding on the school bus, we swore that we would never take the bus in eleventh and twelfth grade. Well, here we are, juniors and seniors, and some of us are still taking the bus. The majority of us though, have reached our goal in life—to own our own car. Some prefer little town cruisers, while others prefer fire breathing, nitro burning, quarter mile material. No matter what category you fall in, anything is better than taking the bus.

Mornings

It's already twenty minutes to eight, and where is your friend with the homework you should of have done last night?

Yes, it's another bright day on an early Monday morning. See all the students, see how happy they are to be here? Everyone is so nice and cheery in the morning - each student full of energy and excitement, each ready to begin a new day, everyone looking forward to that bright shining face of their first period teacher.

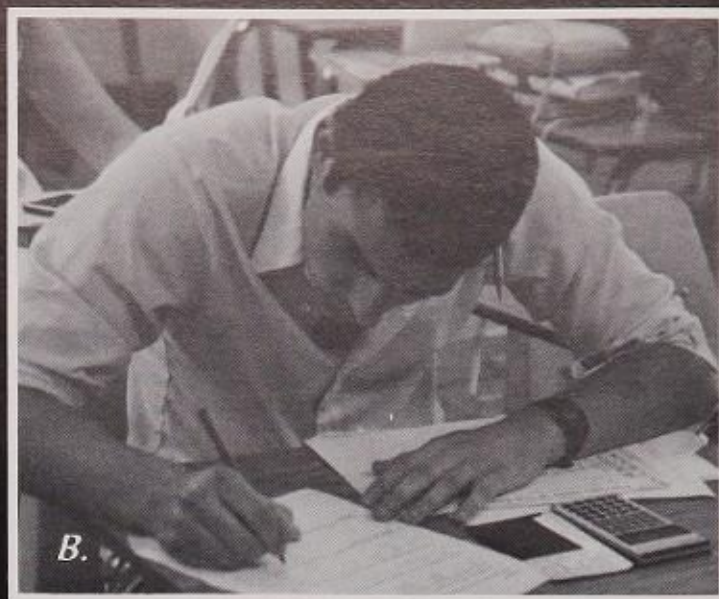

Mornings at Village are great! Everyone is always courteous in the parking lot always yeilding the right of way.

On the more serious side, how about Mrs. DeYoung? Had trouble explaining why you've been late to first period two weeks in a row?

Oh yes, nothing can beat this picturesque setting of a Village Christian School morning.

Finals

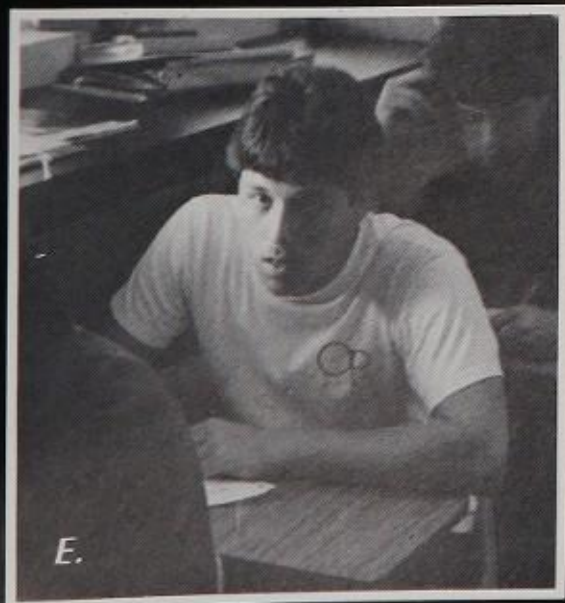

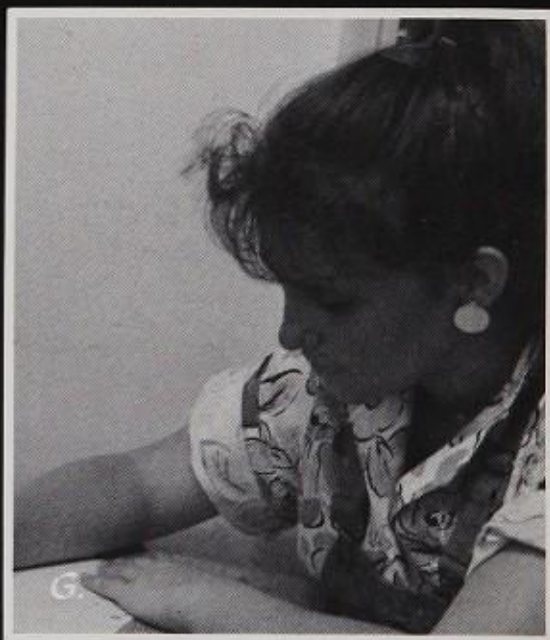

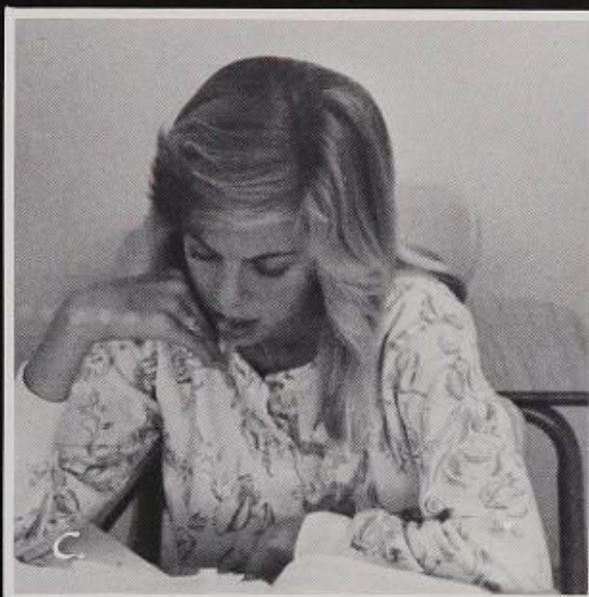

Finals! The very word evokes terrified responses from students. Sweaty palms, palpitating hearts, blank minds, shaking hands — all are symptoms of a disease that becomes an epidemic at a semester's end.

Attitudes toward finals are generally the same. Nobody likes them. Teachers don't like writing, proctoring, or grading them and students don't like studying for or taking them.

Why have finals? For the teacher, it's an opportunity to evaluate how well they have taught. For the student, it's an opportunity to demonstrate how much they've learned. But this doesn't do much to improve our attitudes.

Ideally, a student should anticipate and enjoy the challenge of a final. Viewed with this attitude, a final examination is like a puzzle to be solved, where one matches wits against an unseen opponent. In I Corinthians 10:31, we are exhorted to "Do all to the glory of God." Could this mean that we are to have the "glorifying God" attitude towards a final exam? What a novel idea! Maybe it's worth a try.

SENIORITIS

I can't take much more of this. Everyday I tell myself that I'm not going to be driven out of my mind, abused, tortured, chastized, enthralled, and pummeled into oblivion by the hours and days and weeks and months and years and decades and centuries ... (okay, so I'm over-doing it a bit) ... of waiting and suffering and biting my fingers and pulling out my hair until that great and wonderful day when I'll walk across that long endless platform toward that giver of life and sustenance — my diploma. Need I go on? All right ... I feel like toothpaste in one of those new fangled pumps, unable to escape and be unloosed to clean the big white teeth of Uncle Sam. See what Senioritis does? It makes me delirious, so that I don't understand what I'm saying, or what I'm thinking or meaning or breathing or ...

Why should I go on? Why should I inflict this fatal disease on any one else? Why should I continue to expose what lies ahead for all the Juniors who slumber, unaware that soon they too will have the symptoms of this wretched disease.

Between you and me ... this is what makes Senioritis so fun. You don't have to pretend to be crazy ... you just have to be a Senior ...

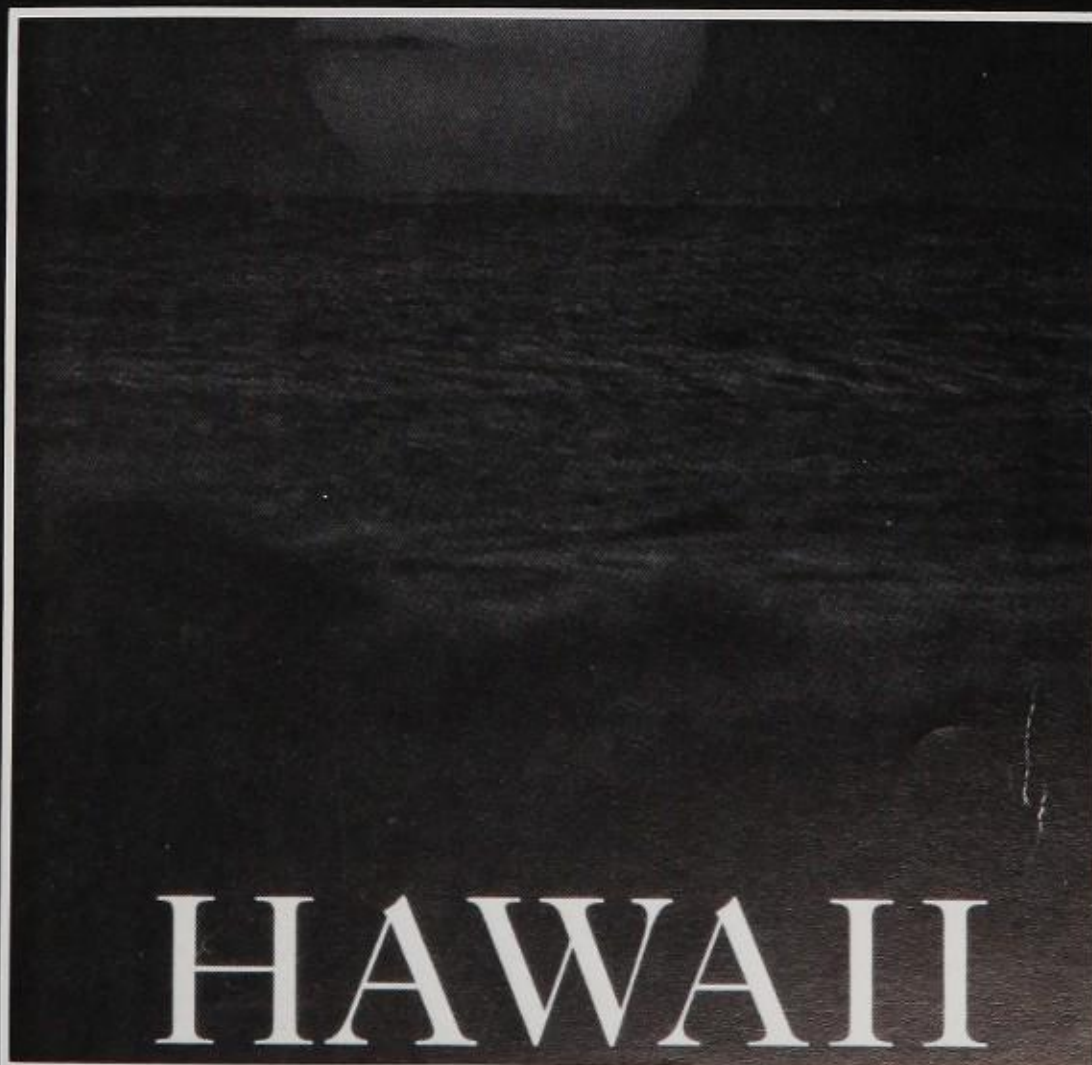

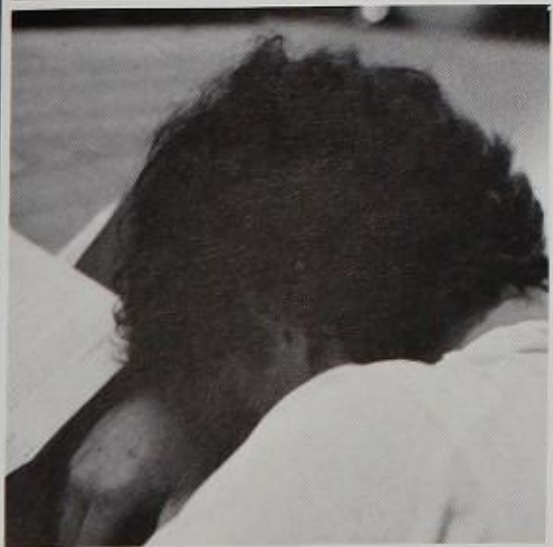

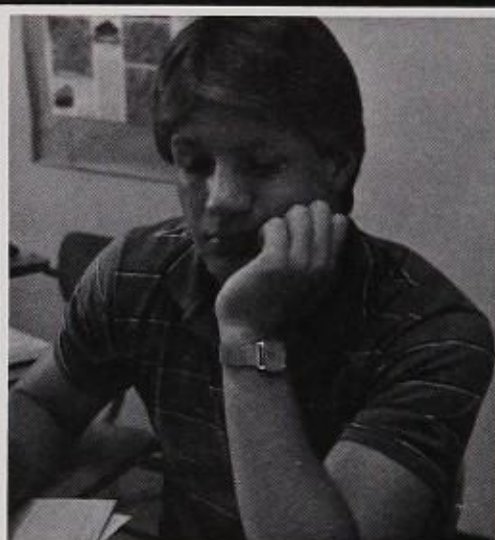

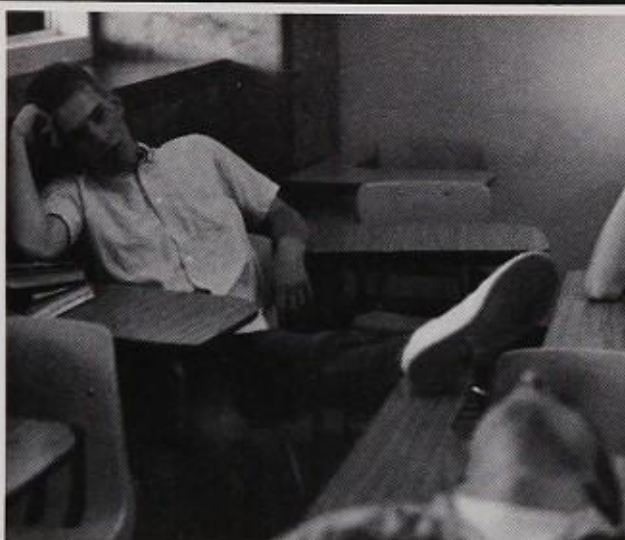

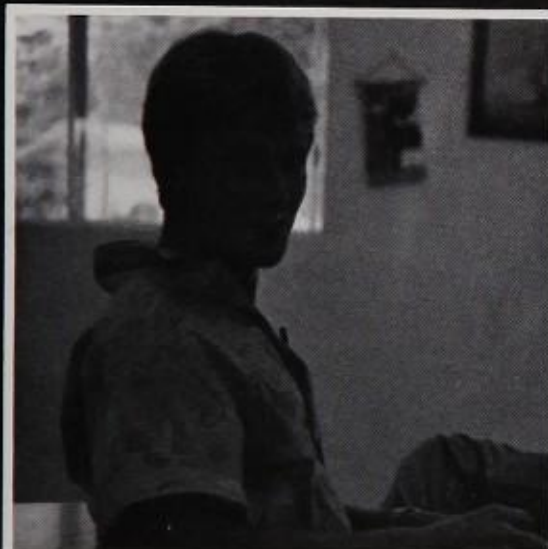

I'm a caterpillar in a cocoon- I'm a yoke in an egg, a tree in a seed, ink in a pen — I've got to get out. No, even better, I'm Lynard Skyward's "Freebird". That's it ... I've gotta spill, grow and flow ... It's time to fly — hey, let's all get on our Magic Buses and not look back because, after all, the past was good, but the future holds only better.

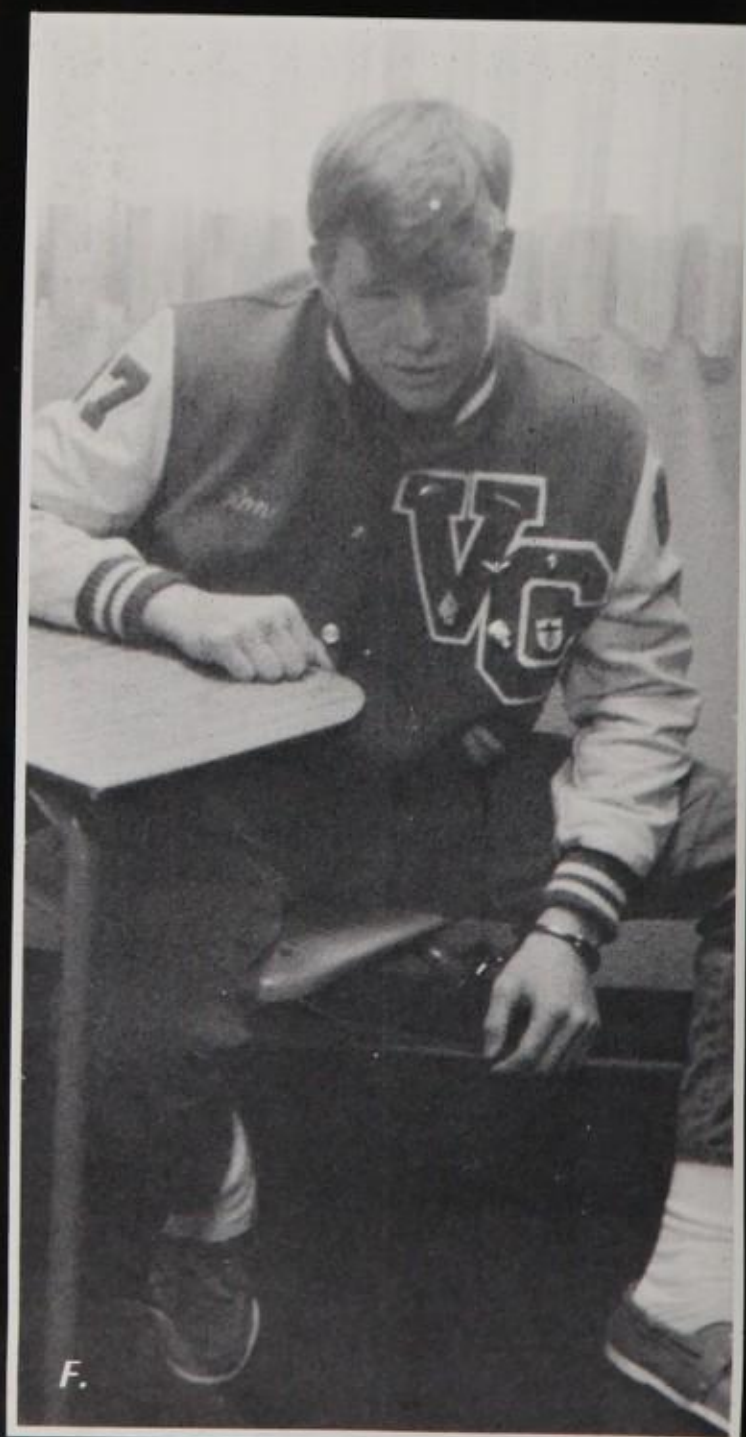

"When is the day going to end?" That is the way the Senior thinks during Government or any other class that requires thinking. Their unofficial motto is "one day at a time," which relates to their official motto "Destined to Overcome," each day. They are seniors who have been afflicted by Senioritis.

I've recently heard many Juniors complaining of Senioritis. That is the most ridiculous attempt at facade I've ever heard. It should be common knowledge that what they have is Junioritis, which is only a secondary complex of Senioritis.

Style

style/sti(e)l/n [ME stile, style, fr. L stilus, style of writing:] a distinctive or characteristic manner, a fashionable mode of life, overall excellence, skill, or grace in performance, manner, or appearance.

While the students at Village may be much like the students at any other school, they possess a quality all their own. It shows not only in the way they look, but ultimately in the way they live. Village students aren't afraid to express their taste, their sense of humor, or their individuality. In short, they've got STYLE!

Best Friends

Best friends are a part of everybody's lives. Who else do you go to tell a secret to, to talk over a problem with, or just to be with? Not only should best friends be loyal and trustworthy, but they should be encouragers, people who help in difficult situations. A best friend is someone with whom you can laugh and cry, will accept you for who you are. John 15:13 tells us "Greater love has no man than this, than to lay down one's life for his friends."

Nightlife

The High School Students of Village Christian do many things to pass time during the night. School pressures work the students as they dream about their Friday and Saturday night rendezvous. At football and basketball games the students cheer on their alma mater. Following these games they get together and go to Shakey's, Bob's, or any other place which serves "edible food." The students also pass their time going to movies and bowling. In all, Village students make the most of their nightlife.

Junior High Activities

Junior High activities have undergone significant changes this year. The Senate had officer elections in September for the positions of President, Vice-President, Secretary-Treasurer, and Chaplain. The Senate itself also expanded from 6 senators to 11. Some of this year's other activities included apple-bobbing, pie eating, "Warm Fuzzies Week," Skate nites and finished off with "IP" day in May. The Junior High students involved in school activities are enthusiastic, hard workers who definitely add to the quality of Junior High life.

Sophomore Social

This year for the first time, a VCS Sophomore Class got together for an evening social. The class of 1988, led by our Sophomore representatives, put on the event at the Shadow Hills Family Restaurant with the help of a few other classmates. The main attractions at the event were a Sophomore media, put on with the help of Mr. Stage and Roger Gorke, and a band consisting of Village students.

Sophomore bests were as follows: best couple-Greg Spahr and Gina Katsandris, best smile-George Dieudonne and Cindy Cabrera, prettiest eyes-Royce Farrar and Michelle Viole't; best dressed-George Dieudonne and Michelle Macaya; funniest-David Bates and Seanda Daily; best looking-Royce Farrar and Megan Guder; most likely to succeed-David Bates and Michelle Battson.

The evening was filled with fun and excitement as the Class of '88 set new traditions and made Village history.

When a person is administrator of a high school it means that in some way, no matter how small or great, everything becomes his responsibility. Since it is impossible for any one person to fulfill such a job, he builds an administrative team that works with him to accomplish a common goal.

I am fortunate to have an excellent team that is working with me to make Village Christian the very best high school possible.

OUR DEAREST GABY

Since the moment you were born, you have filled our lives with joy and happiness.

Through the 17 years of your life, you have given us so many reasons to be very proud of you; you are everything a parent could wish for in a daughter!

Now you have conquered high school with your intelligence and hard work. As you prepare to leave Village and enter the grown-up world, we just want to tell you: Life is not simple, but we will be close to you always, to love, help, and support you.

May the Lord bless you.

with all our love
Mom and Dad.

Dear Sis,

Ever since you held me, in my baby blues, I knew you were my sister true, who would care for me every time Mom and Dad left for a moment or two.

You are also a great friend, and my affection for you will never end.

Now you are going to a university, whether it be far away or near by, my heart will always be by your side.

Love,
Your little sis,
Robert

Dearest Wendy,

Watching you grow for the past few years at Village has been an experience and life time joy that few parents can enjoy.

Your spiritual growth in knowing our Lord is the one we're most proud of. He blesses us with many special things throughout our lives, but the one blessing we're most thankful for is you, our first born.

Now as you are ready to leave Village, continue to put your trust in our Lord to guide you through all obstacles of life.

We love and cherish you,
Mom, Dad, Regina, and Baby?

If I could give you one thing, I would give you the ability to see yourself as others see you. You are truly a "Special Sister" but most of all you are a "Special Friend."

I love you,
Reg

Kristy Lee (My Dear Sweet Sister),

Congratulations on this your graduation day. Now I realize you are a big girl now and know what you have to do to make all your dreams come true, but please remember I am still your big brother and I will always be happy to fill that spot in your life.

As a great man said a long time ago "Never shall I forget the days which I spent with you ..."

Continue to be my friend as you will always find me yours.

May The Lord Always Bless Your Life
Love You Always
Bryan & Sylvia

Dear Kristy,
You are so special to me and I am very proud to be your one and only sister. We pray that the Lord will continue to bless your life with lots of happiness and success. Your love for Christ has always been an inspiration to our family.
You can do all things through Him.

Love 'ya,
Gregg and Missy

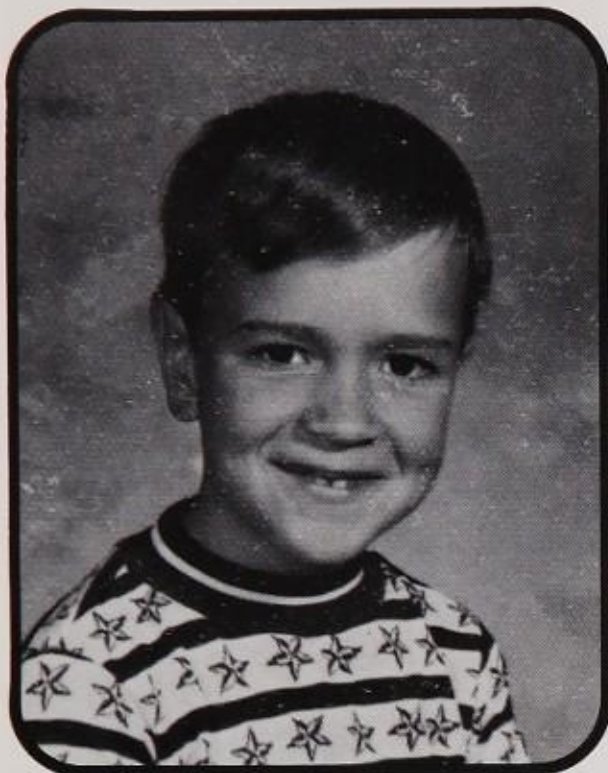

Kristy,

It seems such a short time since we held you in our arms, you were so tiny and beautiful and such a blessing to us, the youngest of our three children. You have filled such an emptiness in our lives as your brother and sister have left our home to start their own families.

Your Dad and I know the Lord walks with you, we can see it in your smile, and in the joy that you bring into the lives of so many.

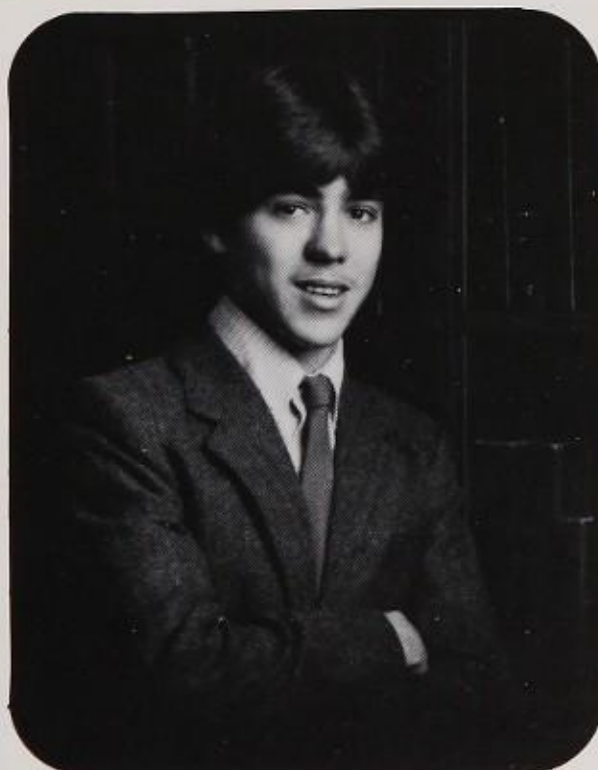

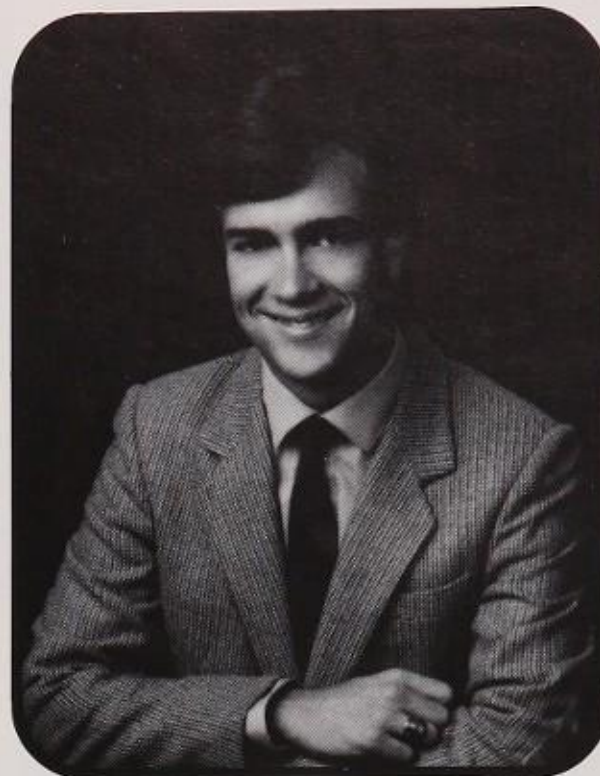

We just want you do know that we love the woman you're becoming, as we loved you at birth. We hope you continue to grow tempering your strength with softness, your daring with thoughtfulness, your courage with care, for yourself and others. May you achieve your dreams in an ever-widening circle of Love.

May You Always Walk in the Lords Light
Love, Mom & Dad

CONGRATULATIONS

Dear Steven,
How quickly the years have passed since your first day in kindergarten, and here you are, a young man, graduating from high school. It's so hard to find the right words to tell you how much happiness you have brought into our lives, and how very proud we are of you. With God's help, and your faith, we are sure your future will be filled with happiness and success. All Our Love Always,
Mom and Dad
Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart.

*Dear Rick,
In six years at Village, you have truly learned integrity and courage.
We are proud to call you "son".
Love Mom and Dad*

Dearest Mary,

Thank you so much for all of the joys and pleasures that you have brought to us through the years. We are very proud of you. You have truly been a special gift to us from God. May He continue to bless and guide you through the future.

*Love Always,
Mom & Dad*

Pumpkin,

Reflecting back on the day you were born seems like yesterday. Now here you are graduating from high school. Time sure flies when you're sharing it with someone you love and are so proud of.

We congratulate you and wish you the very best in the future to come.

*Love You Always,
Frank, Bob,
Kimi & Kristi*

Mary,

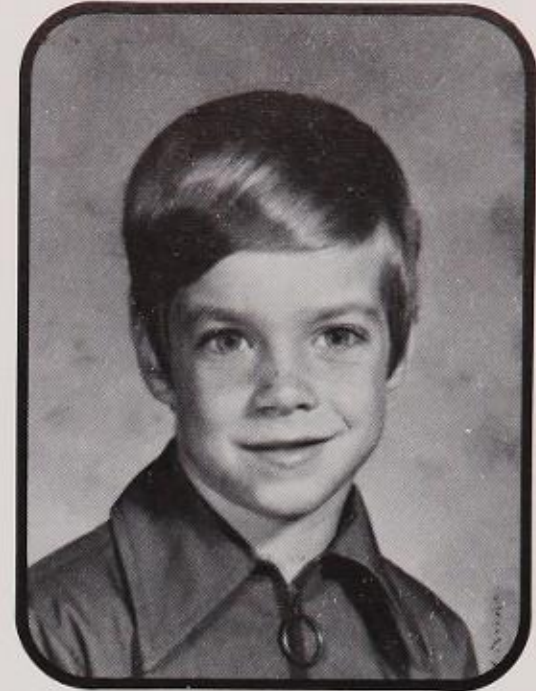

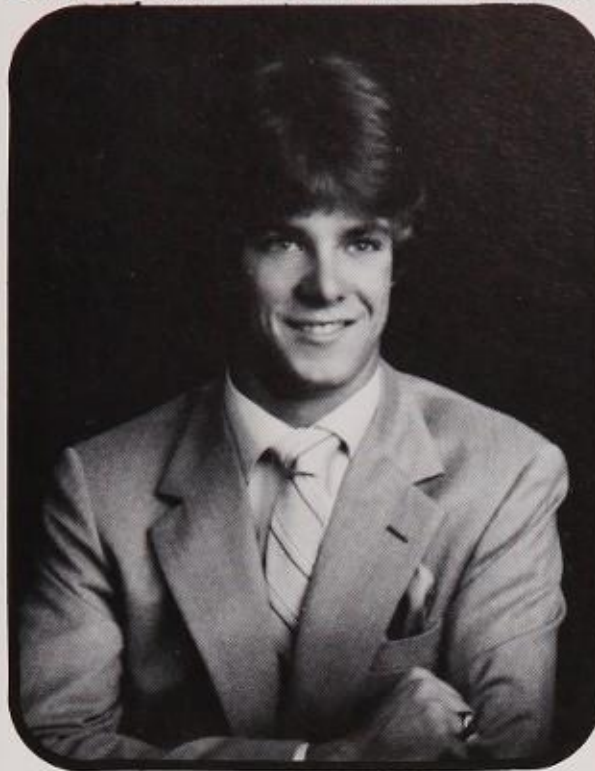

It seems like just yesterday you were a little baby. Now look, you are all grown up and have become a loving, caring person. You will never know how much you mean to us. We are so proud of you. You are truly the best anyone could ask for in a sister.

*Keep up the good work,
We love you,
Joie, Donna,
Christina, Matthew, William*

*God bless you always,

CONGRATULATIONS DARRYL!

Our 'D',

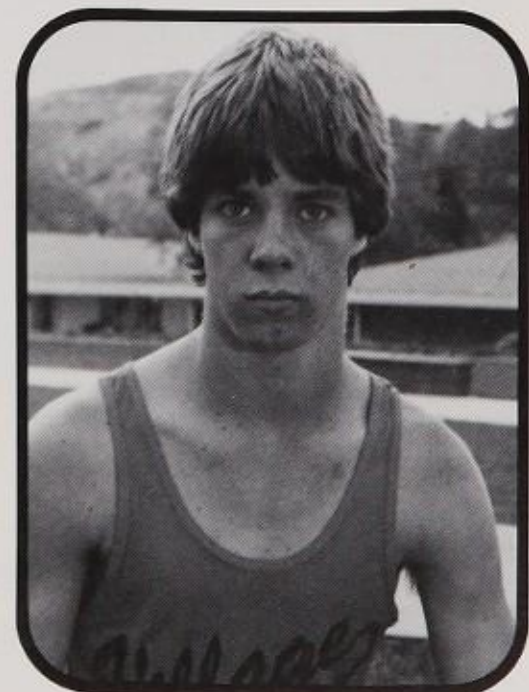

As we reflect back over the years . . . how quickly those years have gone . . . we remember the precious times that we have shared. We are so very proud of you, we want you to know how much we love you and thank you for the happiness and joy you have brought to us.

Our prayer is that you always love and serve the Lord and remember to put God first in your life.

And wish for truth to stand you tall.
Please remember, in your heart
Pangs and facts go hand in hand.
In the long path of your life,
Narrow ways you'll always find.
Endless pains you'll overcome
So much more you'll have to learn
Spend some time, then you'll know how.

Join those times of precious moments.
Age of goals and water colors.
Zealous heart keep tender places.
Moods when dreams and new illusions
In your mind have their own paces.
Now and always no reverses-no reverses.

Dear Brian,
You have given us much joy and happiness as we watched you grow from a little boy to a fine young man who loves the Lord. Sometimes you stumbled, but then you just picked yourself up and went on. Life isn't easy. You have to work hard to reach your goals. Our prayer is that you will always put God first in your life. We love you and are very proud of you, especially now with you in your senior year and trying to keep a part-time job so you can keep the car you worked so hard for. May God richly bless you as you go through life doing His will.

TO DEBBIE CHATHAM'S FUTURE

*A new day dawns in your young life
And opportunity abounds;
The roots of God and growth are there
And fill all Life's sweet sounds.*

*The time is fast approaching now,
When choices you must make;
Their consequences, it's too true,
Will be all yours to take.*

*But all you have to do, dear Deb,
Is open up your mind
To Life's true source that is within
And take His fruit in kind.*

*We love you more than you will know
And always will be near
Whene'er you need our guiding minds,
Our arms to ease the fear.*

*It would be nice to say that we,
As parents, never failed.
But then you wouldn't be the same;
Your growth would be curtailed.*

*So look upon events of past
As guides for growth once more;
Erase them, then, as we have done,
And look toward future's door.*

*We truly feel that we were blessed
Beyond our fondest dreams
When God gave you and Cyndi life;
His trust was high, it seems.*

*A little girl you are no more,
And grown you're not quite yet.
But all the roots for big success
Are in your mind, and set!*

*With All Our Love,
Mother and Dad*

DESIDERATA

GO PLACIDLY AMID THE NOISE & HASTE, & REMEMBER WHAT PEACE THERE MAY BE IN SILENCE. AS FAR AS POSSIBLE WITHOUT surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly & clearly; and listen to others, even the dull & ignorant; they too have their story. Avoid loud & aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain & bitter; for always there will be greater & lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans. Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism. Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity & disenchantment it is perennial as the grass. Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue & loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees & the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should. Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be, and whatever your labors & aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. With all its sham, drudgery & broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

Salli Ann Shake

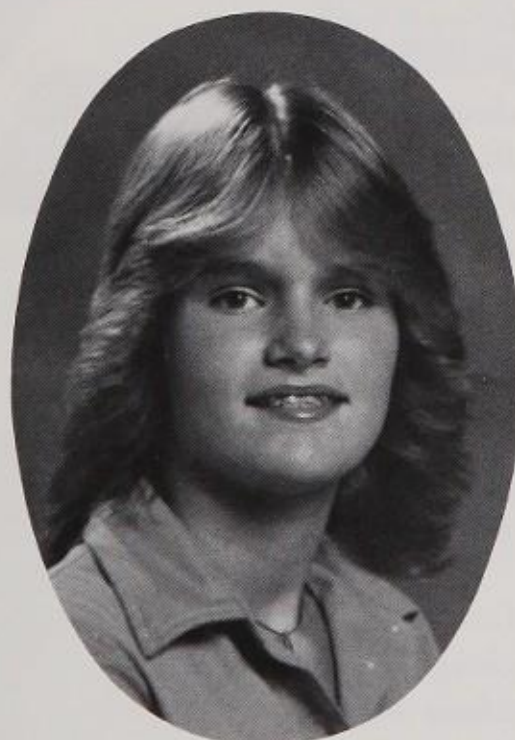

Salli,

Congratulations! We are so proud of you. It's hard to believe the time has passed so quickly. We have watched you grow from dolls to tomboy to a young lady. We are very proud of you. You have been struggling for your independence and we have been struggling for the strength to give it to you. Now the time has come for you to leave Village and many of your friends. It is both a sad and happy time. You will look back and understand the times when Mom and Dad were so hard on you that it was all a part of the process of growing up.

Thank you for sharing these years and your friends with us.

Remember, above all else we love and care for you, and will be there when you need us.

*God Bless,
Mom and Dad*

Congratulations Tiffany!

I am so proud of the young woman you've become - so full of compassion, love and kindness. It is my prayer that your dedication to Christ grows in love as you walk with him. Always remember - "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."

May God continue to watch over you and keep you in the Palm of his hand.

Loving you my darling with the love of the Lord.

Your Mom Rachel and Erin

Dear Bettyann,

From the day you were born you brought joy into our lives. You mean so much to us, we are proud to call you our granddaughter and daughter. Our prayers are that you will always put Christ first in your life. We love you very much.

Richard,

Only God knows how deep is my love and longing for you-with the tenderness of Jesus Christ. My prayer for you is that you will overflow more and more with love for others, and at the same time keep on growing in spiritual knowledge and insight, for I want you always to see clearly the difference between right and wrong, and to be inwardly clean, no one being able to criticize you from now until our Lord returns.

May you always be doing those good, kind things which show that you are a child of God, for this will bring much praise and glory to the Lord. Phill:8-II

For Jim Corbett:

Just a note to say how much we have enjoyed these almost 18 years. You have been one of the special reasons that we have so many fond memories. From here on out you'll be taking the lead and becoming stronger in your own right. You'll be less apt to follow, so we would just like to walk by your side and hold out a hand when needed.

A WISH FOR YOU, SON

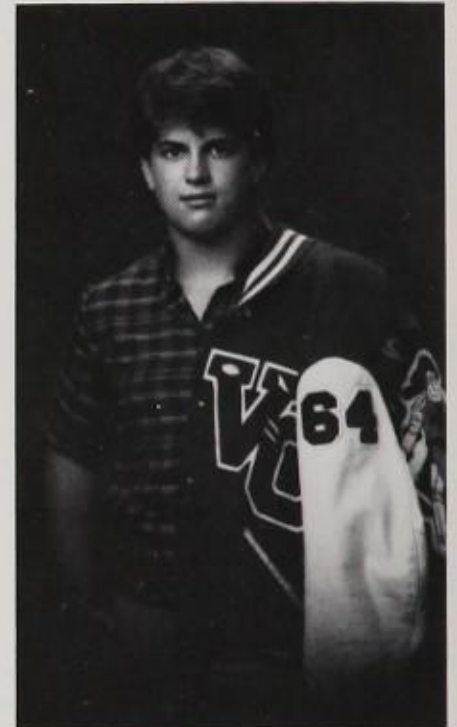

If there could be only one thing in life for us to teach you,
We would teach you LOVE.....

- To respect others so that you may find respect in yourself,
- To learn the value of giving, so that if ever there comes a time in your life that someone really needs, you will give
- To act in a manner that you wish to be treated, to be proud of yourself
- To laugh and smile as much as you can, in order to help bring joy back into this world
- To have faith in others, to be understanding
- To stand tall in this world and learn to depend on yourself
- To only take from this earth those things which you really need, so there will be enough for others
- To not depend on money or material things for your happiness, but
- To learn to appreciate people who love you, the simple beauty that God gave you and to find peace and security within yourself.

To you Craig, we hope we have taught all of these things,

FOR THEY ARE LOVE.....

*Congratulations,
Mom & Dad*

Congratulations Kim!

Dear Tim,

As God gave Stephanie Vernon this special Bible verse for you in July, 1979, it is also our special verse for you:

"Keep a close watch on all you do and think. Stay true to what is right and God will bless you and use you to help others." 1 Timothy 4:16

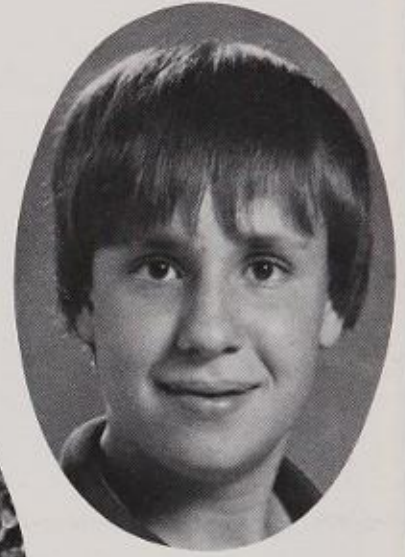

It has been a joy to see you grow spiritually through the years, and to see your desire to serve Him in so many different ways. May He always be first in everything in your life.

We thank God for you, and pray His very best for your life.

We love you.

Booker T. Washington

Dear Damon,

It seems like only yesterday that we were blessed with you, our third child and first son. Now here you are graduating from high school, Where did the time go?

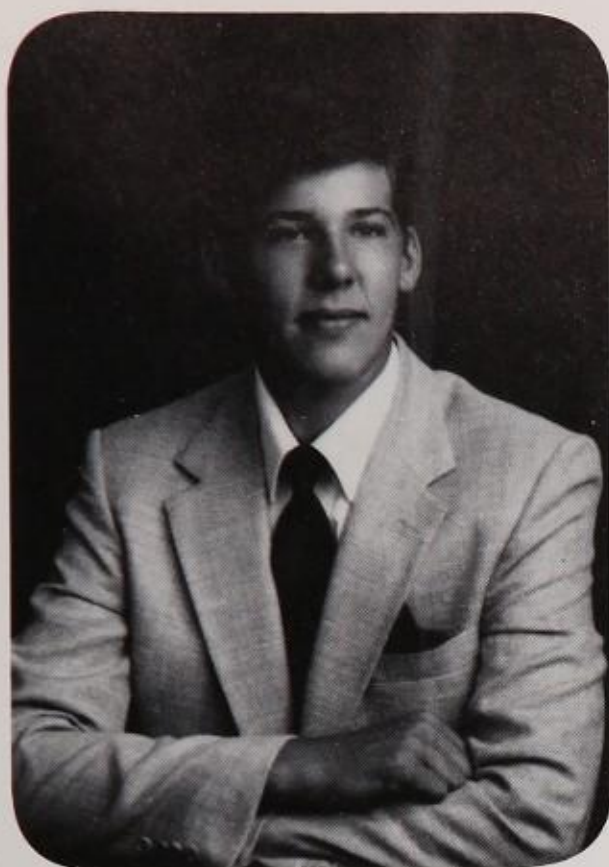

Right from the start it was clear to us that you were a special child. This was made even more evident when God spared your life at 7 months old and used that near tragedy to lead your Dad to accept Christ as his savior. We thank God for those hard times and most of all for your life.

We really feel that you have been especially blessed in so many ways. Our prayer for you is that you will always put God first in your life, trusting in Him for the answers to all of life's questions.

As you now leave Village and go on to further your education remember this verse from Psalm 31:3, "For thou art my rock and my fortress; therefore for thy name's sake lead me and guide me."

We love you son and are very proud of you.

THE WORTH OF A GIRL

How do you measure a little girl's worth,
When all her charm on you is unfurled?
You either see her through the eyes of God
Or through the eyes of the world.

The world shouts, "She must have her freedom,
Liberation - her true destiny."
But God says, "Child, when you seek my truth,
Then you'll know what it is to be free." 1

The world cries, "Don't thwart her psyche,
Let decisions be hers from the start."
God says, "Train her, which way she should go
And from Me she'll never depart." 2

The world would like always for her to think
Of success as her foremost goal,
But God says, "Love me and each other,
With all your body, mind and soul." 3

The world teaches, "Do just what you want Regardless of who gave you birth."
But God says, "Honor your Mom and Dad
That your life may be long on this earth." 4

A girl is truly a gift of God's grace
To be all that He's called her to be.
We must lead and guide this life in the now
For she's part of eternity.

Charming manners can be so deceptive
And outward beauty is all so vain,
But a woman with fear and reverence for God
His blessings with her will remain. 5

A divine blueprint is stamped upon her,
Teach her to read it - carefully,
For a little girl is what God will use
To make a virtuous lady! 6

Dear 1985-86 Yearbook Staff.

I want to thank each of you for all your hard work this year. Each of you had a part in putting together a great yearbook.

Mark and Andy your dedication as editors shows in the quality of your yearbook - thanks for all the extra hours you each put in.

I wish all the best to the staff members who are continuing on next year. I'll miss you guys!

Mrs. A

Andy, Mark, Jill, Kenny and Kathleen you will be missed next year! All the best to you in whatever you do after graduation.

Jennifer you will make a great editor - I look forward to seeing the terrific yearbook you will produce. (my vote is the preppie look!)

Yo Babe.

How's it going? I'm doing pretty good. I think you are too. I remember when you and I came into math every day practicing our try-out chants (remember).

I knew you'd make it to cheerleading, and I'm glad you did. I can't wait till next year!! This being my first year and everything. I was a little nervous. But I seem to know a lot of people now (and you're one of them) & I'm glad, because I love you a lot and we always have fun, whatever we do.

We'll enjoy the summer and keep it cool. By the way, you keep chasing those guys

Love Ya Forever

Devin

Eden,
Well I managed to live ~~you~~ with your obnoxious self for another year &
I'm glad you and I are such good friends
I hope we stay that way. I hope we have classes with each other next year. Have a good summer.

Love you both
Mama

Hey Babes,
So, how's it going?
Everybody keeps asking me how I can sign yearbooks
so neat so I'm writing & you
I hope you can read and I wish you could get together w/ Vince & I You're a sweet Q and I'm (H2) in a visit me or I'll ride by!

Hey Imp!

It's been a great year! We had our good & fun times & we've had our bad & disappointing times. But all in all it's been great. You were such a great friend! I love ya sooo much. You're the best! Even though you have Christy as your best friend, we are still friends. Well gotta go! Have a great summer! See ya next year!

Love,
Sheri Deering

Dear *Farknette-

Niyaz chick! Well our year has started! (XX!)
I'm really glad we are good friends! But I'm really sorry that we got in little fights because of Eden! But I'm glad that him went out because it got you + I to become better friends! I hope you + Elvis hit it off! I think you will! But if you don't, don't waste your time!

I ♥ you!

Mark

Janchette-
You've been fun
to have in choir
this year. You're a talented girl and I hope you continue developing your talent for the Lord. Come and visit me once
in awhile."
Love,
Miss Mink

~~Adam,~~

Tanchette,
Hope you
Have a great summer.

To Tanchette,
It's been great getting to know you this year. I'm really looking forward to working with you next year - spiritual leaders will be great!
Have a super summer &
God bless! (Jeremiah 29:11-B)
In this love,
Miss Joke

Tanchette,

Hope ya fun
this summer.

We've gotten a little bit closer friends. the only time I had ever talked to you in past years is at church. So for now and ever we should always talk to each ^{over} other.

Tanchette
Hi! Have a good summer. Thanks for being a good friend. Hope next year is very good for you.

Call sometime

Even,
School is almost out. We only have 3 years left! You have been a great friend all these years. I will really miss you when ~~we~~ I move away.
Maybe I will see you for a month or so. Well have a good summer and good luck in years to come.
Keep Smiling!!

DEAR Fanchette,

It's been fun
in social studios together and im glad that you are now a spirit leader
I hope you get a nice tan (not that you need it)
and have a fun summer

Fanchette,

It's been fun
to know you & getting this year & having you in & so me classes! It was fun! Maybe we can get together
during the summer!
I'll see you!
P.S. I'll see you!

Hey Sam

Chette -

how's it goin'? I'm so glad schools almost out !! aren't you?

Dear Fanchette,
I'm glad I got to know you better this year. You've made it real P really fun this year
hope to see you next year

Fanchette.
Hey Bud,
Can you believe, practically over this year? We Became Best Friends. I really doesn't seem like we are because we don't even have best friends charm. Are you Lisa Best Friends too? Well, anyway, I'm so glad that this school year is over. I can't wait until my birthday party
Do I hope to see you this summer? I can't wait even to see you this summer. I hope let you think your parents will let you work out sometime you can
